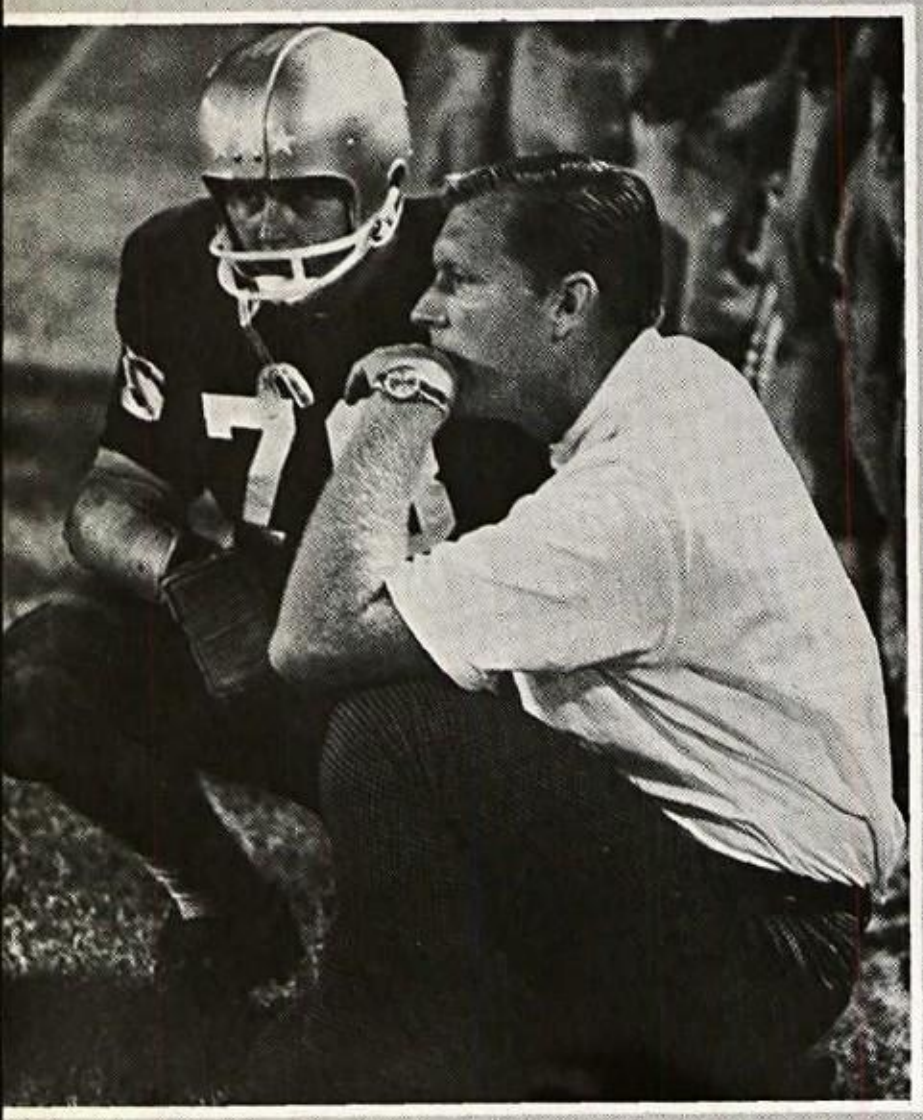
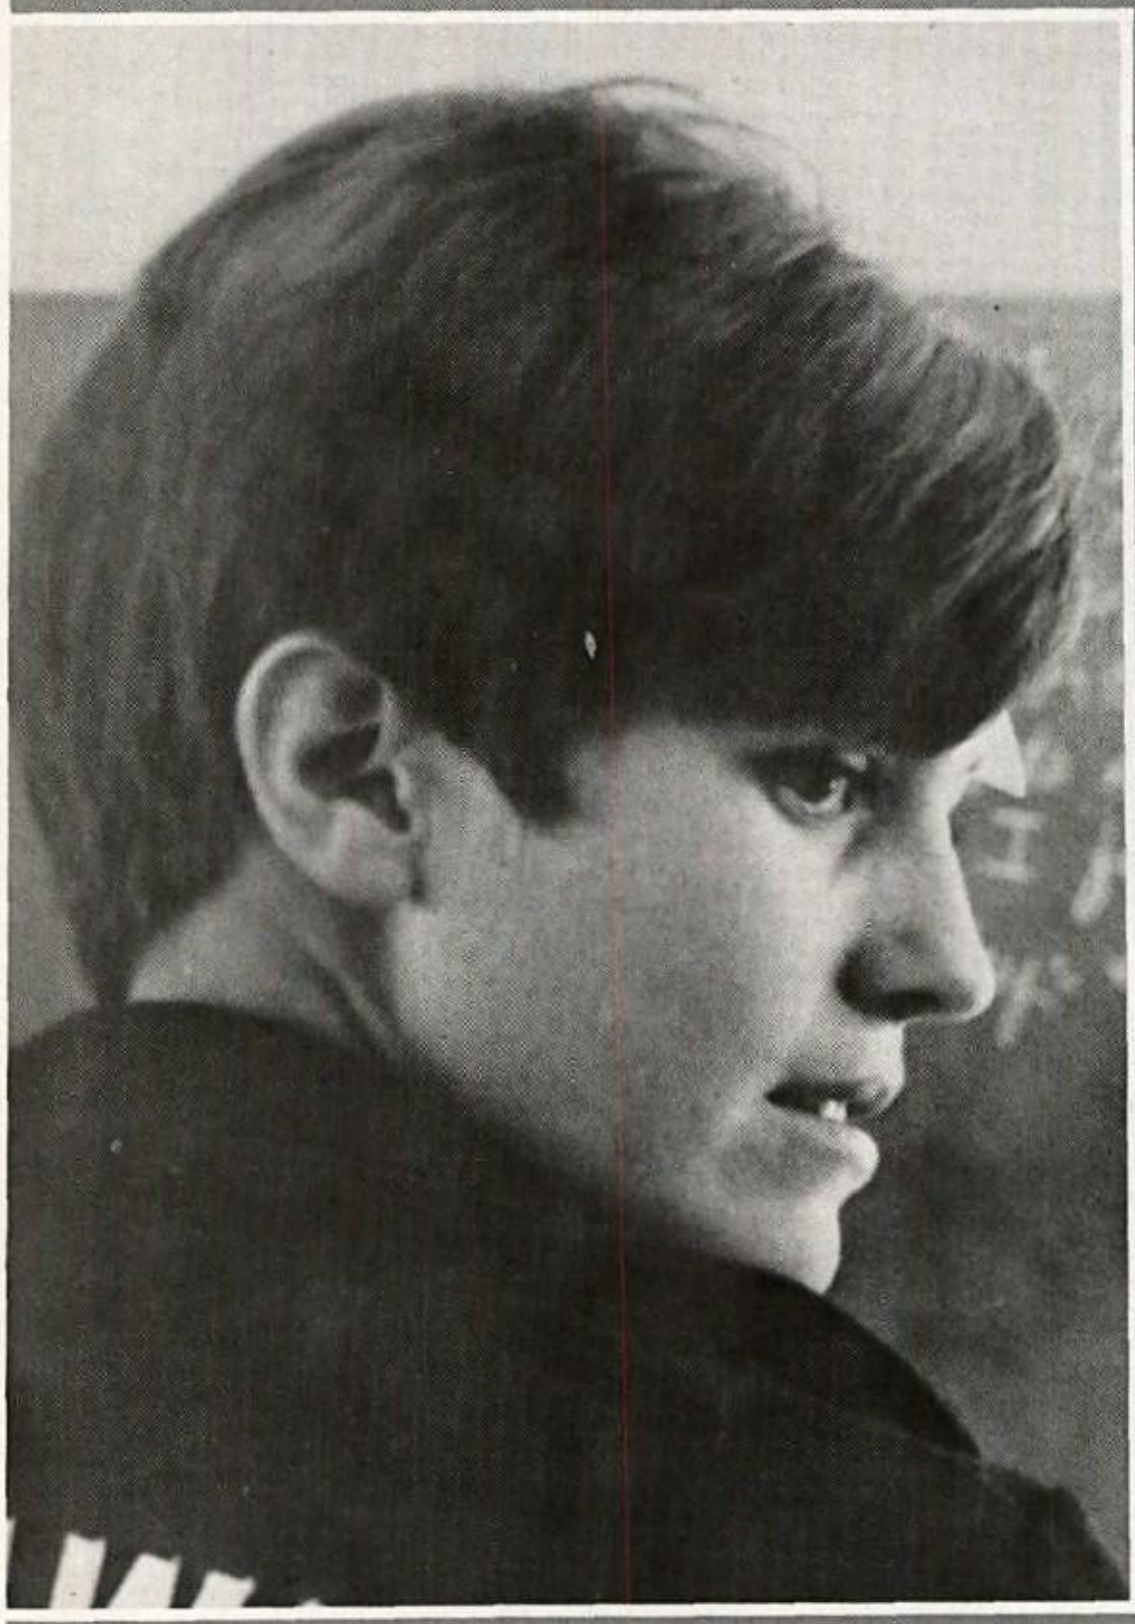
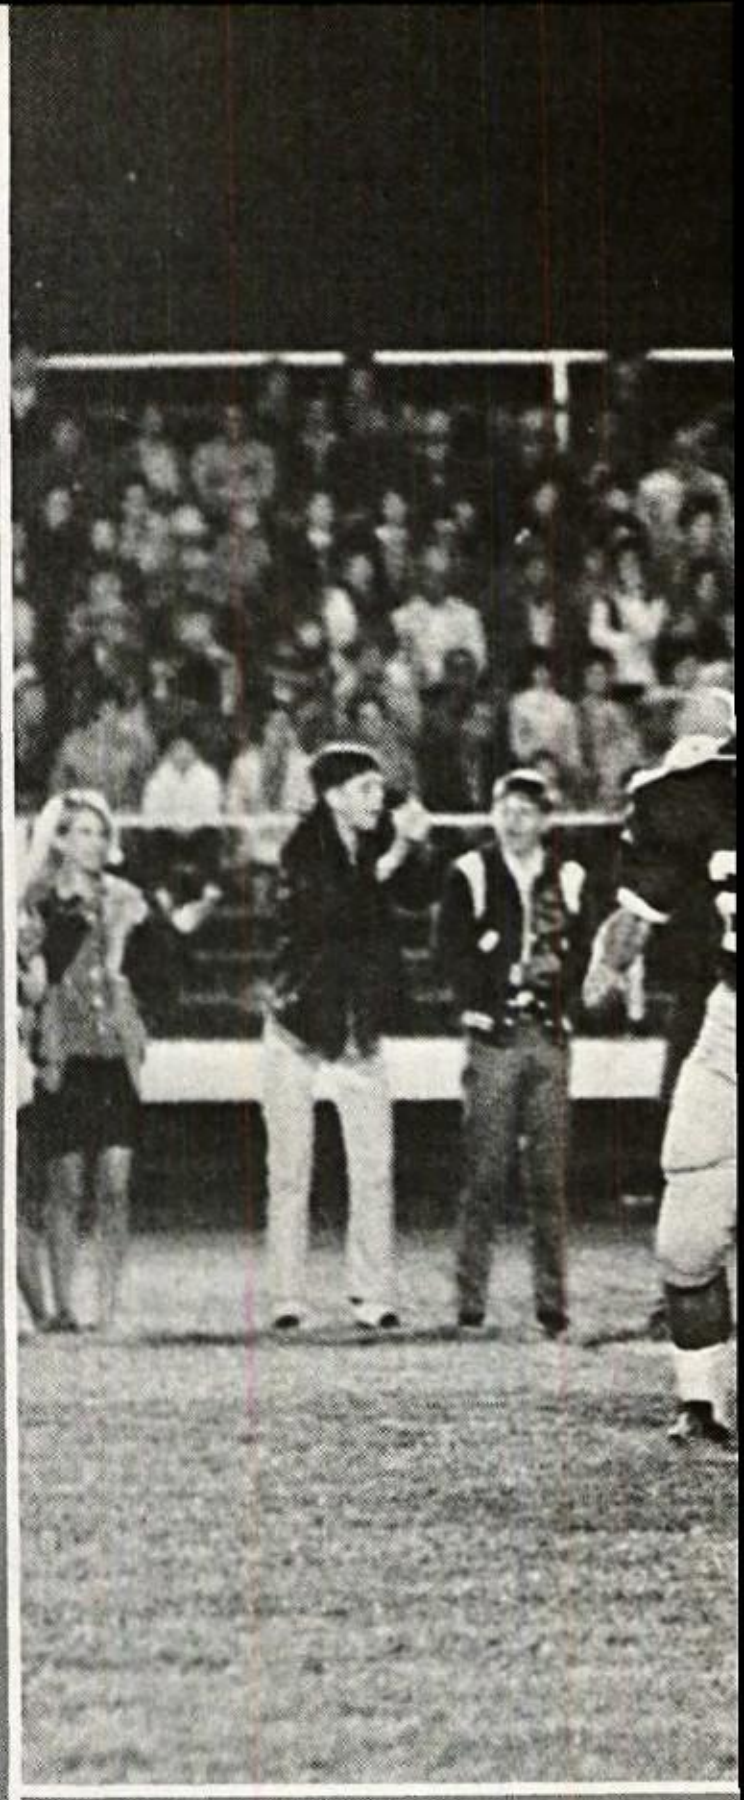
How Sweet It Is . . .



HOW SWEET IT IS . . .

To be a person living life to its fullest.
To be an individual but also one of many.
To taste of joy and realize its goodness,
But to endure those things which cannot be changed.
And to face challenge and obstacles which seem immovable.
To glance at the yesterdays and smile with serenity,
But to imagine the tomorrows and anticipate with confidence.
To be a person—truly alive.





Transmitting Indi-

In the silence of solitude and in the commotion of togetherness we seek individualism. We are vital parts of a great machine; yet we function independently. Alone, we are content, but, as a group, we are explosive in spirit—intoxicated with the sweetness of youth. Each of us generates the pulse of action and energy.

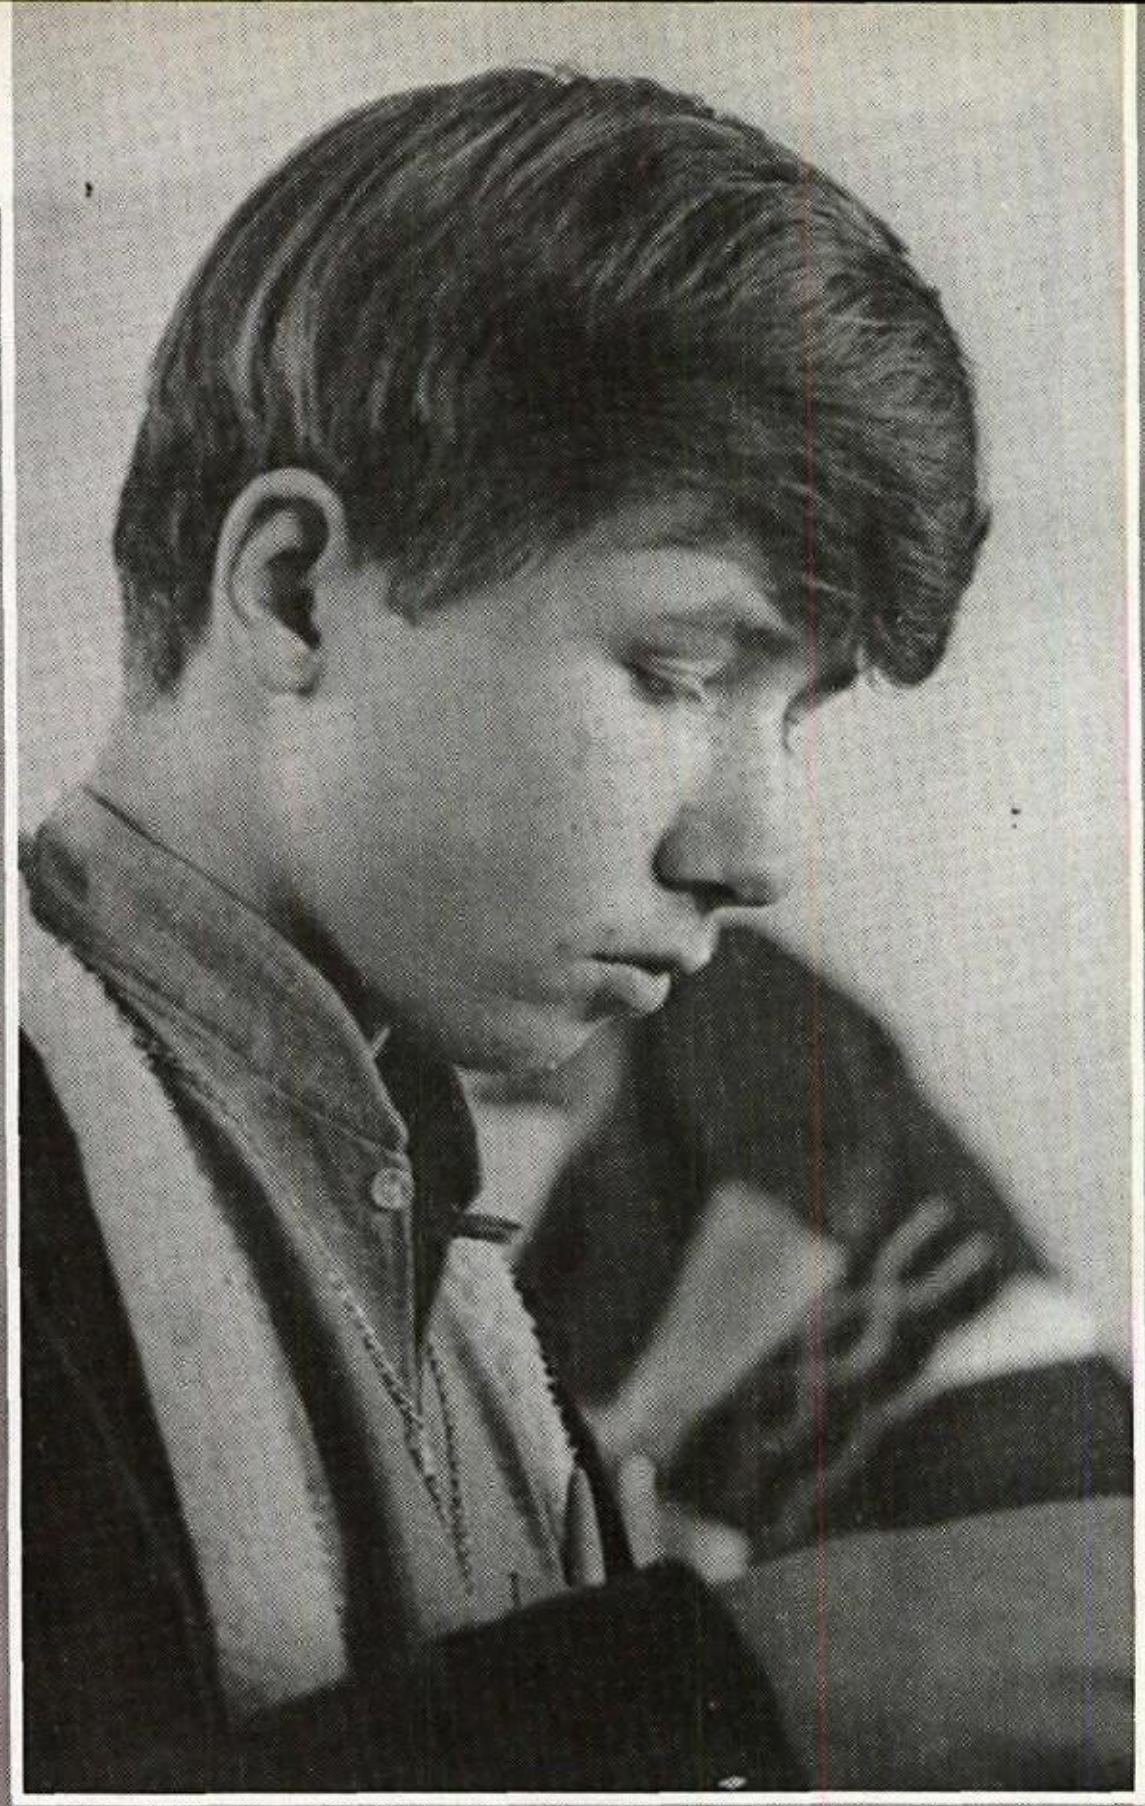
Reaching Out to Others

There are times of serious contemplation. Our desire to understand and reach each other, as well as ourselves, is so great that it is almost tangible. We travel corridors sometimes securely, sometimes unknowingly, only stopping at places that quench our curiosity.

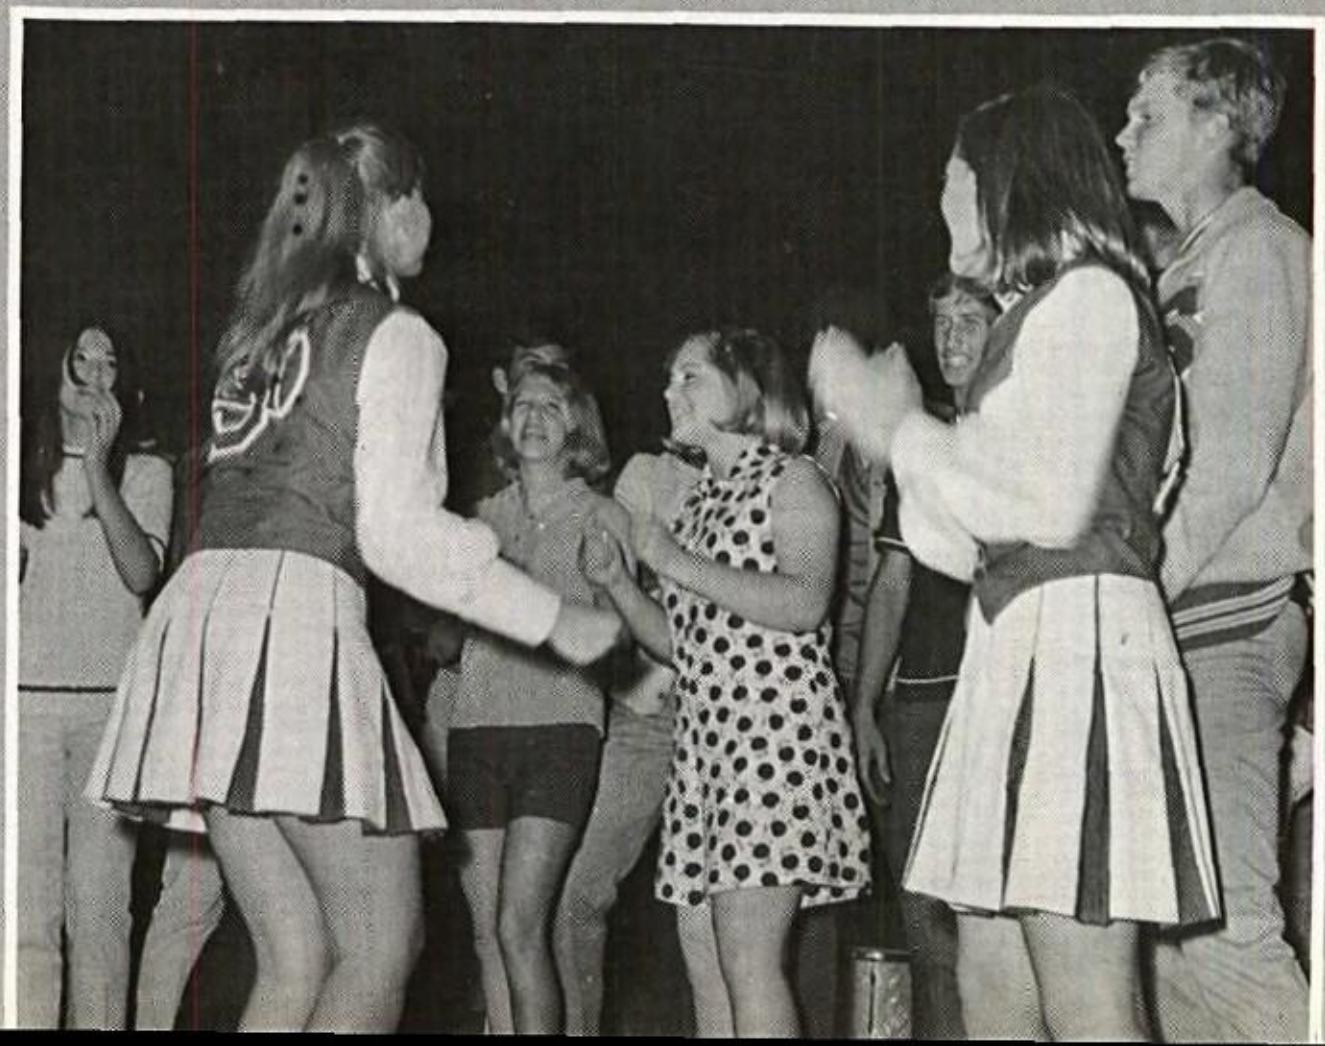
Shouting Our



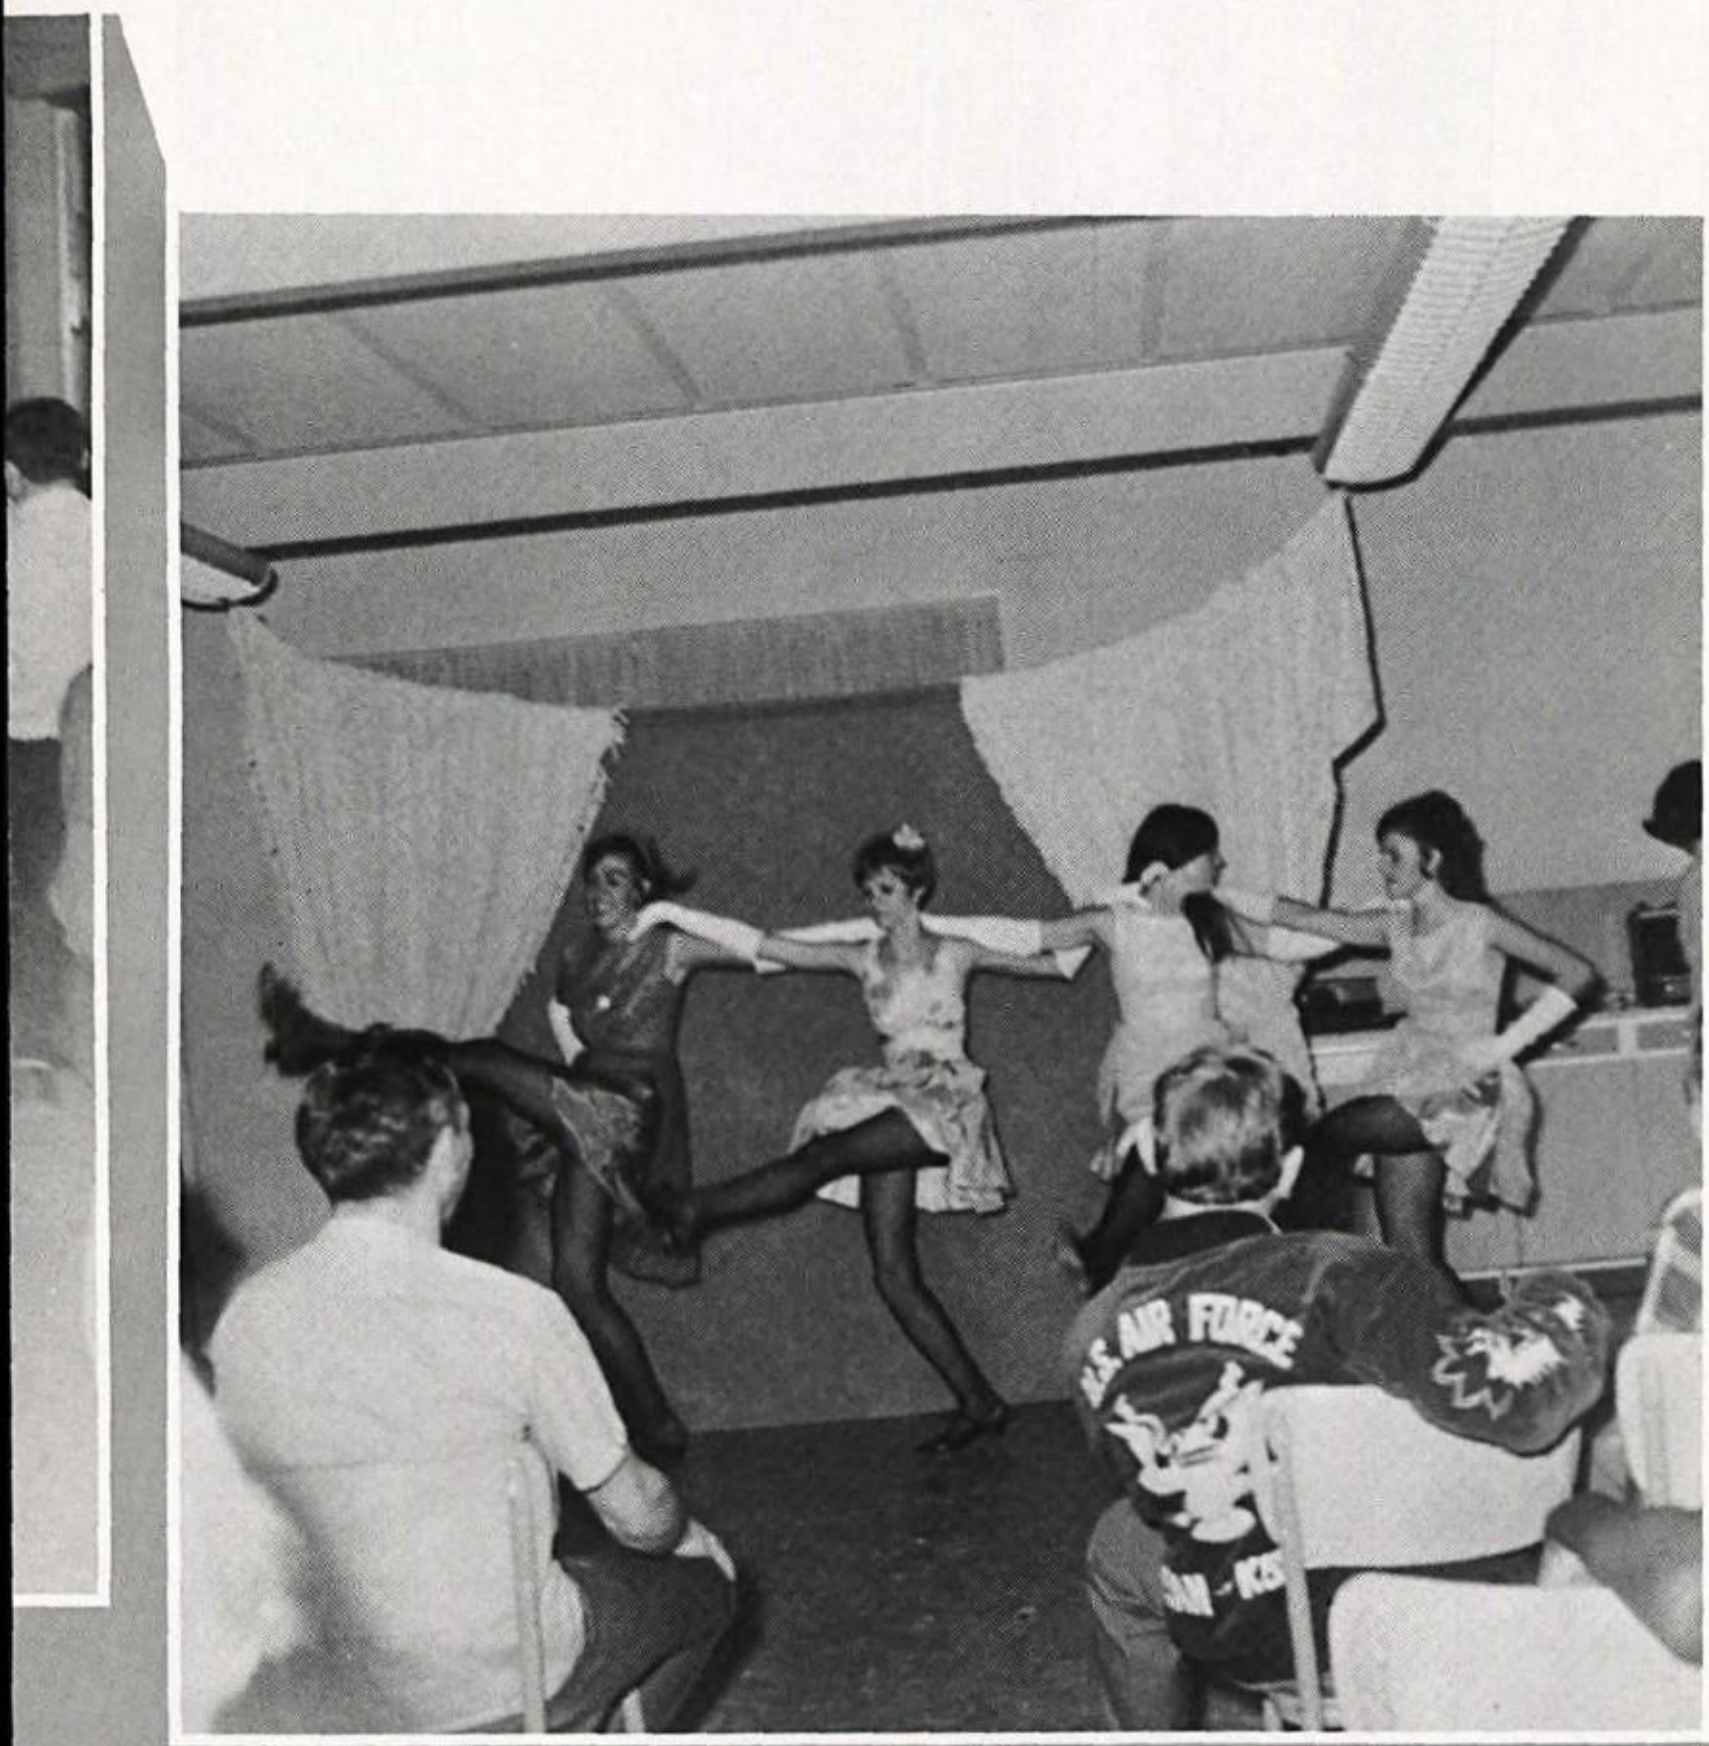
Joys, Whispering Our Sorrows

Whether we shout our joy and excitement or whisper our sorrows, we still attempt to communicate. Even our humorous words and actions send a message. We simply verbalize our feelings and emotions. Words spoken impressively, without feeling, do not reach us.

Radiating Energy



and Drive



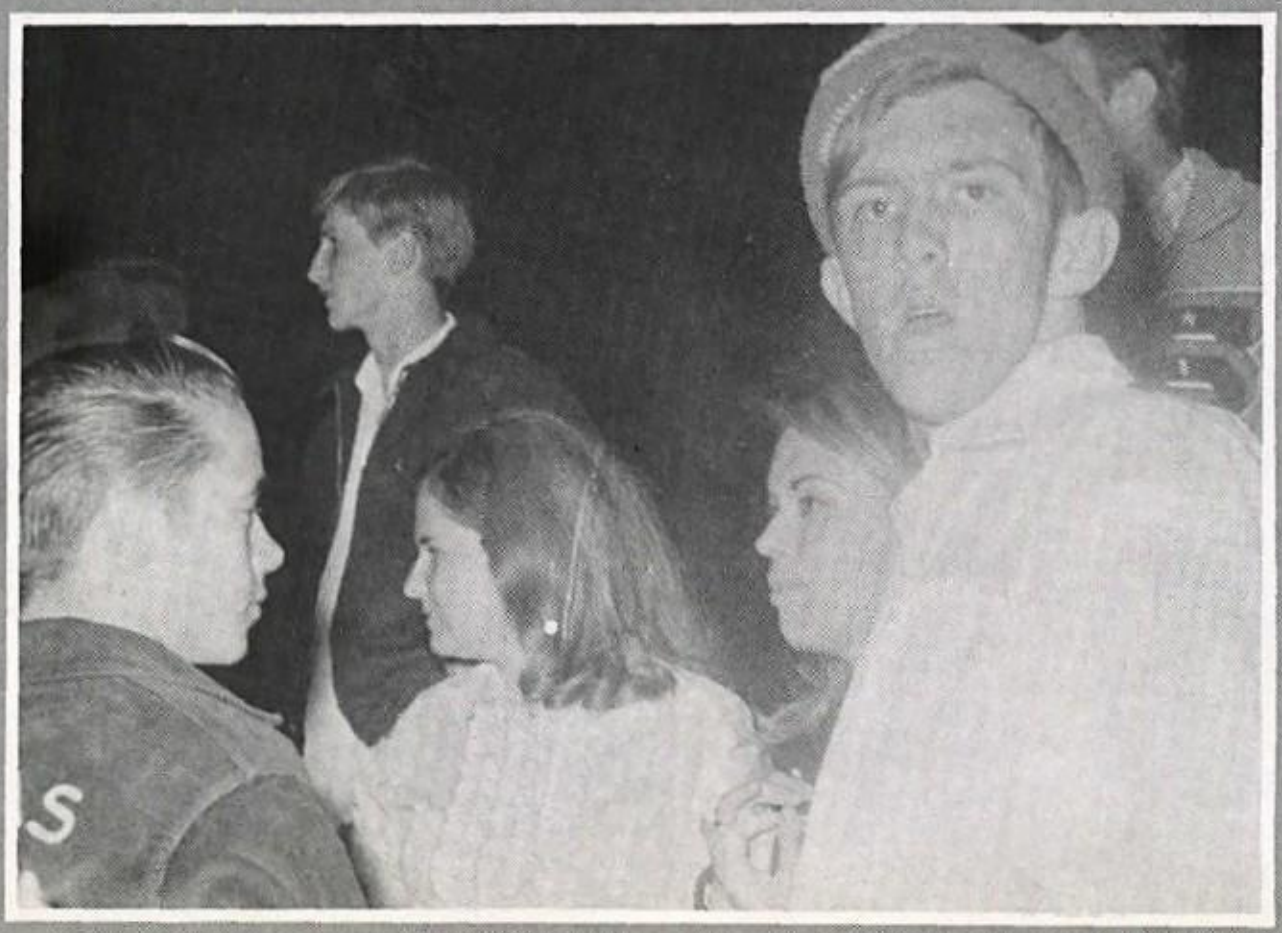
Action—continuous movement spices our lives. Sights and sounds affect our minds and bodies. We dance, sing, and clap in a frenzy identified only with youth.

Success burns our minds with great satisfaction. Failure douses the flames, only to create a tremendous need for achievement. We strive and struggle not so much to impress others, but to regard ourselves with respect.

Striving for Self-Respect

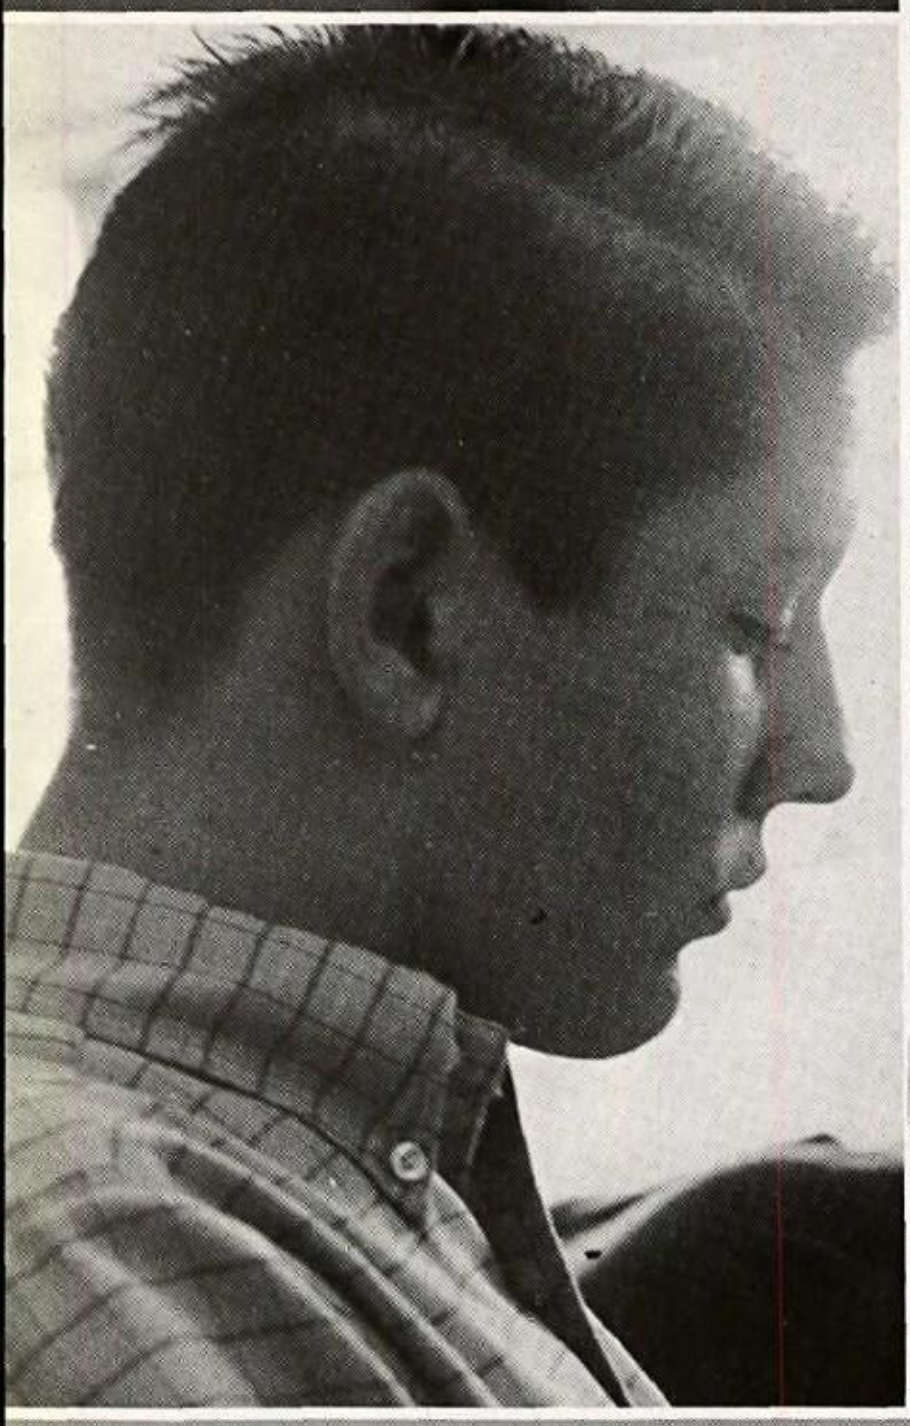
Facing the Impossible

We regard the perplexing problems that more than touch our lives, and we say, "It's impossible!" Yet, we face the challenge with quiet dignity and combat our problems with fervor, because the gravity of our goal is great . . .



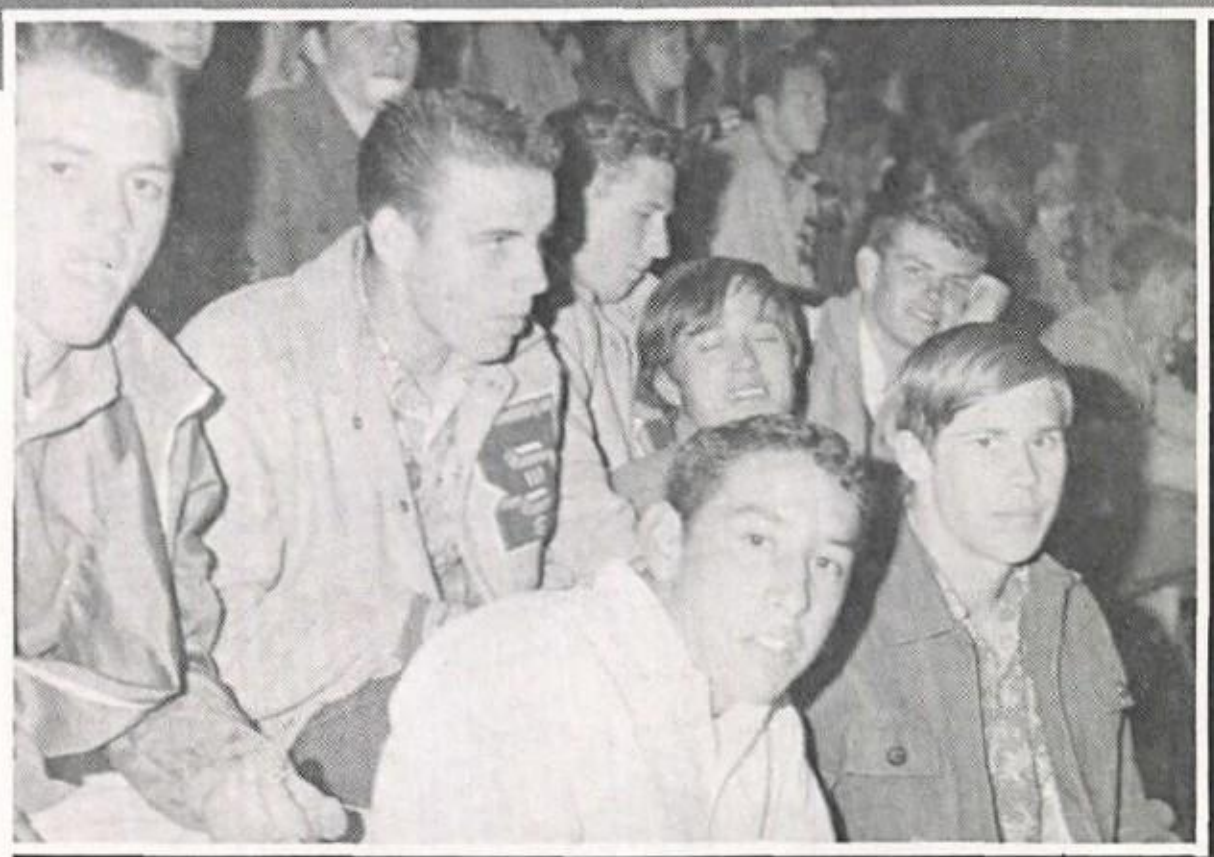
Living the Present

We try to live today to its fullest. The positions we hold, the honors we receive—all shape our lives in the years to come. The time is NOW. We must live it well, making use of the minute parts of our past experience.



Anticipating

We foresee the future with anxiety. We wonder if tomorrow will be like today or even yesterday. As we walk toward the future, we smile, for we are people truly alive!



the Future

SEA Installs New Officers

The Southwest Educators' Association, a local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association, has been extremely active during its seventh year. Under the capable guidance of President Mrs. Carol McDonald, they have made progress in enlarging the membership, increasing interest in training courses, convention attendance, and participation in county association progress.

The highlight of the year was the election of Mr. Kenneth Lyssy, high school principal, to the presidency of the District 20 Teachers Association. Mrs. McDonald was also elected secretary of the District. In a banquet held to honor these people, Mr. Norris, Assistant Superintendent, installed the new officers.

Administration

SUPERINTENDENT—MR. STANLEY F. CERNOSEK

Serving his final, yet power-packed year, as Superintendent of the Southwest Independent School District, it is, indeed, imperative that Mr. Cernosek be credited for the intense growth and innovation of the school system as it is today. Such improvement and effective management are attributed to his vast experience in the educational field as teacher, principal and superintendent.

Mr. Cernosek entered the teaching profession in 1928. He served as Superintendent at Moulton, Texas in 1938. Prior to his arrival in the Southwest District, in 1963, Mr. Cernosek headed Mercedes High School as Superintendent. Due to his techniques in the administrative realm, funds from two bond issues and several grants made possible the construction of thirteen classrooms, a library and administrative offices in Southwest Elementary I. Eleven classrooms, a library, cafetorium, and administrative offices were established in Elementary II.

On the high school campus, expansion was most evident. A football stadium was erected on the west side of the campus. Four class buildings, including urgently needed science and commercial facilities, sprung up. Also, a recent addition has been the FFA greenhouse for horticultural instruction. Establishment of a new junior high school, consisting of twenty-three classrooms, a library, cafeteria, gymnasium, and administrative offices, was the result of thorough planning and diligent work of both the Board of Trustees and Mr. Cernosek.

Not only has the district undergone material improvement, but it has reached a higher standard of education. Measures have been taken to develop a curriculum guide for the instruction of students from the first through the twelfth grades; this will allow a continuity of the learning process in each field of instruction.

Mr. Cernosek has helped improve the school structure whose student population has grown from 1,150 students in 1963 to 2,744 in 1969. His personable approach, accompanied by a unique friendliness, has made him a well-liked administrator, honored by students and school personnel for six years of valuable service for Southwest District.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT and DIRECTOR OF PERSONNEL

Serving Southwest Independent School District for the third consecutive year, Mr. Clayborn C. Norris has effectively applied his experience and workable knowledge for the betterment of students and faculty alike.

He has rendered contributions and services beyond his official capacity. Working in close relationship with personnel of the school district and meeting the various needs which arise in curriculum and educational programs, Mr. Norris has illustrated his dependability, efficiency and ability to succeed.

Tact and patience have won Mr. Norris the respect of the student body and fellow administrators.

Having received his formal education from Texas A. & I. University, he has combined knowledge with experience, making him a noteworthy administrator.

MR. CLAYBORN C. NORRIS

Board of Trustees

Seated in the Administration Board room are the following members, L to R: Mr. A. V. Thurman, Mr. S. F. Cernosek, Superintendent, Mr. J. W. Watts, Jr., R. C. Aldridge, Jr., President of the Board, Mr. Floyd Jackel, Mr. Henry Krueger, Jr., Mr. Edwin W. Ripps, and Mr. Nick Constanzo.

Expansion and progress definitely set the tone for the 1968-1969 school year. Acting as the impetus, the Board of Trustees has exemplified unyielding dedication to the responsibilities of maintaining a modern school system.

The construction and establishment of a new Junior High School gives evidence to the rapid growth and modernization of Southwest Independent School District.

Each member is elected by the citizens of this area. They assume a wide scope of problems pertaining to home and school relationship, accelerated study schedules, and selection of construction projects and their locations. The Board also directs the various schools in the Southwest District concerning school policy.

Through long-range planning and concerted devotion to Southwest, the Board of Trustees has made great strides in innovations on the campus and the policies which govern the student body.

SOUTHWEST HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Mr. Kenneth Lyssy

In a year of continual change, driving improvement for Southwest High School, Kenneth Lyssy, Principal for the second consecutive year, is the vital center. Leading a capable faculty, determining important policies, and initiating disciplinary action are but a few responsibilities that he must cope with throughout the course of the year. The spectrum of experience he has obtained from serving Southwest as Teacher, Assistant Principal, and Principal assists him in meeting everyday challenges.

His thoroughness and his ability to express himself frankly have gained him the respect of both the student body and faculty.

Mr. Lyssy received his formal education at St. Mary's University, and Southwest Texas State.

VICE-PRINCIPAL—COLONEL A. D. HALL

Colonel A. D. Hall serves efficiently as Vice-Principal, government instructor, and high school administrator, as well as Dean of Boys. His influence through the years on his pupils is apparent as many of these former students repeatedly return for homecoming from their many fields of endeavor, including the armed forces, schools of higher education, and civilian jobs.

The Colonel, as his students and friends call him, brings warmth and sincerity into his job and an unusual amount of cooperation and understanding between teachers and students.

HIGH SCHOOL COUNSELOR

Mrs. Carol McDonald

As the Counselor of the high school division this year, Mrs. Carol McDonald has assumed heavy responsibility–that of guiding and advising young adults concerning their personal and academic future, as well as their everyday problems. Mrs. McDonald has accepted this challenge with fervor and has established herself as a cornerstone in the high school structure.

Serving Southwest as former Homemaking Teacher and Junior High Counselor, she has contributed much to the smooth operation of the school machine. Mrs. McDonald received her formal education at Southwest Texas State, earning her BS and Masters degrees.

Mrs. McDonald's concern for the individual is reflected by her warm personality, thus making her a well-liked administrator.

HIGH SCHOOL SECRETARY

Miss Lois Koerber

Working diligently, quietly, and efficiently, Miss Lois Koerber answers phones, finds lost students, writes letters, keeps records, and succeeds in perfecting all the tedious jobs that are so necessary for smooth operation of the high school office.

Miss Koerber is a graduate of Southwest High School's Class of '63 and a former member of both the F.T.A. and the F.H.A. She was, also, an assistant librarian at Southwest.

We are fortunate to have Miss Koerber as secretary of the high school, still working for the Dragon Team.

Secretaries' Jobs Vary

MRS. PATRICIA ARMSTRONG,
BOOKKEEPER

MRS. SARAH LEE WATTS,
COMPTROLLER OF CAFETERIAS

Constant work can be identified with the various duties of the district secretary personnel.

Efficient, accurate, hard-working are all descriptions of these secretaries who have proved themselves important parts of the school machine. They serve with skill and enthusiasm and are, indeed, welcome assets to the Southwest district as a whole.

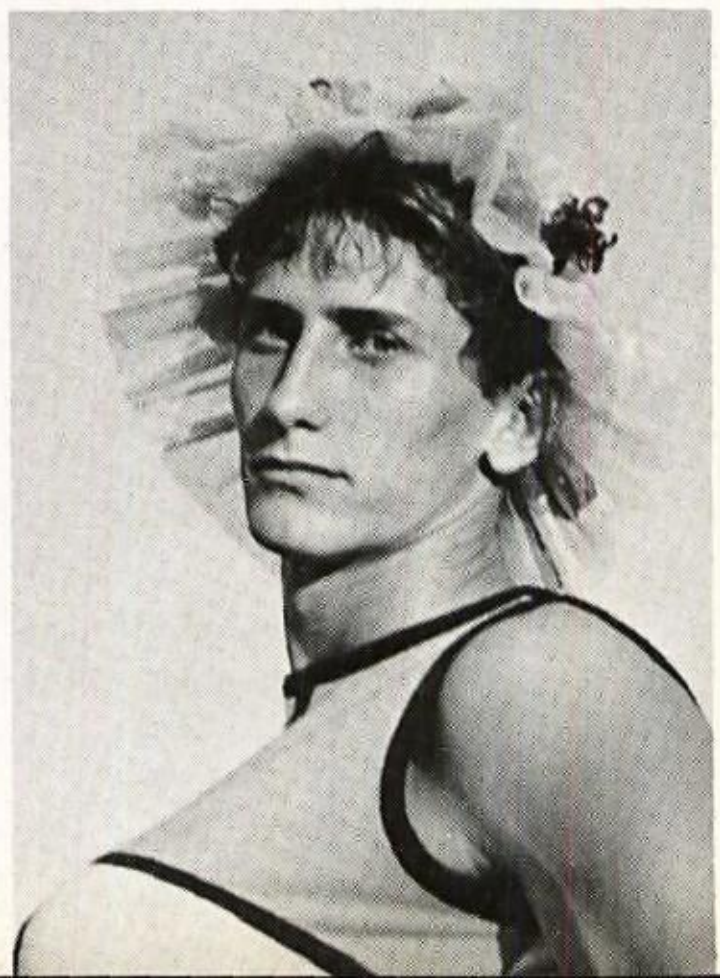
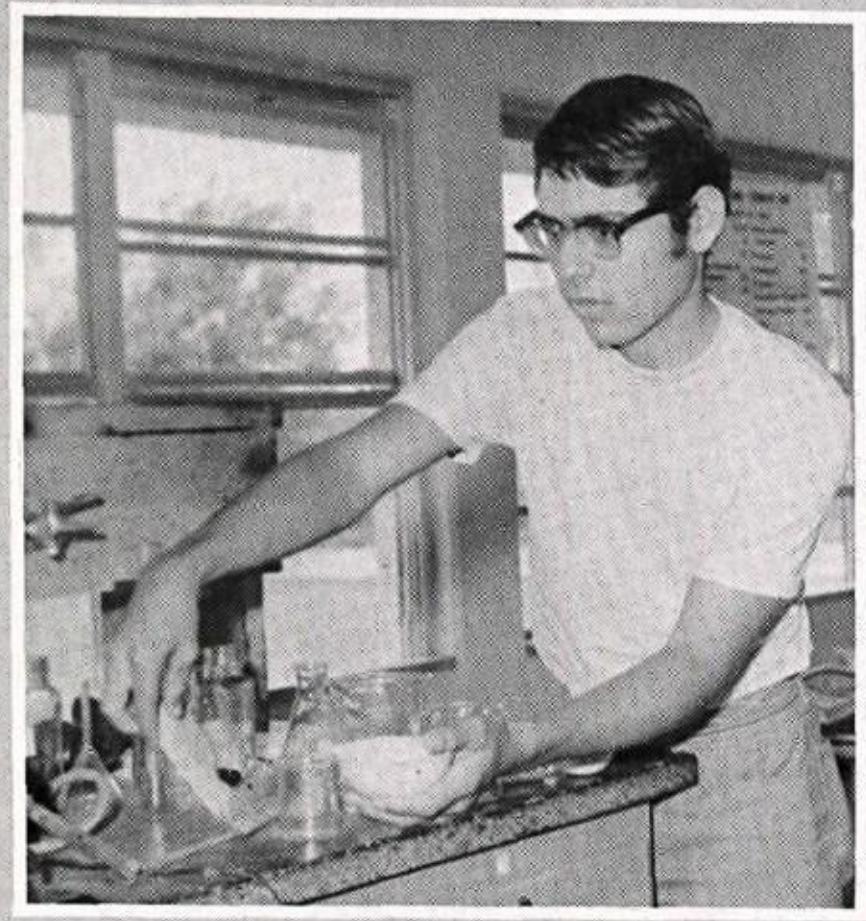
for Youth





Academics

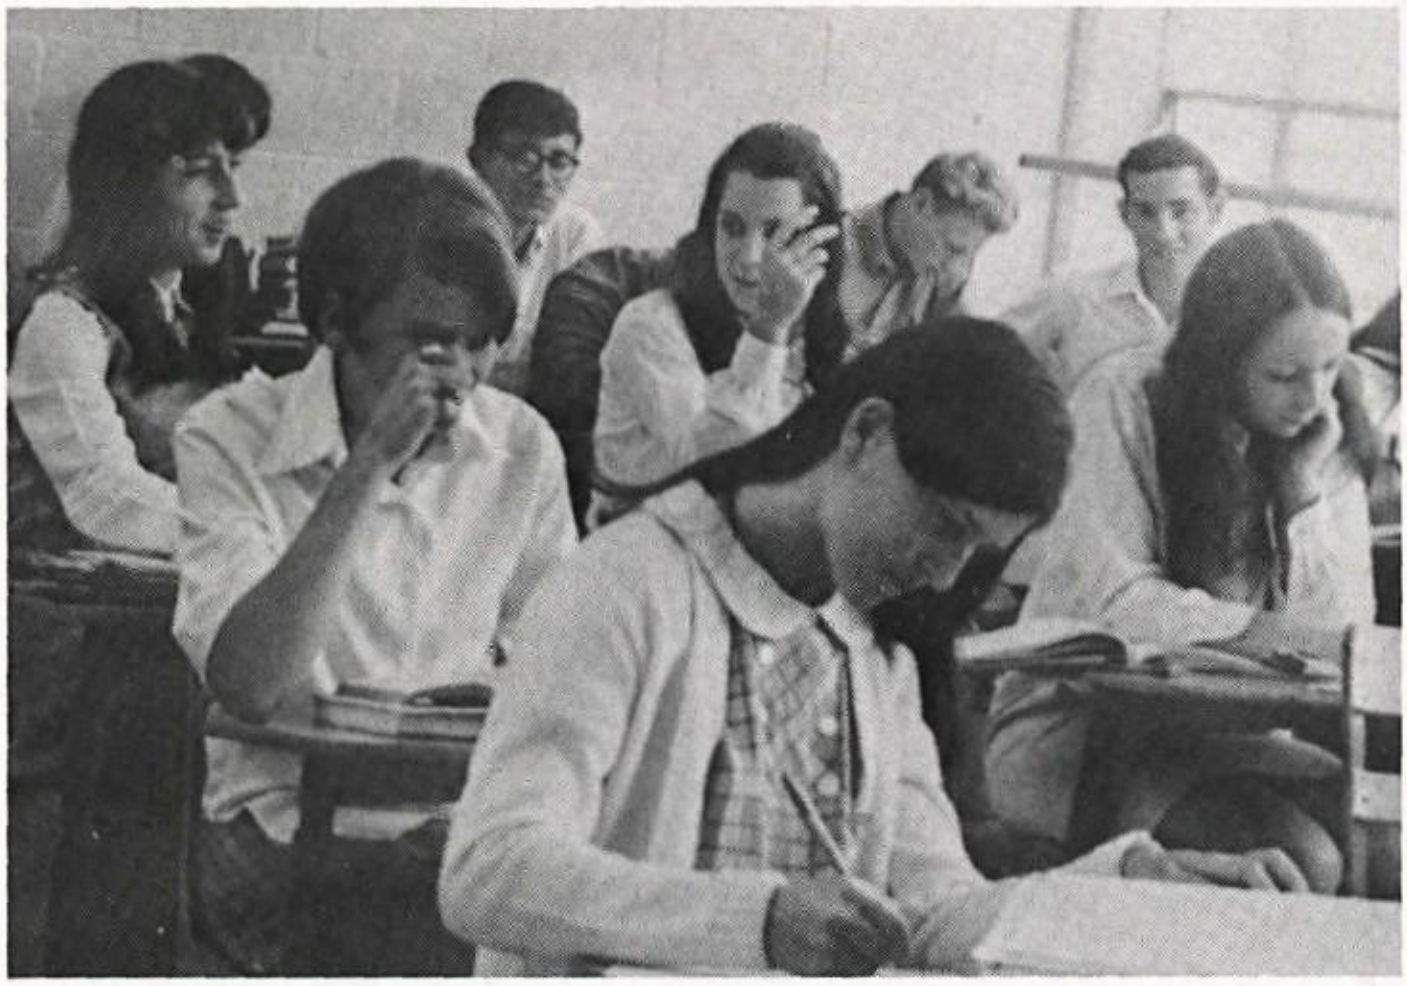
Cathy Pickhover, George Richards, Albert Krueger, and Ron Perry express their obvious disappointment at an English assignment.



Rita Clark, Nancy Lucas, Sherry Wingate, and Gail Dayoc study the different tenses in Spanish I.

Courses Challenge Students

Foreign languages, necessary for college-bound students, are offered at Southwest in two-year courses. French, German, and Spanish give students a wide variety of languages from which to choose.

Teachers utilize tapes and records to help students recognize and correct punctuation errors and to improve accents. Students not only study language fundamentals, but also customs of foreign lands.

English courses at Southwest add variety to regular school subjects of reading, writing, and arithmetic. Enactment of plays for book reports and reading fairy tales add interest to these courses.

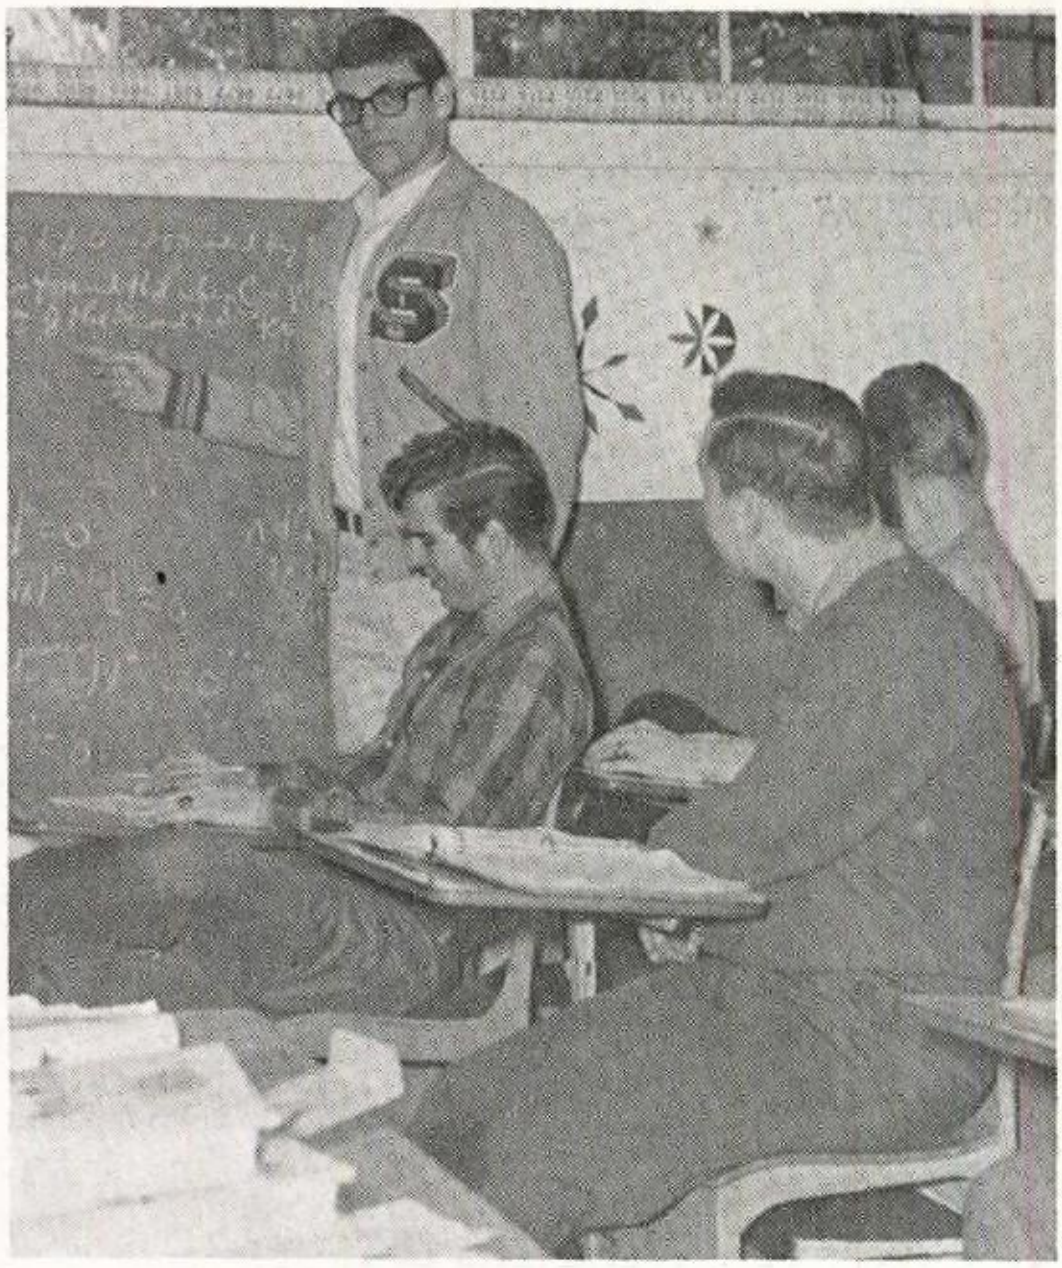
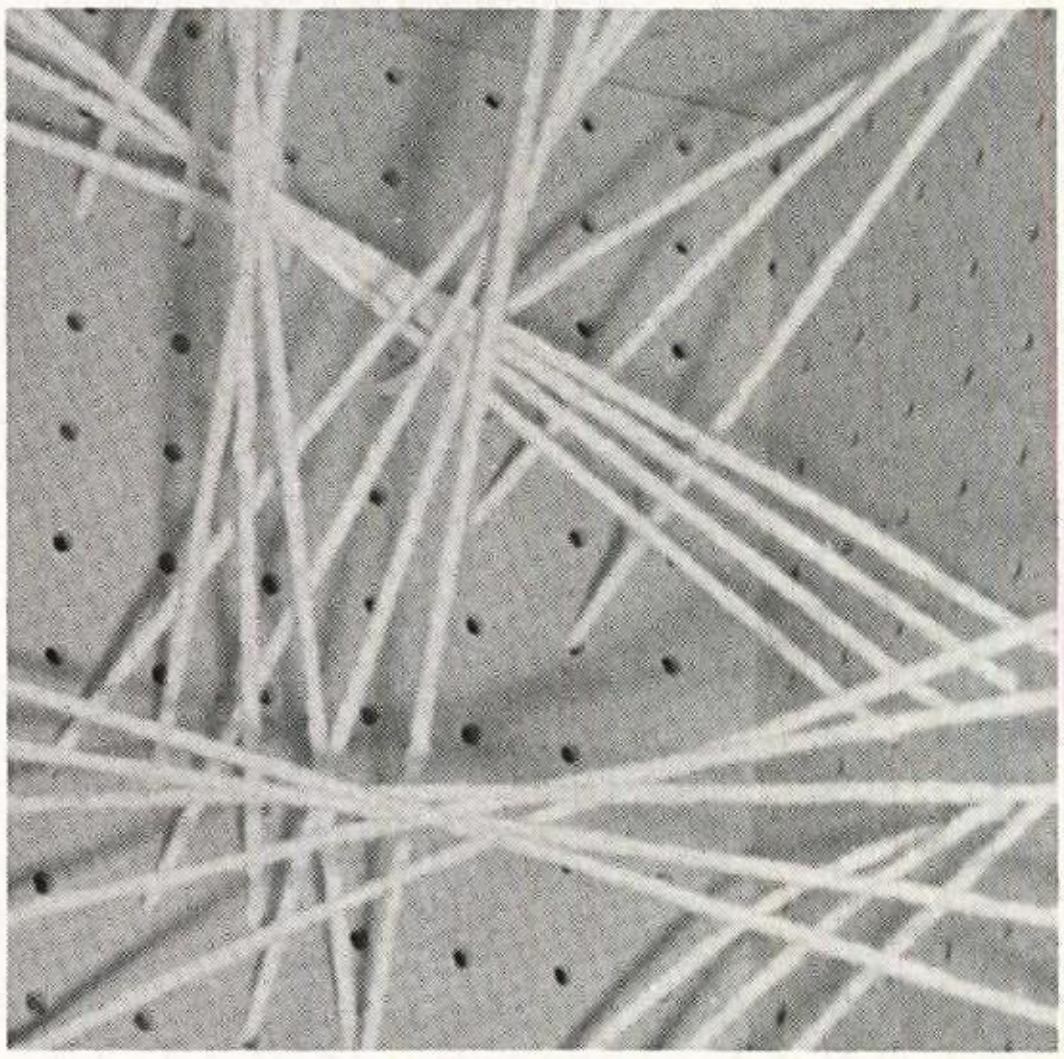
Practical Application of Math Is Vital



Billy Sellers, Donald Packham, David Boulware, and Joe Dayoc collaborate in solving a trig problem in Advanced Math class.

Mrs. Ethel A. Scott, Algebra, Geometry, and Advanced Math teacher, relaxes at a home-making reception.



What is it? Only Mrs. Scott knows!

History is a study of man and his experiences, his progress and decline throughout years past. By studying man's past, today's youth acquired respect for yesterday's experiences, as well as knowledge for today. For each student to acquire this respect was the goal of the history department here at Southwest.

In order to understand the structure of law and government from first-hand knowledge, history classes went on several field trips. Trips to County Court, a Federal Reserve Bank, and an insurance company proved interesting as well as beneficial to various history courses.

History Classes Create Interest

Experimentation–finding out for oneself was greatly emphasized in Physical Science, Biology, Advanced Biology, Chemistry, and Physics this year.

To add interest, or rejuvenation of interest, various field trips were made to institutions such as the Austin Department of Health and to Brooks School of Aerospace Medicine.

Science

Right: Patricia Vogel and Julie Hernandez study titration apparatus prior to commencing the experiment.

Also, group discussions in current scientific events, such as heart transplantations and a number of "nature walks" proved to be both stimulating and absorbing academically.

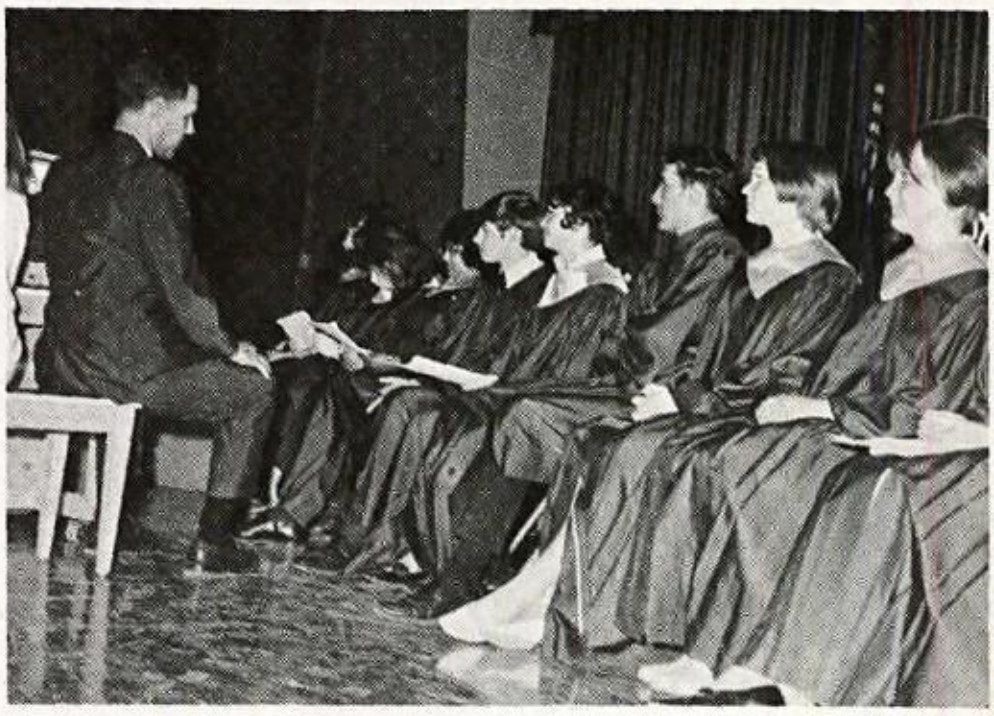
This Is the Sound of Music

The purpose of Southwest's music department has been to attempt to find hidden talent. By various marching activities, formal concerts, and informal pep rallies, the band and choir are given an opportunity to grow and enlarge their musical horizons.

Dragon Band Participates in the Fiesta Parade.



Assembly programs offer opportunity for choir members to perform for student body.

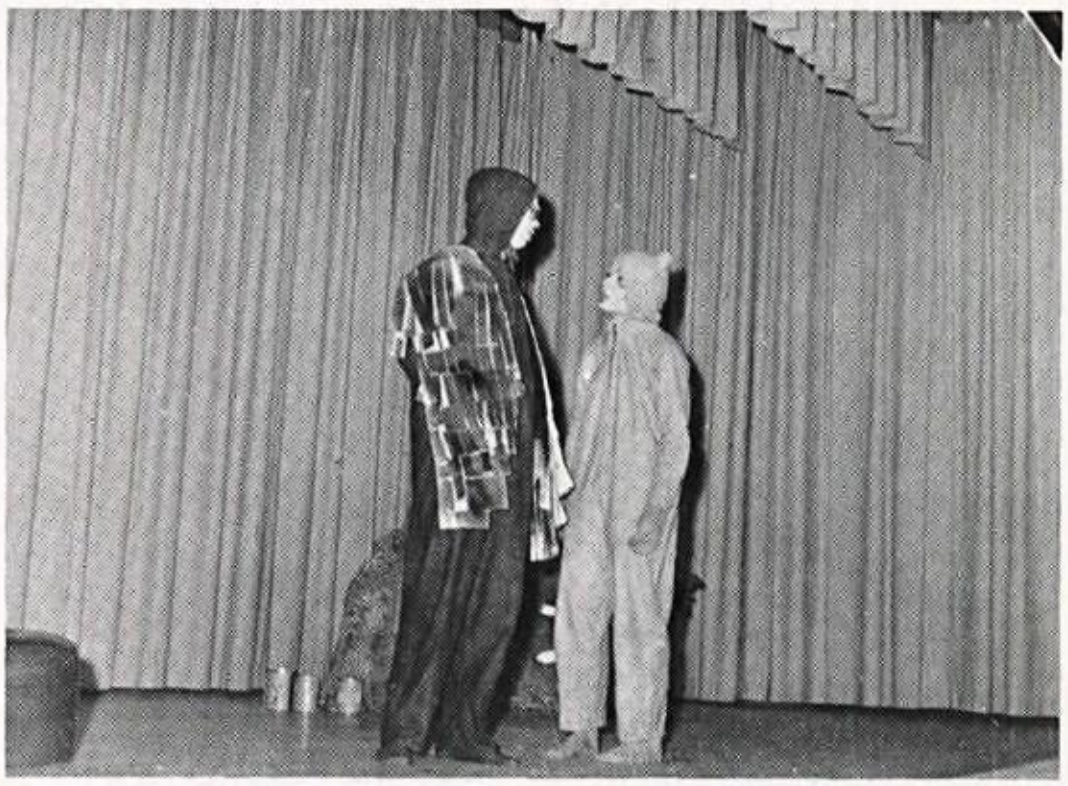
Speech and Drama Are Interrelated

Mrs. Joanne Hull, Advisor.

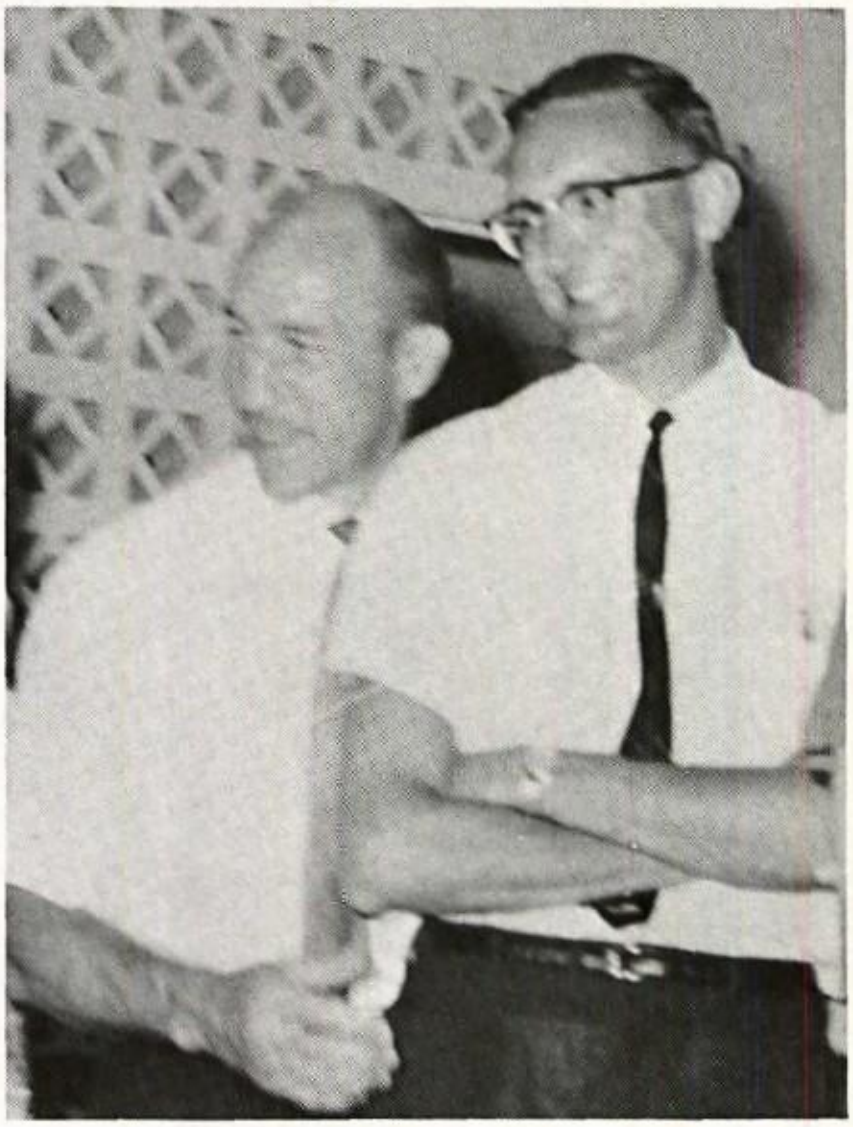
The art of public speaking is taken by those students wishing to enrich their knowledge of the daily practice of conversation. Though conversation may be filled with slang and colloquialism, the proper speech techniques are useful in the production of a play.



Speech and drama "go together" as speech students, Bill Bitner and Linda Miller illustrate in their roles in "Winnie the Pooh."

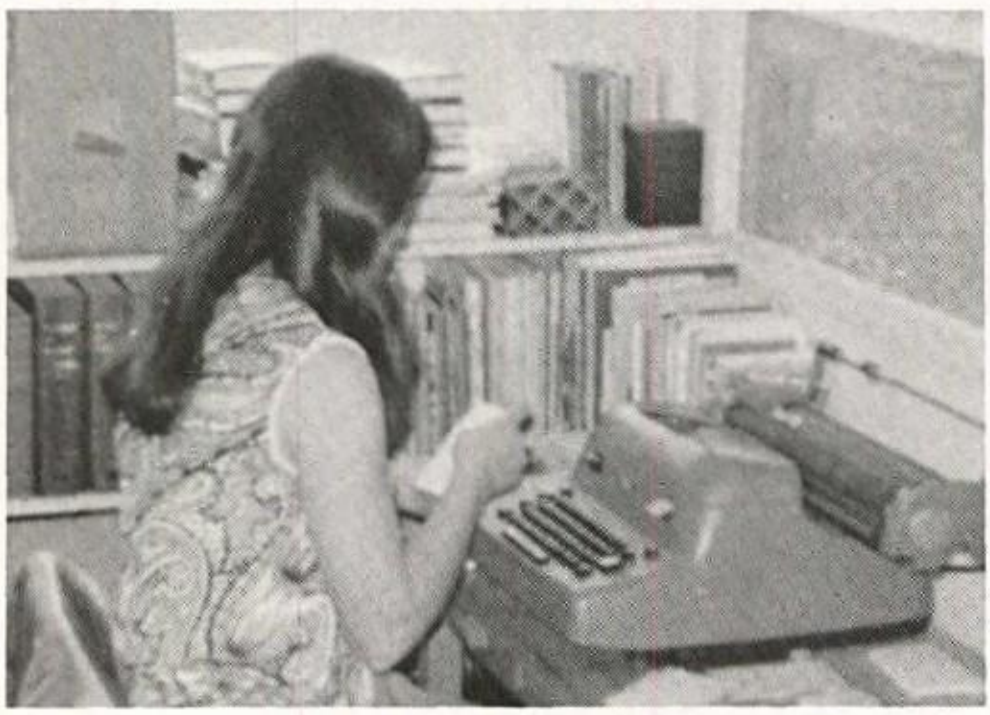
Commercial Courses Prove Useful for Future

Mrs. Mary Ann Hill, typing teacher, uses her spare time to sponsor the Future Teachers of America.



Mr. Fredrick Baker and Mr. Bryant Stone enjoy a tea sponsored by the Student Council.

Commercial courses offered at Southwest help to prepare students for careers in the business world. Shorthand, typing, and bookkeeping are made more interesting by the use of dictation equipment, electric typewriters, and other IBM devices, as well as various calculating machines.



Helen Janecek takes time out during the day to practice her typing.

Responsible and mature driving habits are the main goals of Drivers' Education. Defensive driving—"looking out for the other guy"—is stressed as vital to good driving. Mr. William H. Hubbard and Mr. James L. Burket teach their classes proper operation and ownership of vehicles. Since students sixteen years and older enroll in Drivers' Education, it is imperative that they develop a respectful comprehensive obedience to Texas State highway regulations.

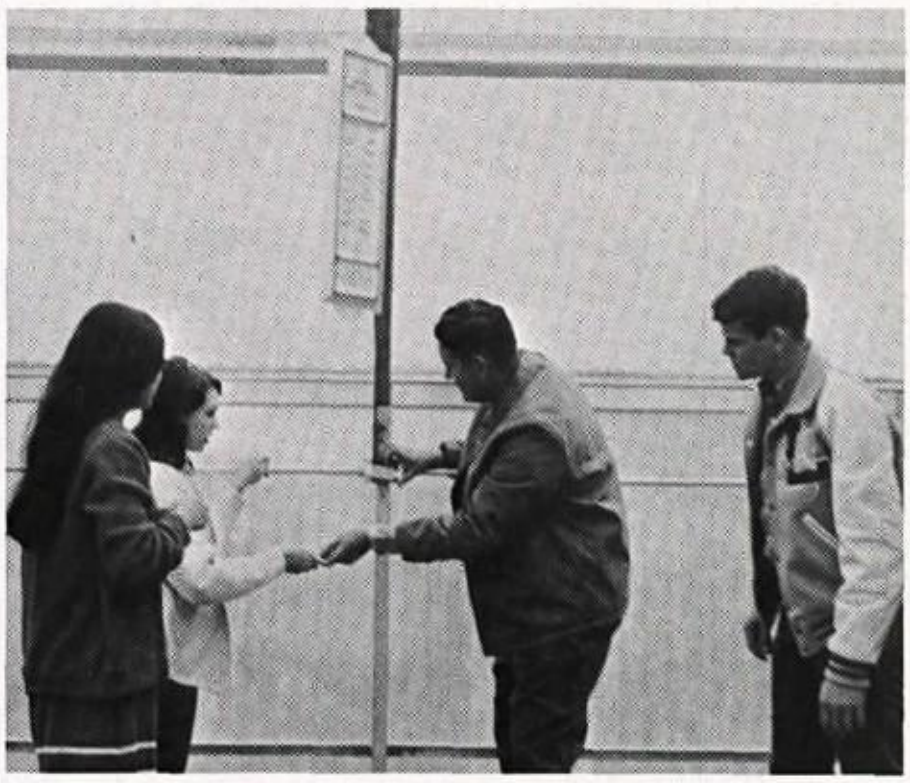
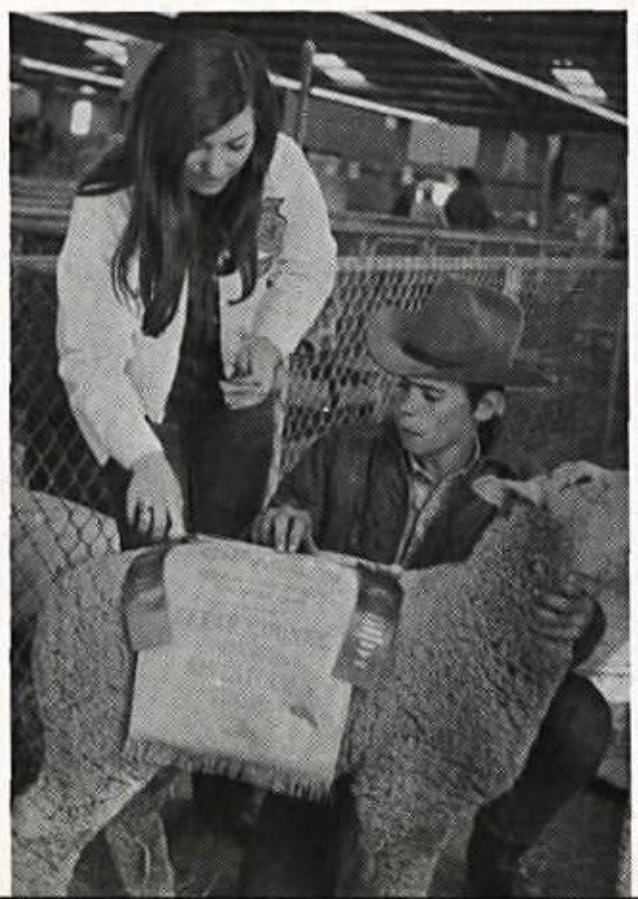
FFA Students Participate in Spectrum of Activities





Agriculture has proven to be a challenging and worthwhile course with many honors and awards received for efforts made. With the completion of the plumbing and electrical work, the greenhouse will be finished and working soon for the growing of indoor plants.

Advisors, Richardson and Milam, assist Sandi Chavera, Cathy Fulghum, and Gary Aelvoet in perfecting equipment in the greenhouse.

The Annual Stock Show Parade offered an opportunity for Ag students to exhibit their new truck and have fun also. Helen Janecek and Mike Fulghum proudly display winner ribbons.

Art Club Emphasizes Originality

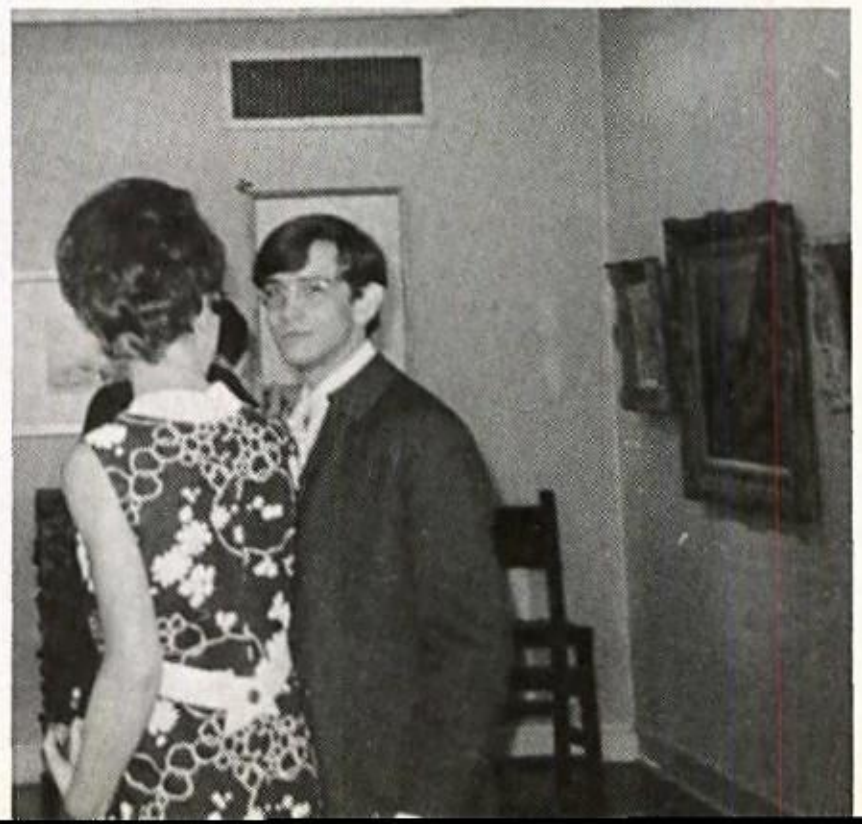
Art Club Officers, L to R: Jerry Sparkman, Vice-President; Debbie Parrott, Sgt. at Arms; Lou Rae Snook, Treasurer; Sandra Scoggins, Secretary; Jimmy McWhorter, President.

The purpose of the Art Club is to encourage those students who possess artistic ability and to intensify their talent.

One of the main undertakings of the club has been to offer assistance in decorating for extracurricular events, such as the "Spring Festival" dance and drama presentations.

Mrs. Lawrence, Art Club Sponsor, discusses the color theory and the uses of the color wheel to the art class.

Art Club members have added color to the halls as well as serving as advertising media for a number of school activities in the making of posters.



Elaine Thompson and Jim Poplin exchange ideas on Picasso's, "Girl with Plumed Hat," observed on a field trip to the museum.

Organizations

Student Council

The chief function of the Student Council is to act as a link between faculty, administration, and the students.

During the year the council is the center of activity. To get the year rolling, the officers assisted new students in orienting themselves to Southwest. Various programs were brought to our school through the invitations of the Student Council. These ranged from a Columbus Day tribute, the Air Force Band of the West, the Fourth Army Band, Mr. Jim Sage, and "The Incredible Machine," (the telephone), Lt. Doer's program on narcotics, and an interesting Christmas program. The Student Council promoted patriotism through a mock election.

Jimmy McWhorter and Catherine Pickhover represent their candidates at the mock election.

"Cowgirls", Gloria Pickhover, Anita Williams, and Susan Duffy "hold-up" shoppers at Valley Hi Mall for contributions to the March of Dimes.

Activities Cover a Wide Scope

A regular project of the Council is the operation of the school store. This year candy machines serve to bring in funds for Student Council expenses.

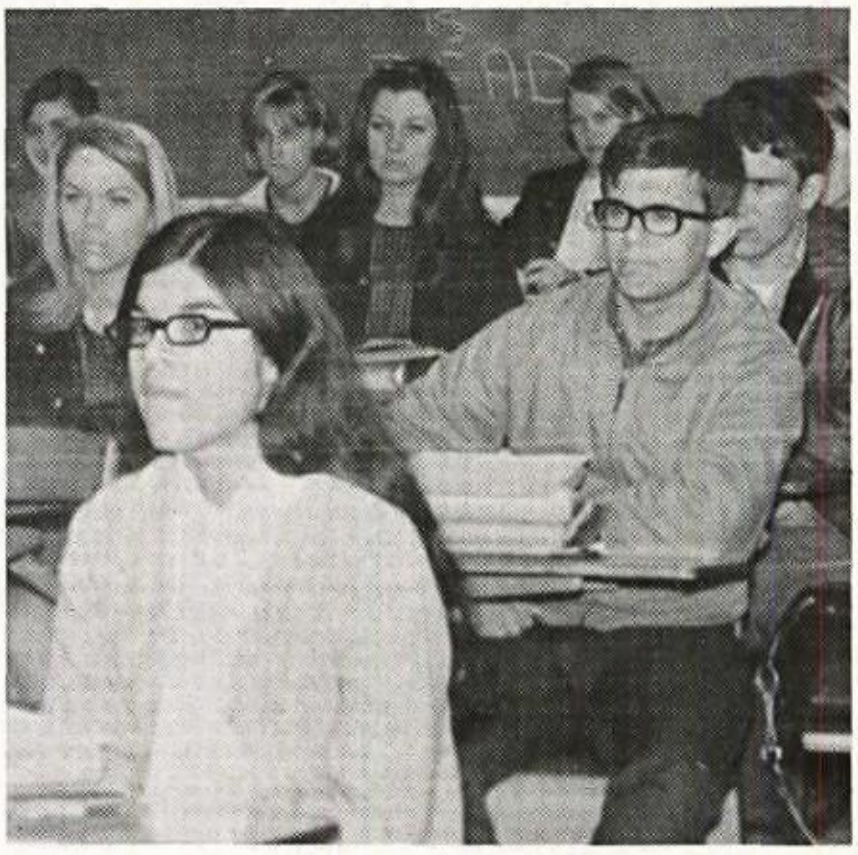
Future Teachers Aid Faculty

Future Teachers, Velma Lane, Helen Janecek, Sandi Chavera, Charles Lovelace, Sandra Scoggins, Cindy Wrasse, and Bill Leifeste attend orientation for FTA.



Southwest's FTA Chapter adopted new regulations, including a requirement for thirty hours of teaching, or some equivalent work corresponding to teaching, such as grading papers, averaging grades, or making displays and bulletin boards.

The primary goal of the club was to try to channel the interest of students toward teaching as a career. On the job training, in one sense of the word, accomplished a great deal in training students how to take a roll, keep order in a classroom, and supervise a class at work.

Training like this is comparable to practice teaching. With the cooperation of the administration, the club's membership was given a chance to teach on one of the three available campuses.

Quill and Scroll Publishes Accent on Youth

In today's swift moving society, we are constantly racing against time to bring the news home faster and with better efficiency. The DRAGON'S TALE and DRAGONNIERE honored journalists from the Quill and Scroll Society.

Activities this year included publication of the school newspaper, the annual and the literary magazine for the year 1968-69.

Honor Students Show Promise

In September the Dragon Band received new uniforms. On the front of the white overlay there was an emblem of a dragon. Designed by Mr. Pagonis, Band Director, the formal attire added an excellent flavor to outstanding performances.

The Band played at football games, pep rallies, parades, and several concerts were given during the year. In University Interscholastic League events the honor students were among Southwest's finest. Through marching contests, solo and ensemble meets, and concert contests, the recognized honor members vitally helped the band to victory.

Forming a striking picture, Southwest Majorettes marched with precision and grace across the football field, in contests with the band, and in San Antonio area parades. They succeeded in generating enthusiasm and spirit in students and team alike.

Under the capable supervision of Mr. Michael Pagonis, the Majorettes chose to back Southwest in all their undertakings. Their will and determination conquered innate sweetness through metamorphic personalities.

Band Parents Membership Grows

Officers of Band Parents' Club: Mr. Bernard Jacoby, President; Mrs. June Mahaffey, Treasurer; Mrs. Marie Eppler, Reporting Secretary; Mr. John Bitner, Vice-president.

Actively supporting the Dragon Band, the band parents raised money to send band members to Astro World in Houston.

Southwest students may be proud of their cheerleaders. They have represented the school at all athletic events, making an extensive effort to instill in every student a real desire for sportive victory.

Although suffering from weariness, hoarseness of voice, and sore throats, their spirits remained undampened and exhiliration persisted throughout the year's activities. These fine students displayed an outstanding ability to transpose students into active supporters.

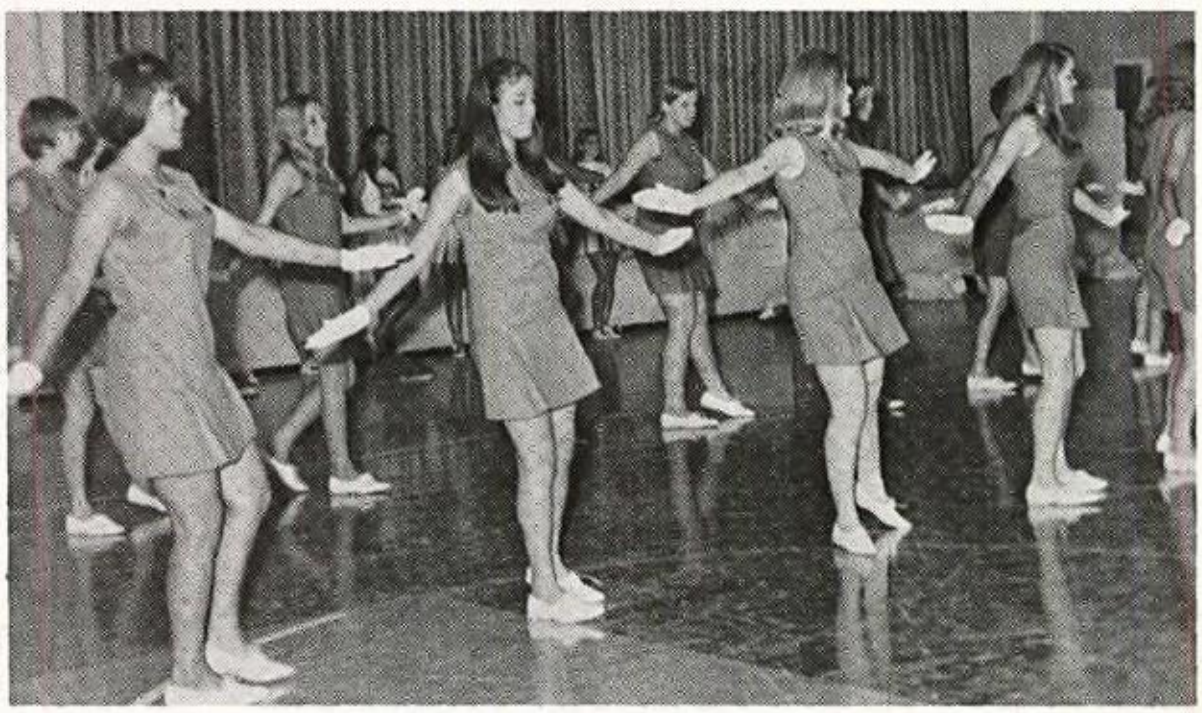
Through long sessions of brainstorming and diligent work during the football season, the Flamettes, Southwest's energetic Varsity Drill Team, have captured the enthusiasm and participation of the crowd. The drill team has produced a contagion of school spirit this football year, 1968. Without the help of these spirited girls, Southwest would, indeed, lose a part of its personality.



Top performance comes naturally to Mary Rodriquez, Linda Hernandez, Cindy Wrasse, Liz Field, and Linda Chilton.

Dragonniere staff members made preliminary layouts; then triplicate copy layouts had to be done by any annual staffer who possessed courage, stamina and imagination. Typing and double-checking became the yard-rule even when the working hours went on into the morning.

Fun and humor always prevailed at these working sessions, plus added trips to the coke machine and candy bar.

The annual staff made a variety of field trips, including one to the Ramada Inn, sponsored by Newsfoto Publishing Co. In September, at the beginning of the year, the staff made a trip to Trinity University to attend a workshop there.

One of the highlights of the year was the bus trip made by the Journalism staff to Denton to the Texas State Publications' meet. Three days were spent on the TWA campus, taking advantage of the many speakers, work sessions and clinics held at this time.

Irene Hathaway, Junior High Editor, works long hours to complete layouts before deadline arrives. The new Junior High School required the same coverage given to the High School Division.

"Winnie the Pooh"

The purpose of the Speech and Drama Club is to provide extracurricular opportunities in the interpretation of poetic, dramatic, and prose literature and in speaking situations. All dramatic work is done at school or contest presentation which includes productions such as "Snoopy's Christmas," "Winnie the Pooh," and "True, Blue, and Trusted."

Devotion characterized by long, dry rehearsals, late-to-bed, early-to-rise, quick lunches, migraine headaches, and hoarse throats, is only a meager sacrifice before the production of a play. Like all plays, "Winnie the Pooh" had its trouble spots before presentation, but Mrs. Joanne Hull, Sponsor, exhaled a breath of relief when the student body listened intently, highly entertained by its comical and satirical undertones. Even more exciting was the moment when "Winnie the Pooh" received second place in the UIL competition.

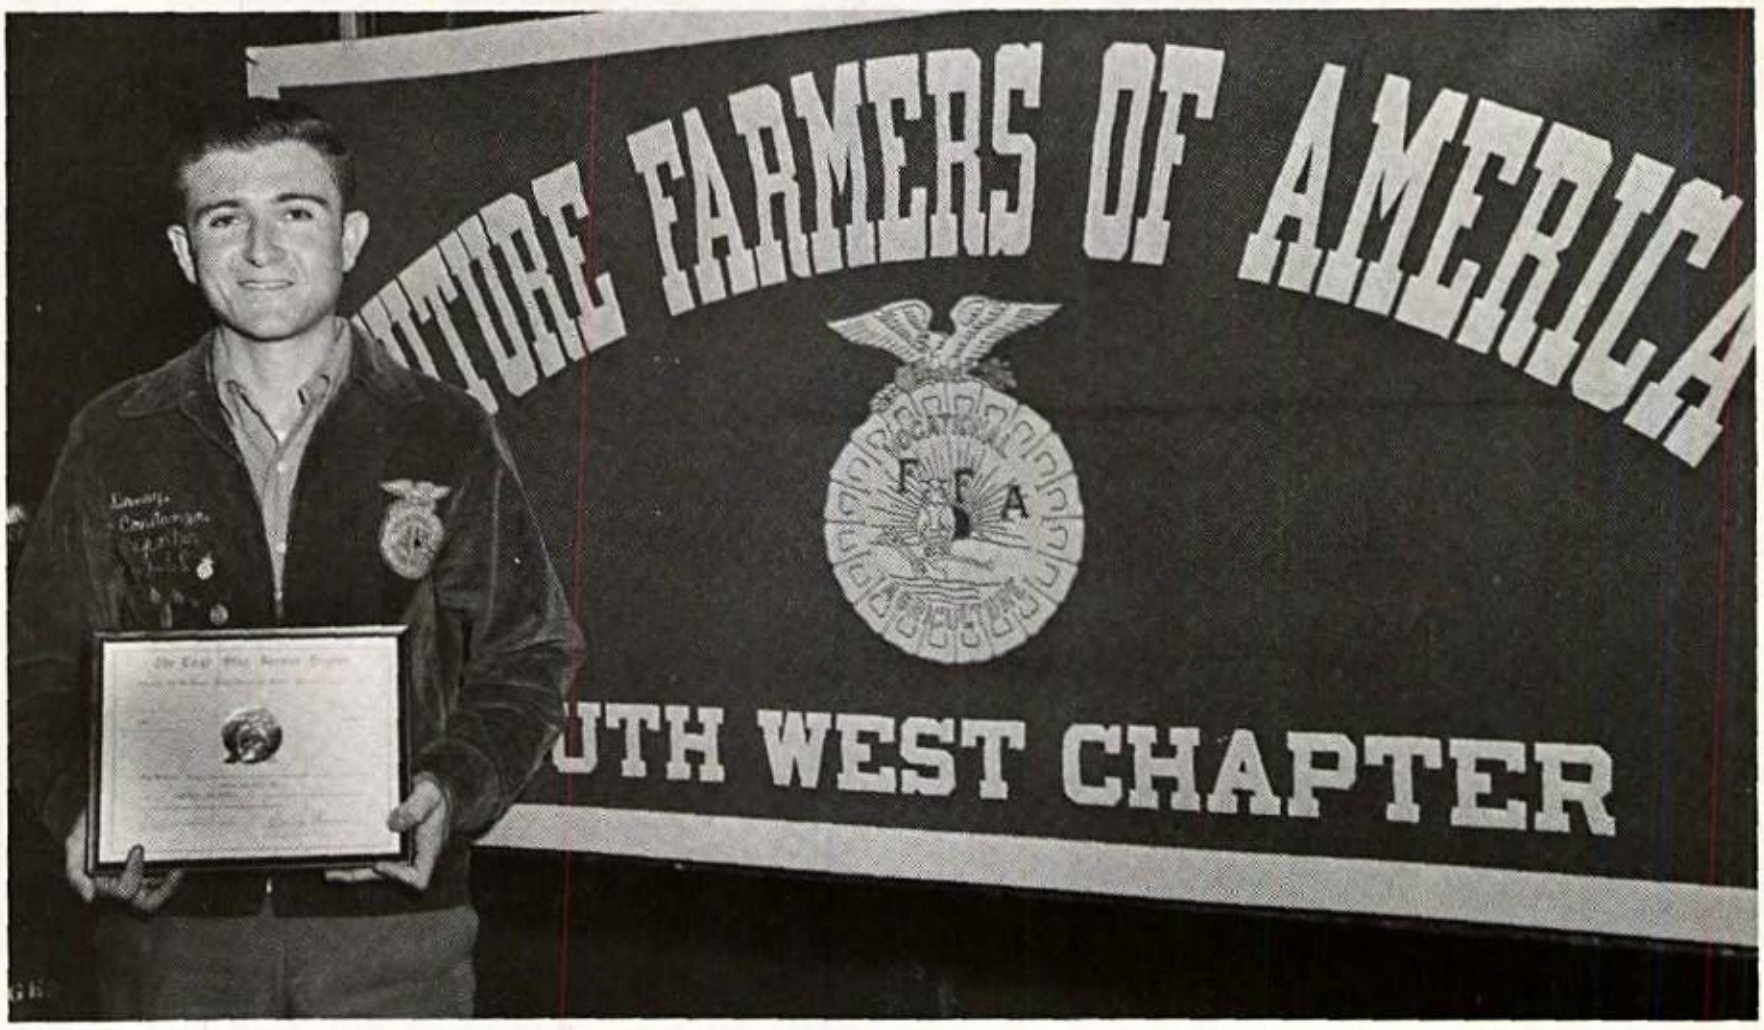
A new addition to Southwest's curriculum this year is the Distributive Education Division. This is a cooperative program for high school students. It deals with the training of these students in retail, wholesale, and service-selling occupations. The program involves both the school and the surrounding community.

By the sale of candy the club has received enough money to meet its expenses and purchase jackets for the members.



The Lone Star Farmer Degree was awarded to Daniel Constanzo, Jr., 1967-68. This degree is the highest honor given by the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America awarded on the basis of recognition of outstanding work as a Green Hand, a Chapter Farmer, and a student in vocational agriculture.

Spotlight for FFA

Helen Janecek, Senior, was selected as FFA Sweetheart for 1968-69 by the Southwest Chapter.

The Scrapbook for this group of boys is in the capable hands of their Sweetheart. Helen's friendly personality, in addition to her warmth and natural beauty, brought the Chapter numerous compliments and recognition.

She participated in a variety of FFA events, such as stock shows, parades, and the District Sweetheart Election.

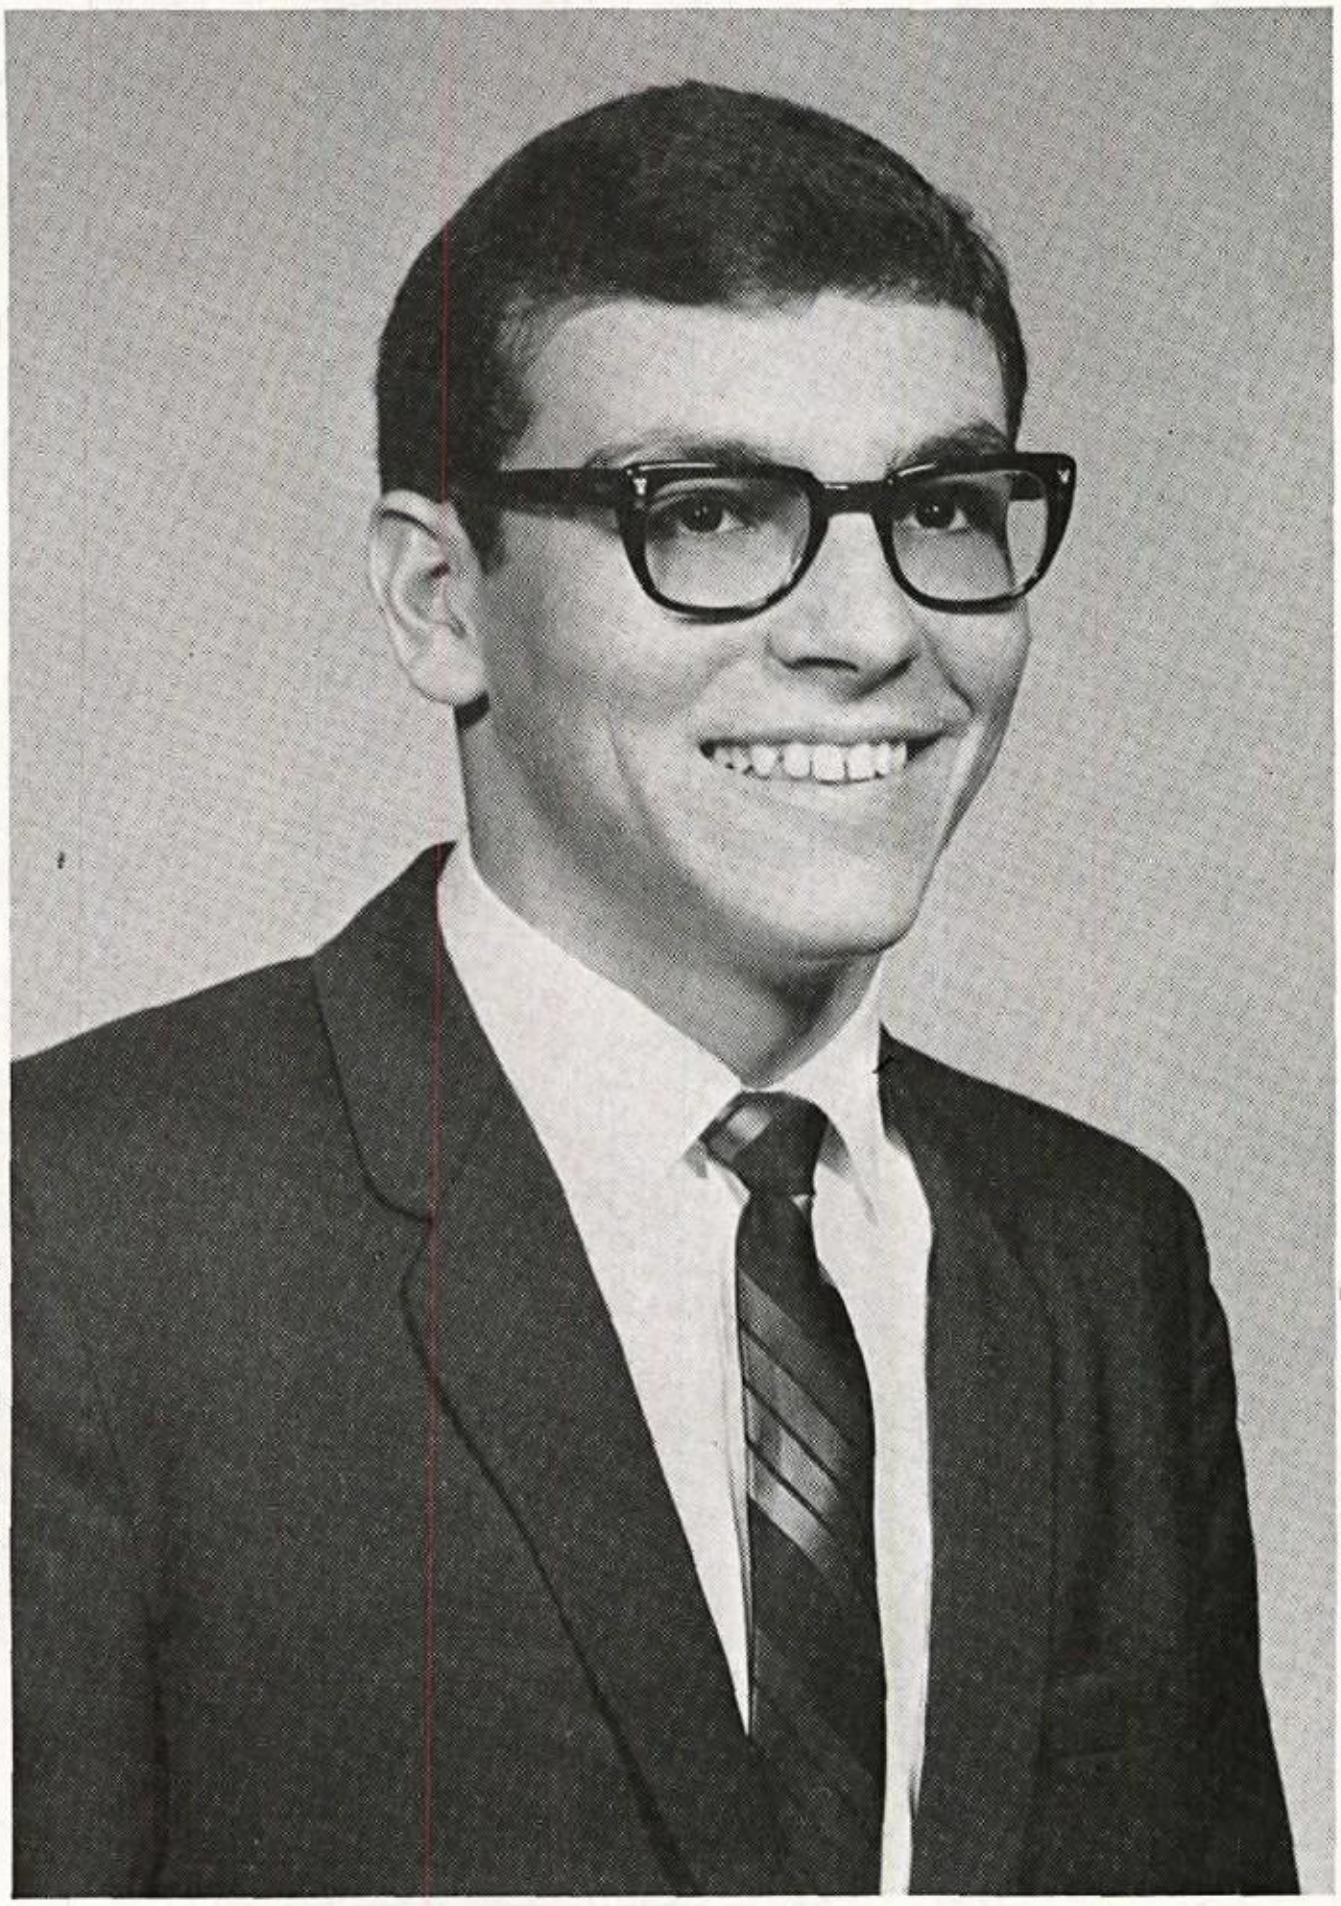
With informative monthly meetings and such sponsored activities as the annual Coronation Day festivities, the PTSA is undoubtedly considered as a vital part of our school system.

Honors



JOE DAYOC—VALEDICTORIAN

Receiving the highest scholastic honor of the 1969 school year, Joe Dayoc achieved a record academic average of ninety-six, the highest in three consecutive years. His talents did not stop in the academic field but took a broader scope in athletics—football, basketball, baseball, and track. Joe has contributed much in service to the school. A member of the National Honor Society for three years and this year's president, he led the Society to greater recognition. Joe was also Sports' Editor of the Dragonniere and a member of the Quill and Scroll International Honorary Society for High School Journalists.

DAVID E. BOULWARE–SALUTATORIAN

The second highest scholastic award of Southwest High went to David Boulware, who, while being an honor student, has also been very active in sports throughout his years in high school.

David was a member of the National Honor Society and served as this year's Vice-President.

He has participated in football, golf and track, while earning the honor of being chosen as an All-District player in basketball.

Surely, David has brought much honor to himself as well as to the school.

Receiving the highly regarded title of Dragon, Don Packham has, undoubtedly, exhibited outstanding leadership and has met the requirements taken into consideration for the selection of Dragon by the faculty.

In the area of citizenship, Don won the "Youth and Medicine" award from the San Antonio Optimist Club. In academics, he ranked third in the graduating class of 1969. Serving as Student Council President, one can see easily that Don is well deserving of the honor bestowed upon him. His devotion and hard work entitle him the earned respect of students and faculty.

Among other accomplishments, Donald has been a member of the National Honor Society for two years, and he was inducted this year into the Quill and Scroll International Honor Society for High School Journalists. The staff of the yearbook, the Dragonniere, has been privileged to have Don serve on the annual in charge of clubs and organizations.

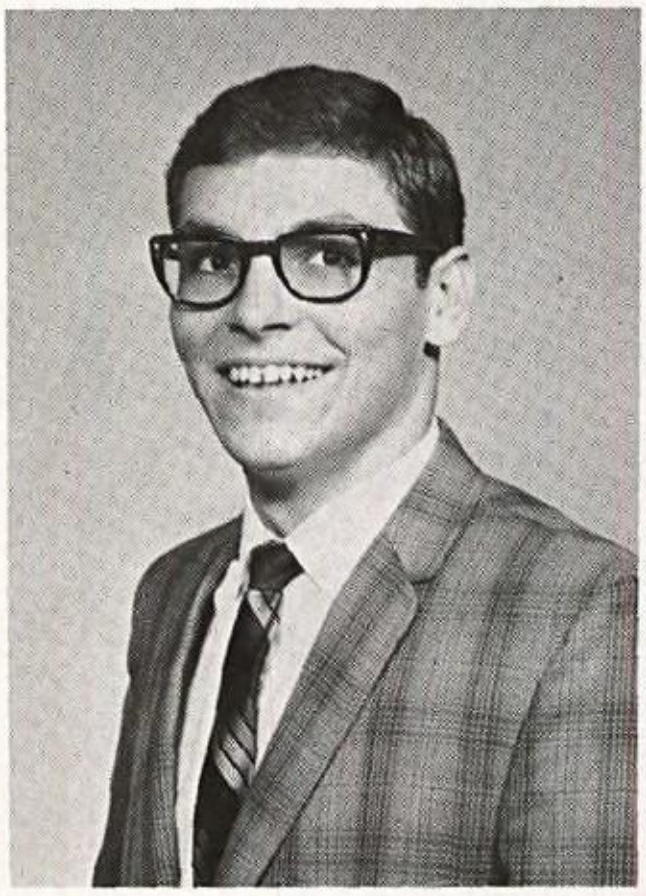
DRAGONNETTE–SHERRY KERSEY

This year's selection for the outstanding honor of Dragonnette was awarded to Sherry Kersey. It is unique in the sense that the voting committee, a number of faculty members and administrators, chose on the basis of contribution, citizenship and academic standing.

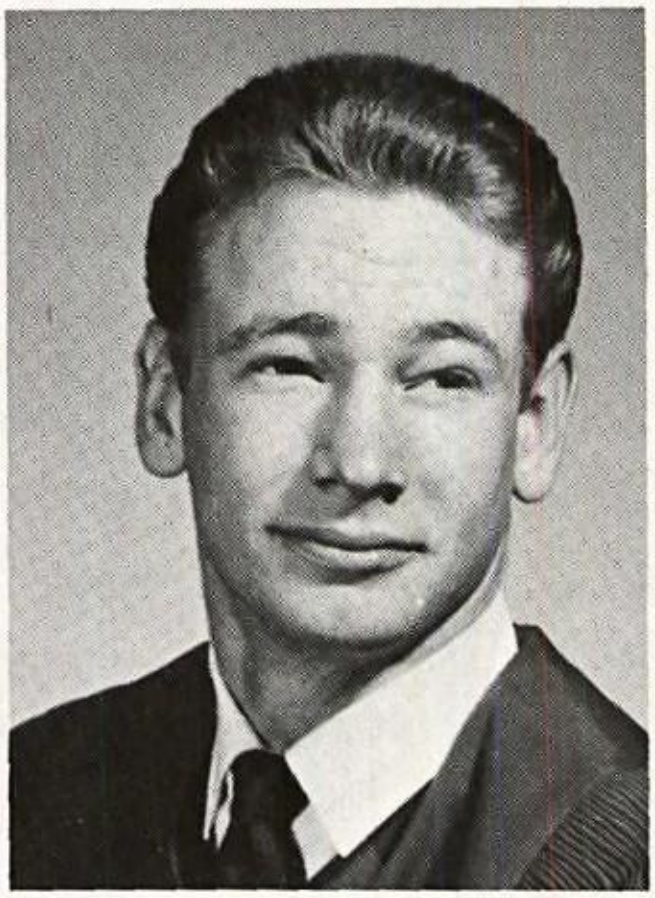
Among her wide-spread interests, Sherry is a member of the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll International Honor Society for High School Journalists. She served as Art Editor and Assistant Editor of the Dragons Tale, the Literary Magazine, ACCENT ON YOUTH, winning second place in UIL for printed illustrations and third place in "one-shot" advertisements for her Homecoming cover and "Poor Richard's" advertisement.

In the sports' area, Sherry has played basketball for six years. She has been in the Dragon Band for four years and was chosen Drum Major in her Senior year.

Outstanding Students



An athletic Junior, Linda Miller was All-District for Southwest in basketball. She was a member of National Honor Society, Future Teachers, Speech and Drama, Quill and Scroll Club, and the UIL spelling team. Next year she will be Vice-President of the Student Council, Vice-President of the National Honor Society, and, she will serve on the annual staff.



An outstanding Senior, Joe Dayoc, has successfully brandished Southwest with his athletic talents. He was President of the National Honor Society, a member of the Quill and Scroll Club, and Valedictorian of the 1969 graduating class.

Salutatorian of the 1969 graduating class, David Bouleware has contributed many hours of work in the Sports Department. He was also Treasurer of the National Honor Society.

Pat Edmonds, President of the Future Teachers of America, has skillfully aided the teachers of Southwest by substituting in various classes when needed. Her charm and grace have been attributes to Southwest.

Athletically inclined, Roxanne Pestello represented Southwest in regional competition in track. She was a member of the Future Teachers of America and an accomplished student.

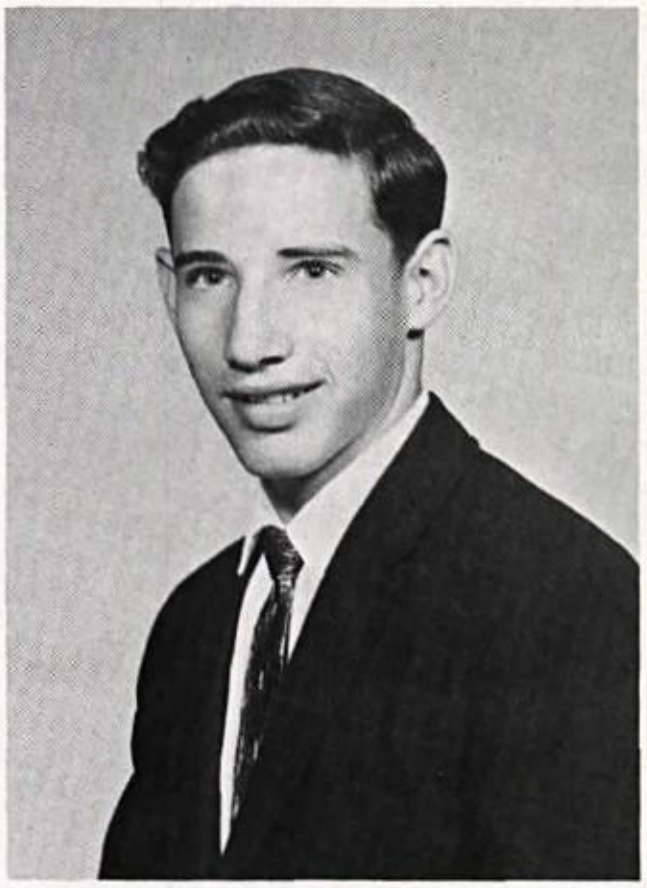
Demonstrate Abilities

Joan Van Hecke participated in track and basketball events. She ranked in regional competition in the 880-yard relay. A member of the Junior Class, she is active in all school activities.

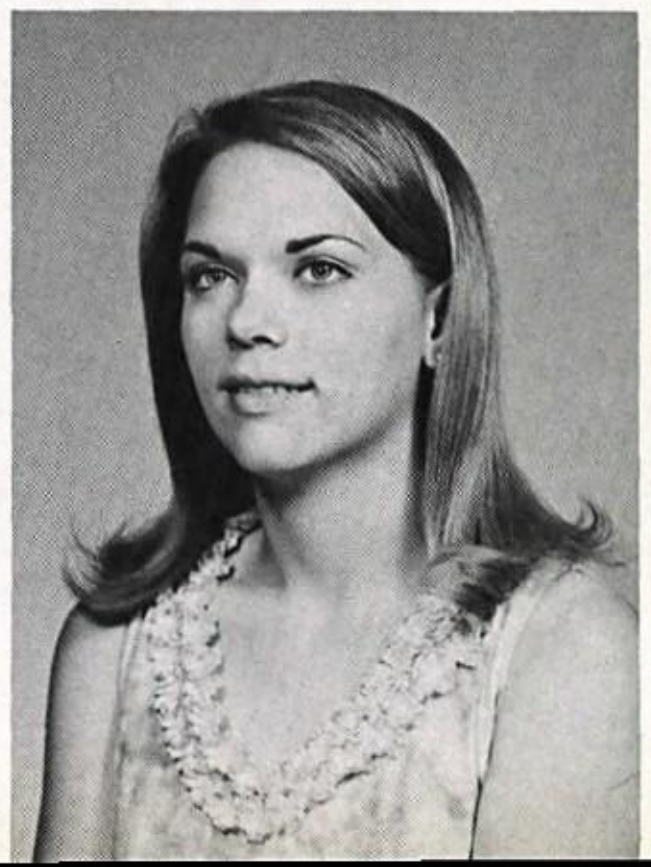
As a member of the Dragon's Tale, Delores Heard has spent much of her time in helping the Southwest journalism department. A member of the Quill and Scroll Club, this senior was always around to lend a helping hand.

President of the Junior Class, Chuck Friesenhahn has been an attribute to Southwest. He has been active in sports through participation in football, track, and basketball. In his Senior year he will be President of the National Honor Society, President of FFA, and President of the Senior Class.

Editor of the School's newspaper, the DRAGON'S TALE, Senior Velma Lane, has been awarded the Light's annual Most Valuable Staffer Award. Working with her staff, she created an award-winning newspaper for Southwest. A member of FTA and Quill and Scroll, she gave her time for the betterment of Southwest.

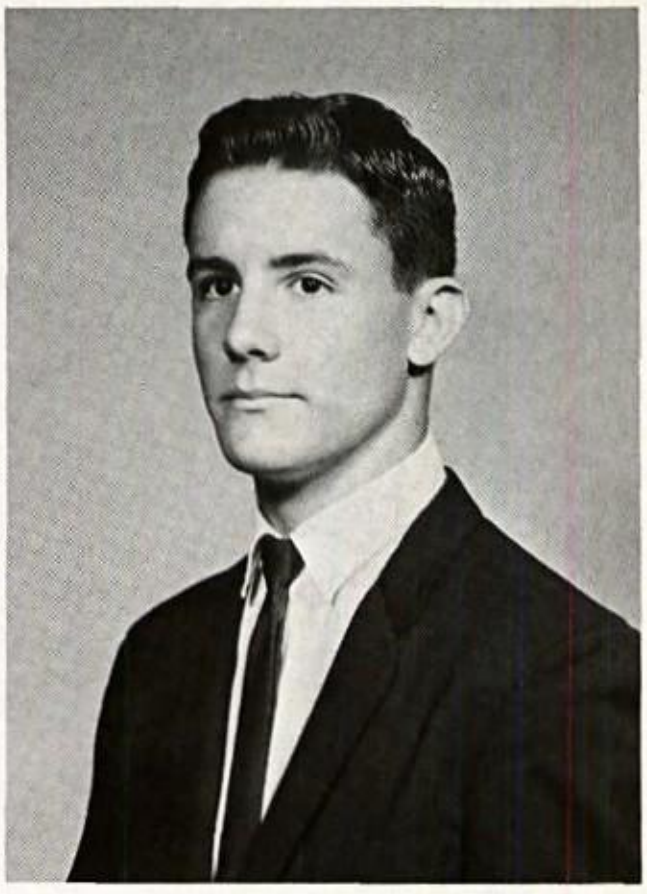


Catherine Pickhover, Editor of the Southwest's DRAGONNIERE, has labored many hours after school and on Saturdays in completing the 1969 DRAGONNIERE. She is a member of the National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll Club, and Vice-President of the Student Council.



Various Fields Help

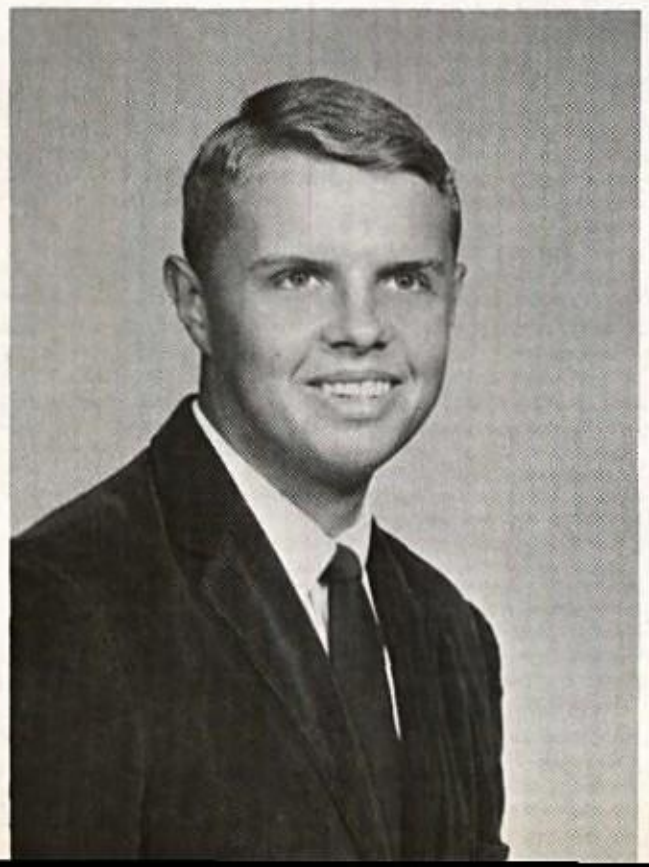
Senior, Helen Janecek, is a very versatile person with many talents. She has been Treasurer of the Student Council, a member of the Dragonniere Staff and Quill and Scroll, as well as Future Teachers of America and Future Homemakers of America. She has also served as Captain of the Drill Team. Her poise and personality have given her the title of "Miss Congeniality."



President of the Freshman Class, Harvey Brock has been extremely active among the students at Southwest. He has performed well in athletic activities. He has excelled academically and achieved many accomplishments while Freshmen students and teachers assisted him. Next year he will be Sergeant-at-Arms for the Student Council.

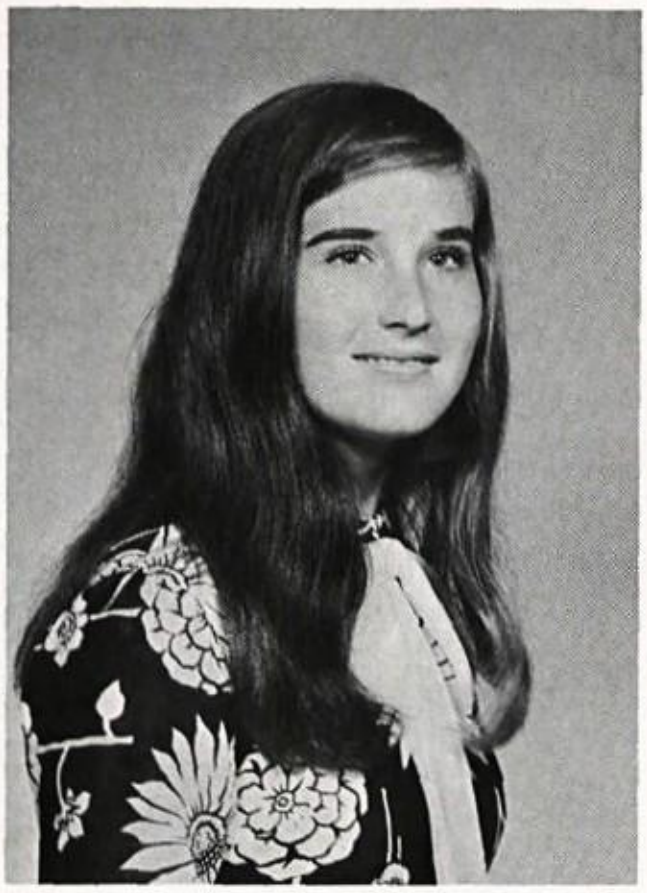
Lorene Ripps has many accomplishments to her credit during her senior year. She has been Historian of the Student Council and a member of FTA. Ever willing and always ready to help, Lorene has tried to promote the good of Southwest. She is an admirable Senior with endless talents.

The pride of the Junior Class is James Nelson. Athletically inclined, he spent many long hours and nights working for the Sports Department. His attitude and personal qualities have made him a vital part of Southwest.

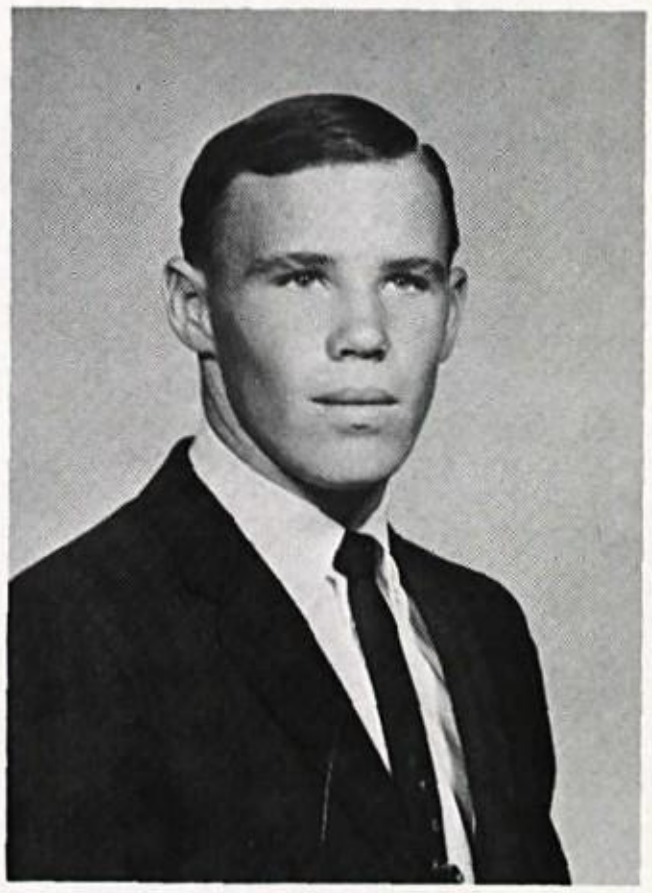


An academically excellent student is Kathy Saengerhausen. Her study habits and grades have proven that Southwest's curriculum is conquerable. As a member of the National Honor Society, she excels in all her undertakings.

Mold Honor Students

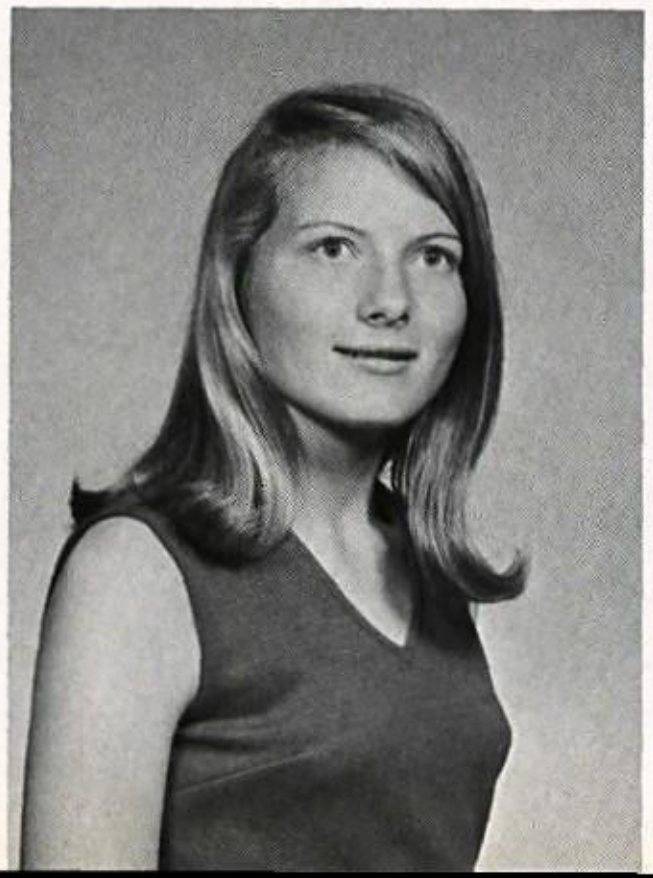


An asset to the Junior class, Francis Friesenhahn has excelled, not only in academics, but in athletics as well. She went to state in track. She is a member of the National Honor Society, and Future Teachers of America. Next year she will be Secretary of the Student Council.



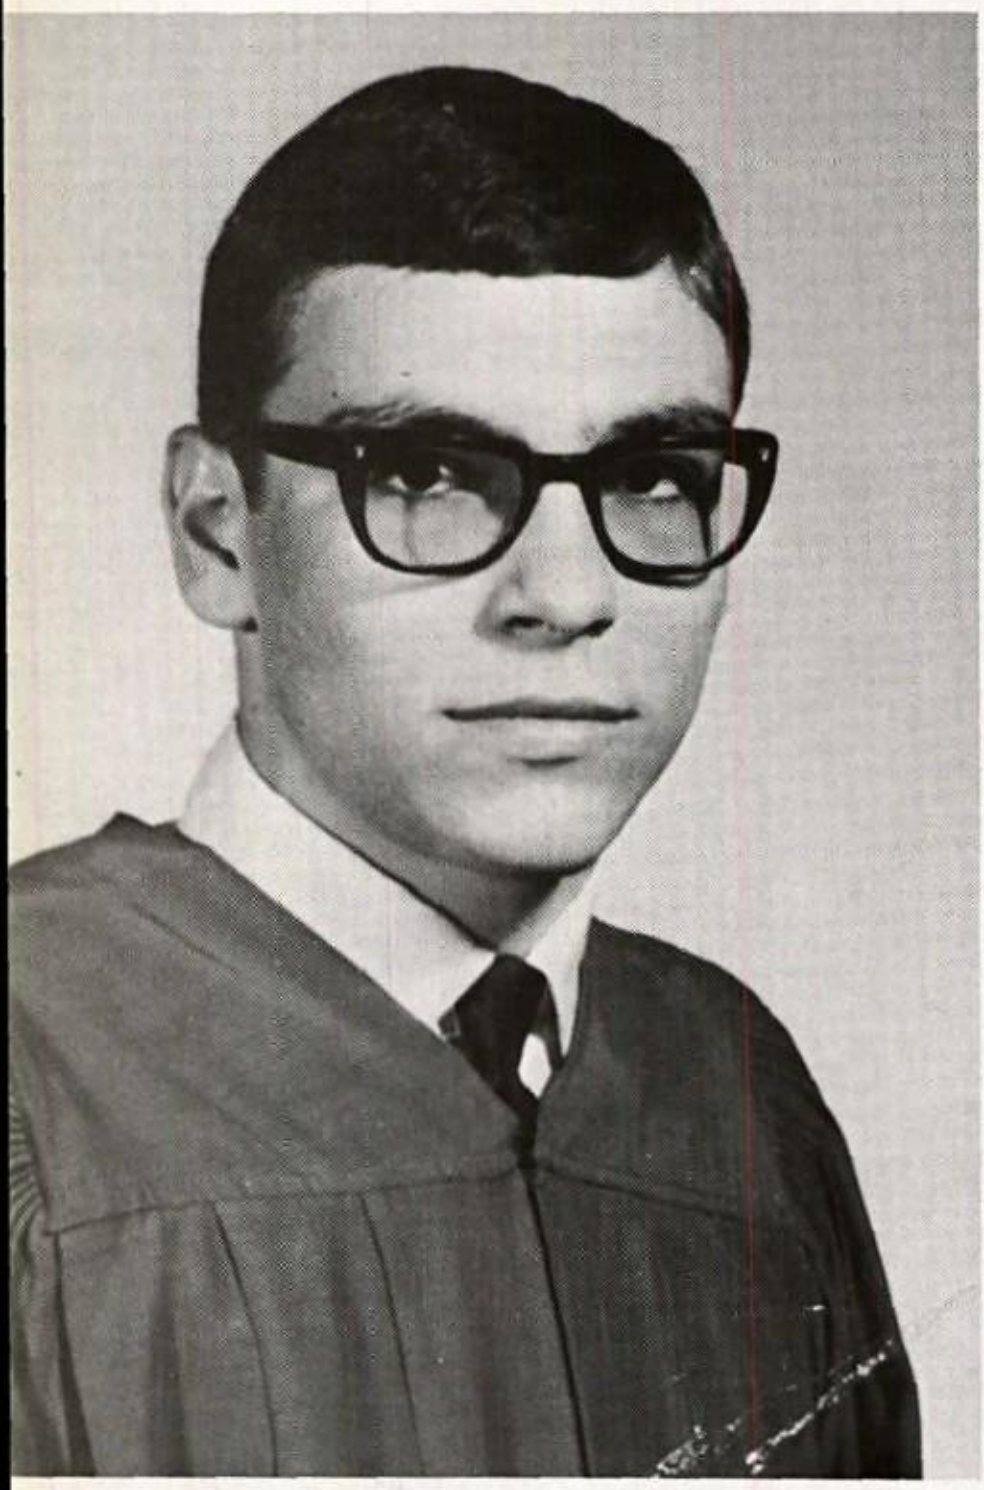
President of the Sophomore Class was Keith Sullivan. His outstanding athletic ability has allowed him to play varsity football, track and basketball. He was a member of the Student Council and worked when he could for the benefit of Southwest students. Being mature, dependable, and trustworthy, he will also be next year's Junior Class president.

As a member of Southwest's newly formed DECA club, Rosalinda Grajeda has shown her ability to transform this organization into an active working part of the school. She also has been a member of the Future Teachers of America and the Dragon's Tale staff.



Southwest's track star, Ann Smith, brought pride and fame to Southwest this year by capturing fourth in state track competition. She has been a member of the FTA, National Honor Society, Student Council and Sophomore Class. Next year she will be Treasurer of the Student Council. She always has an endless air of humor about her.

Talents Recognized with Scholarships



JOSEPH DAYOC

Joseph Dayoc, this year's Valedictorian, was awarded the Brackenridge Scholarship as one of the many Bexar County Schools' honor graduates. Since his arrival at Southwest, Joe has proven time and again his outstanding abilities.

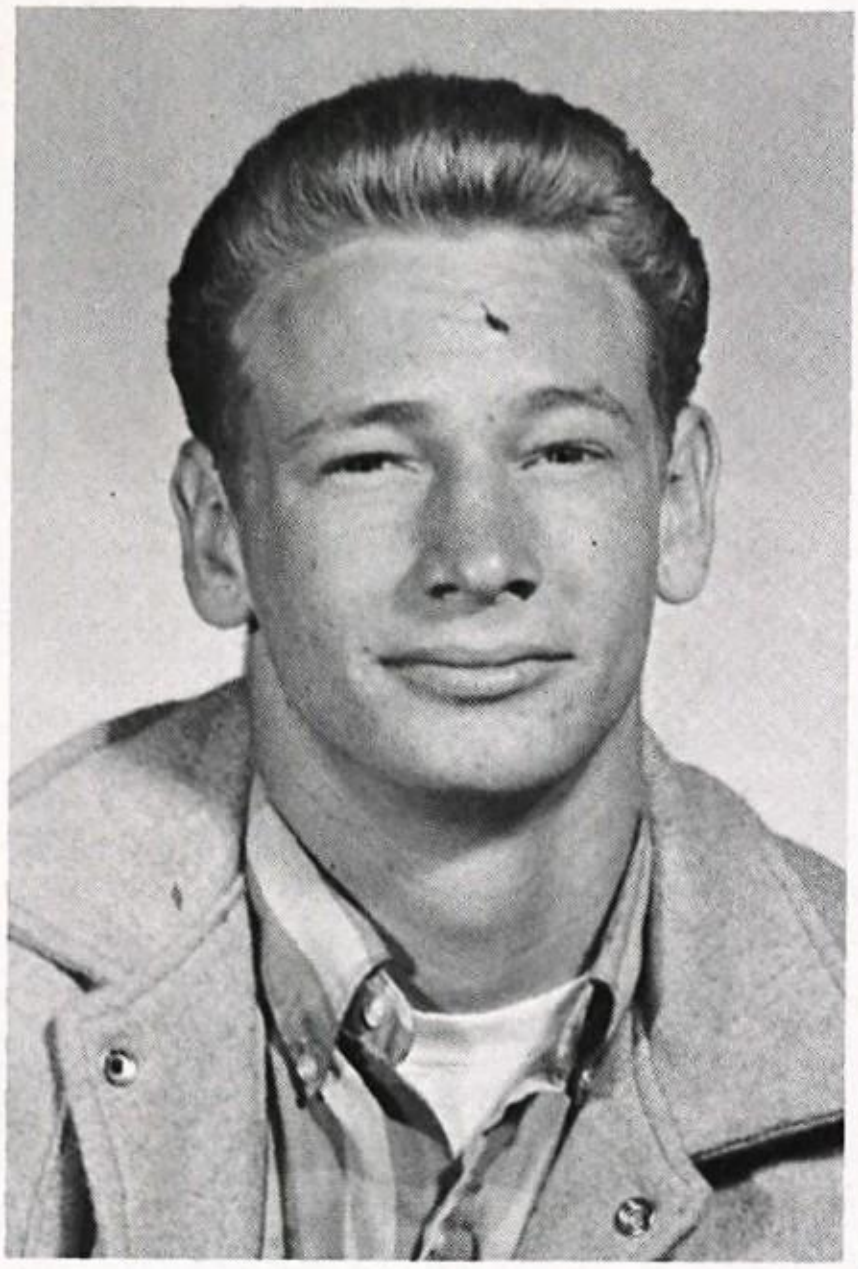
Having participated in sports and other school activities, he has worked diligently and effectively in academics.

SHERRY KERSEY

As this year's highest ranking girl in the Senior Class, Sherry Kersey has earned for herself a church-related scholarship.

This scholarship is to the church college of her choice and varies among the different institutions of higher education.

and Special Honors

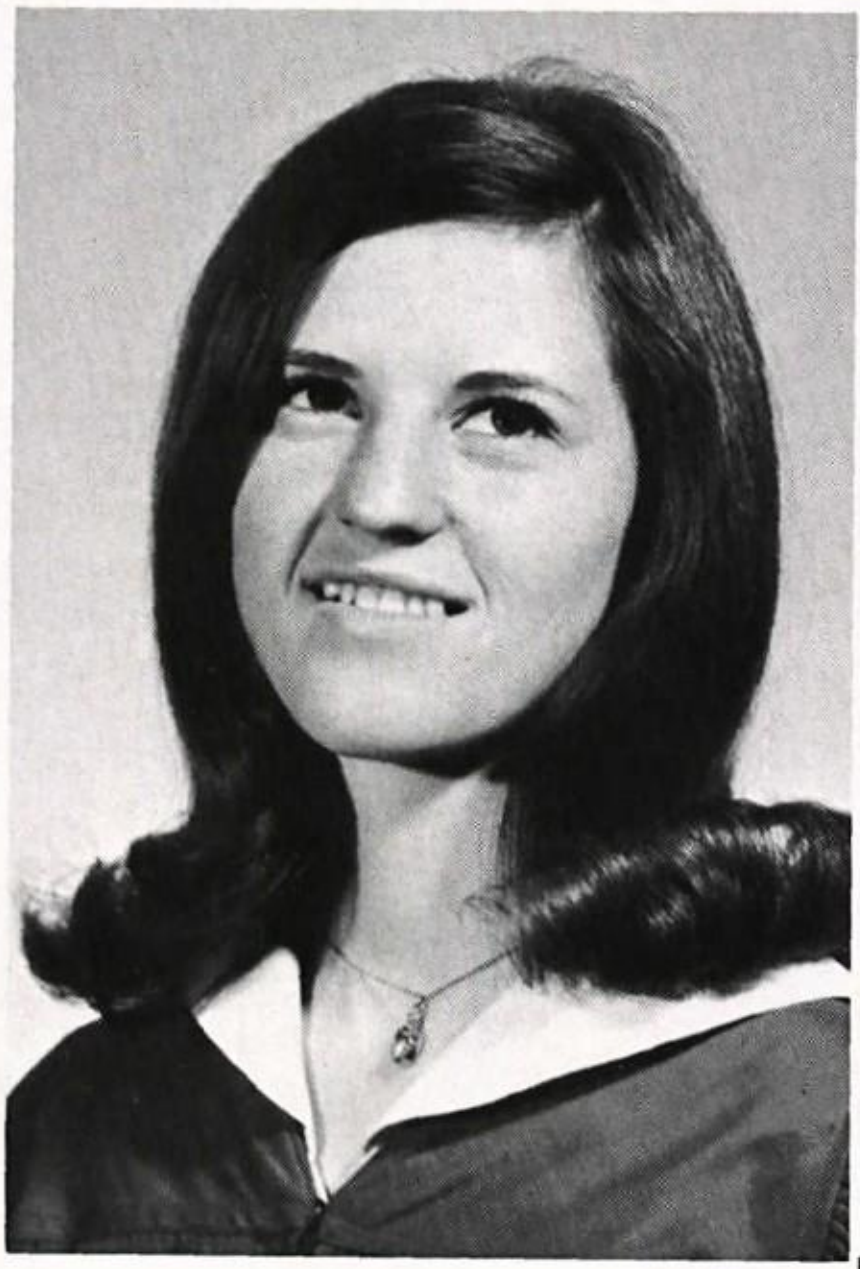


DAVID BOULWARE

As a result of being the Salutatorian of the 1969 graduating class, David Boulware has also been the recipient of a church-related scholarship.

DONALD PACKHAM

Donald has distinguished himself by being selected as this year's San Antonio Optimist Club winner in the division of "Youth and Medicine."



CYNTHIA WRASSE

By showing exceptional ability and devotion to the FTA and the teaching profession, Cynthia Wrasse was chosen by the PTSA to receive their scholarship, awarded annually in recognition of such dedication.

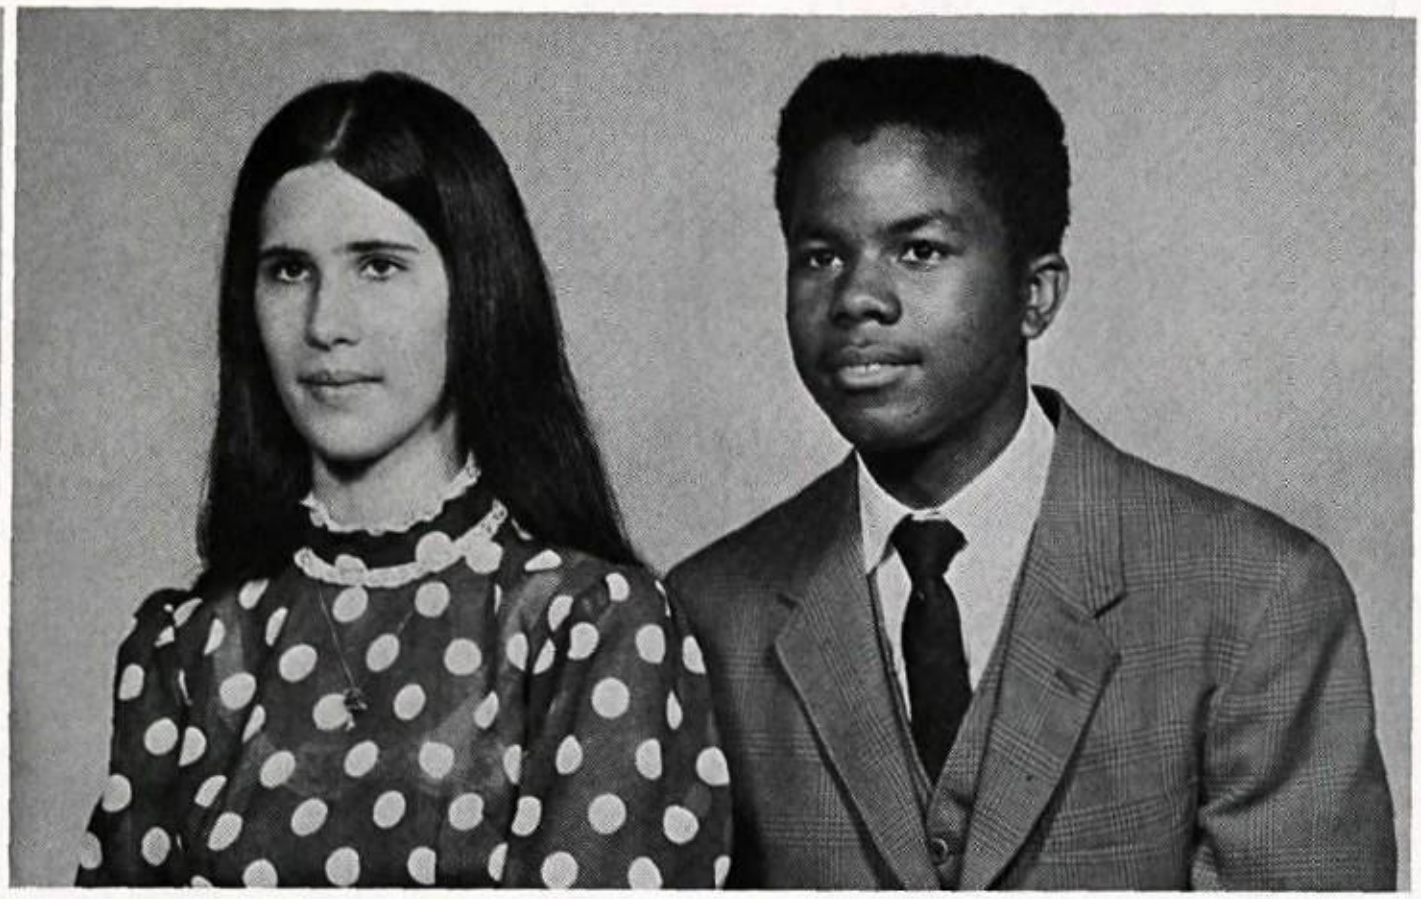
Sincerity and overall friendliness were characteristic of Evangelina Alvarado. Shy, yet outgoing when necessary, she gained the respect and amity of the Senior Class.

Highly spirited and always witty, Paris Heard became a prime personality in the Senior Class structure. His ability to "keep his cool" was greatly admired by his fellow classmates.

Elaine Thompson with flashy smiles and humor, sometimes dry, filled the halls with a curious amount of laughter and noise. Active in drama and Student Council, she was also creative and sincere in her work.

Robert Patterson, active in Student Council and sports, was appreciated by the Junior Class for his spokesmanship and dependability.

Favorites



Sophomores:
Donna

Craig
McNary

Donna Darby, cheerleader and Homecoming contestant, ejected herself into the mainstream of Southwest's society. Her cooperative spirit attained her many devoted friends in all classes.

Quick wit and congeniality were demonstrated throughout the year by Craig McNary. As Student Council representative, he was able to "smooth out" difficulties in the Sophomore Class.

Martha Hernandez earned the friendship of her fellow compatriots through an "explosive" and outgoing personality.

Arthur Grajeda participated in athletics. His ability to cooperate and get things done was highly respected by all with whom he associated.

The Seniors of 1969 elected six capable officers and three representatives to the Student Council in September to lead their graduating class, make important decisions, and activate plans for Senior Class functions. Among the various activities of the year were the Homecoming Supper and Dance. These events proved to be a colossal success due to the energy of the Senior Class Officers, their parents, and the overall participation of the class members.

Meeting regularly to consult the Senior Class, these officers have worked unselfishly for the benefit of their fellow class members.

In a whirlwind of activity, both curricular and extracurricular, the Sophomore class exemplified eager participation at Southwest. Heading the Sophomore Class, the officers displayed versatility, dependability, and affability—all conducive to good leadership. Elected in September, they took the initiative of combating without procrastination the various problems that arose.

Spirit was maintained at a high level throughout the course of the school year, due to the two Sophomore cheerleaders, Linda Curry and Donna Darby. Loyalty to Southwest and dedication to the Sophomore Class, combined with burning school spirit, made the officers thoroughly worthy of their positions.

Freshmen Officers Tackle New-Founded Responsibilities

Constantly on the go, the Freshmen Officers headed by Harvey Brock demonstrated the ability to unite a class of approximately 196 students. They helped "smooth" the chaos and confusion that comes with graduation from junior high into high school.

Elected in September by their fellow classmates, they had time and again proved their leadership capacities. Dependability, amity, and common sense have made them well-respected leaders.

With the welfare of the Freshman Class in mind, they worked diligently and enthusiastically, making their Freshman year an integral and vital part of high shcool.

In Memorium

Randel Luker Antonio Salazar

In the wonder and goodness of Youth . . .

We sometimes wing from the earth,

Leaving behind our child prints–

Memories of a warm and tender moment;

Only to greet God whom we've met before.

And to find Life in the closeness of God-Rebirth.

Homecoming Highlights Season

Homecoming, a memory-filled event spiced with color and tradition, is always the highlight of every football season.

The bonfire, the game, the queen, the dance: each added fuel to the ever growing well of enthusiasm and excitement which accompanied the Dragon Homecoming of 1968.

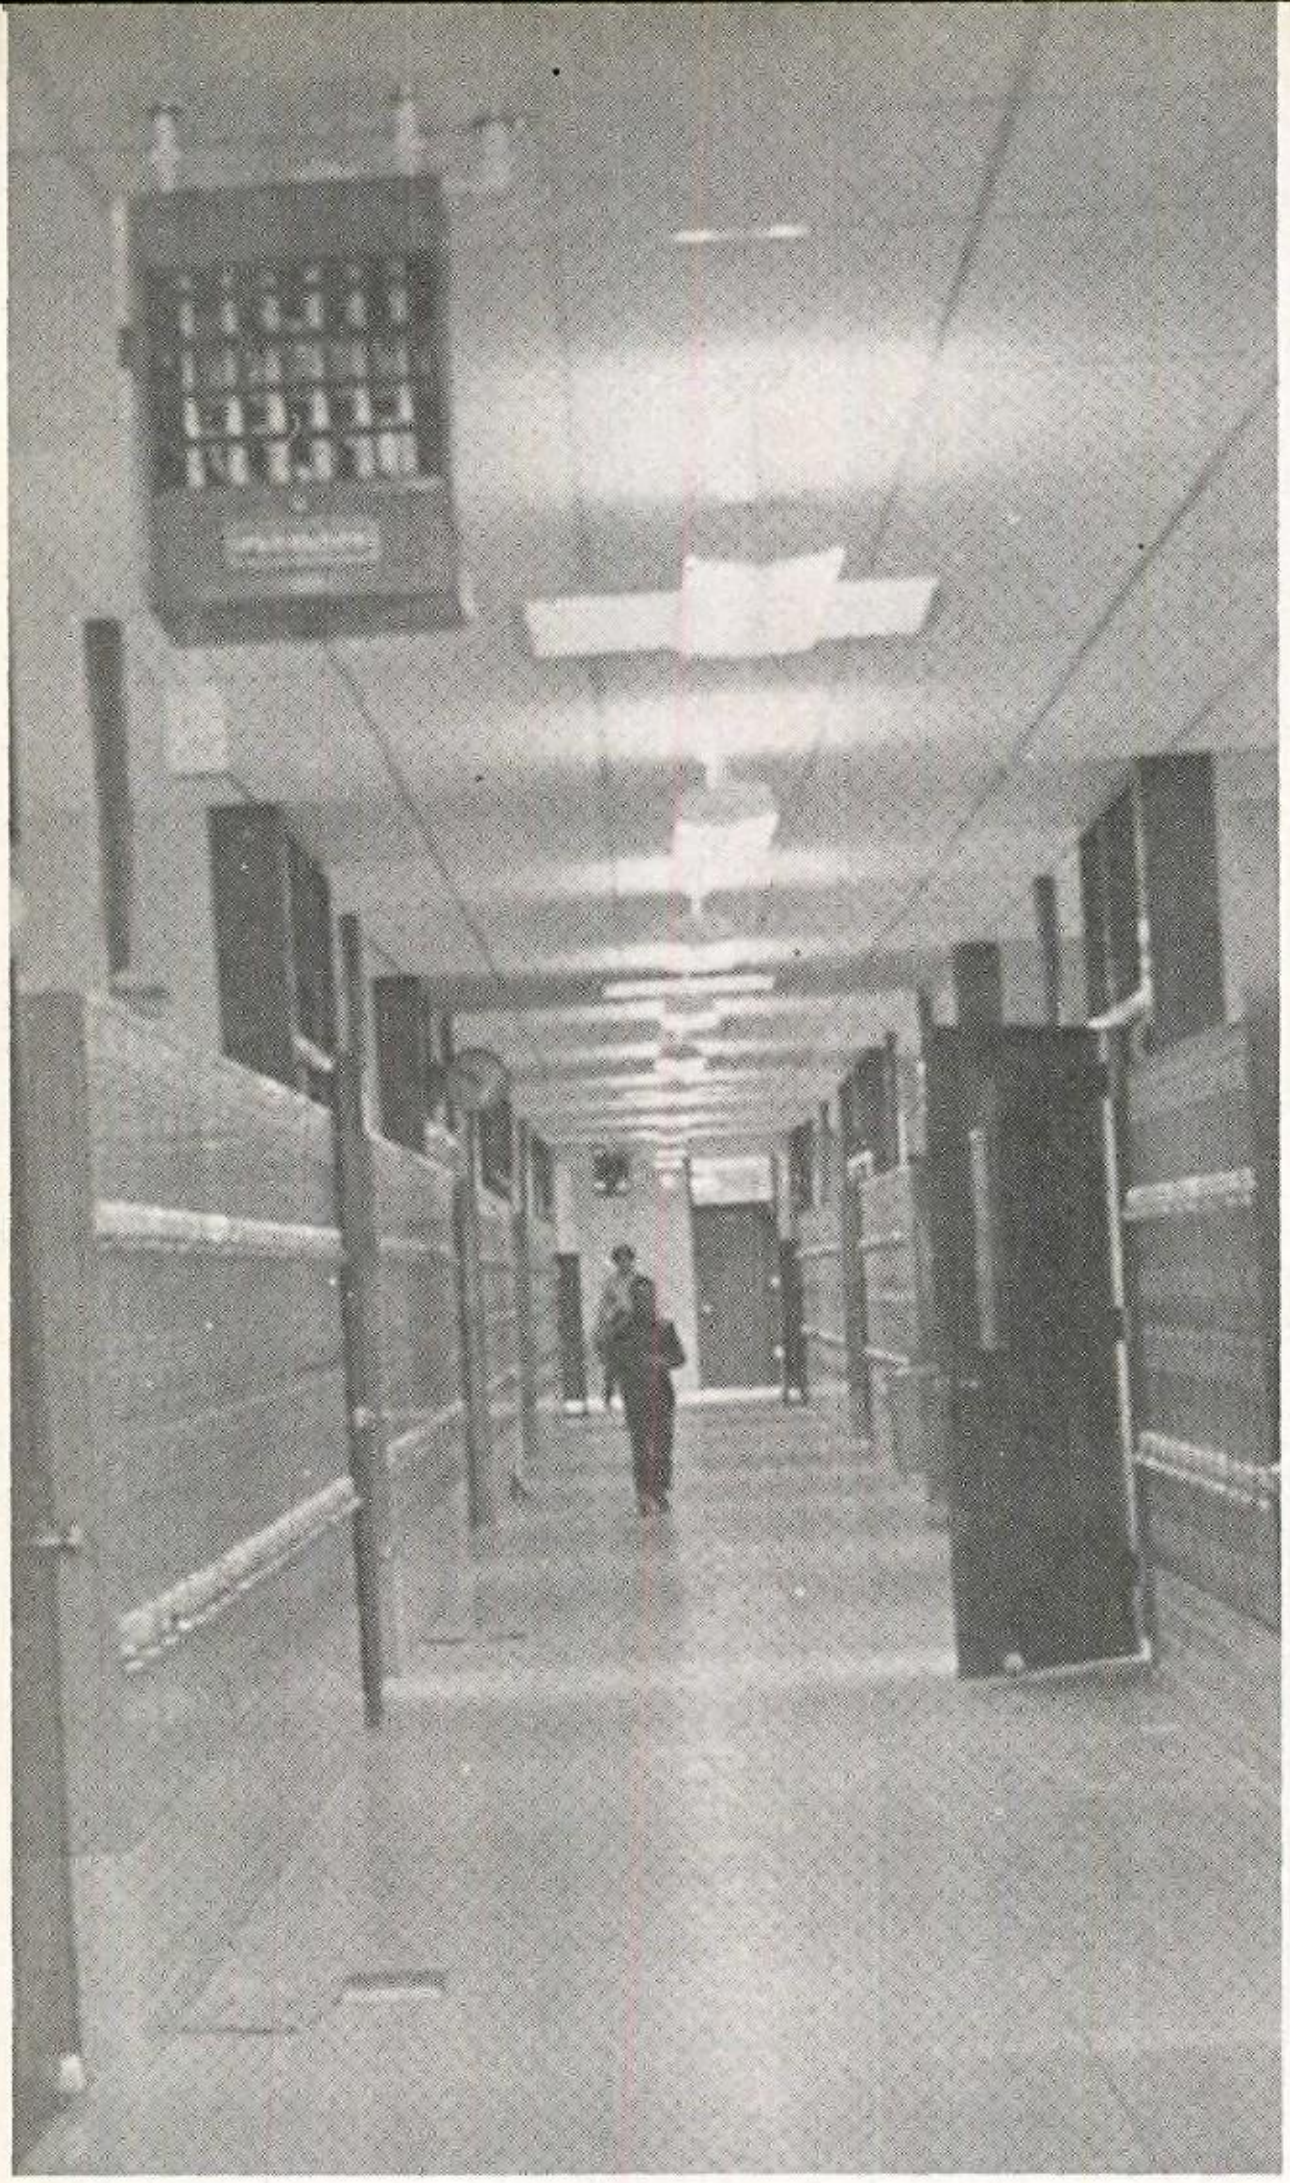
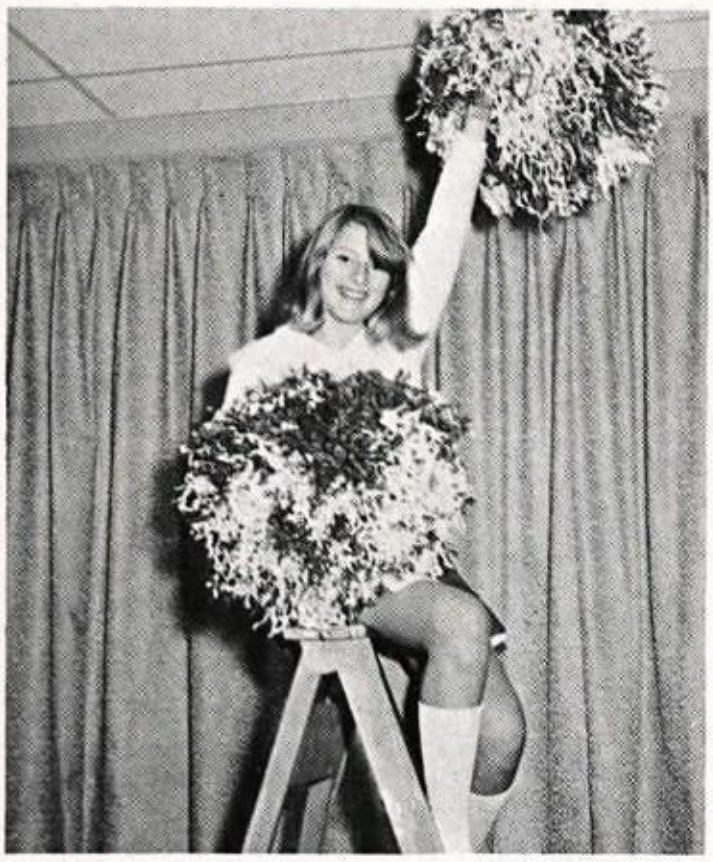
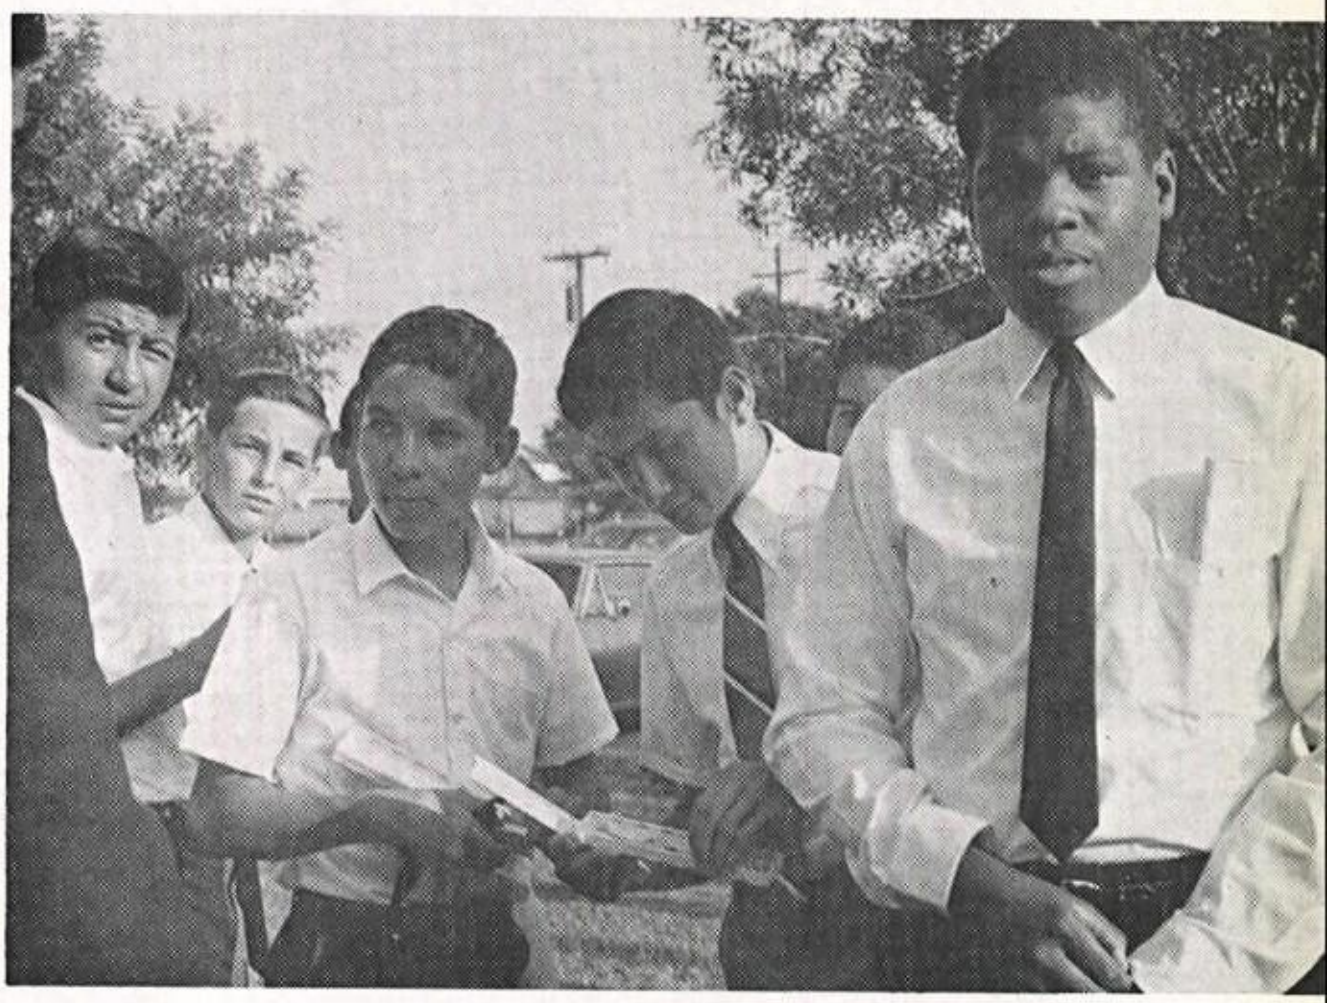
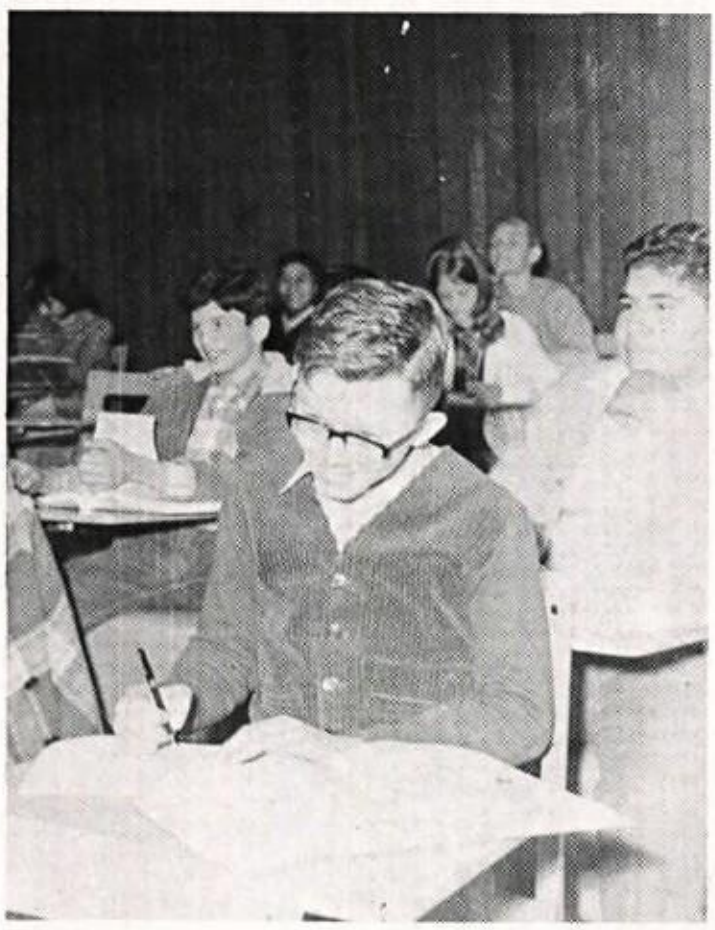
Junior High

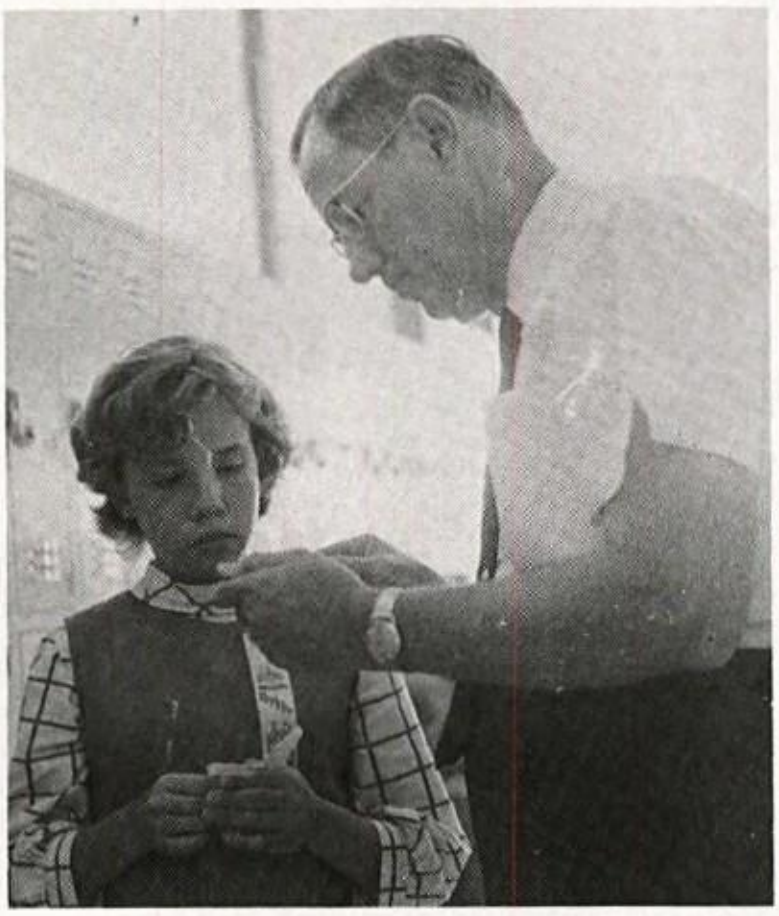








Mr. John H. Morgan



Southwest Junior High School has a new, modern home, consisting of a wing of classrooms, an administration area, a teachers lounge, and a new library.

This year we find Mr. Morgan working diligently in the capacity of principal of this large, attractive school.

A graduate of Northwest Texas State University, Mr. Morgan has earned his B.S. and his M.S. degrees. He has served in the field of education for many years as leader, teacher, and administrator. From this vast experience Mr. Morgan is a valuable asset to any school system.

Dean of Girls—Mrs. Marie Fitzgerald

Mrs. Marie Fitzgerald, Counselor for the Junior High Division, received her B.S. Degree from High Point College in North Carolina.

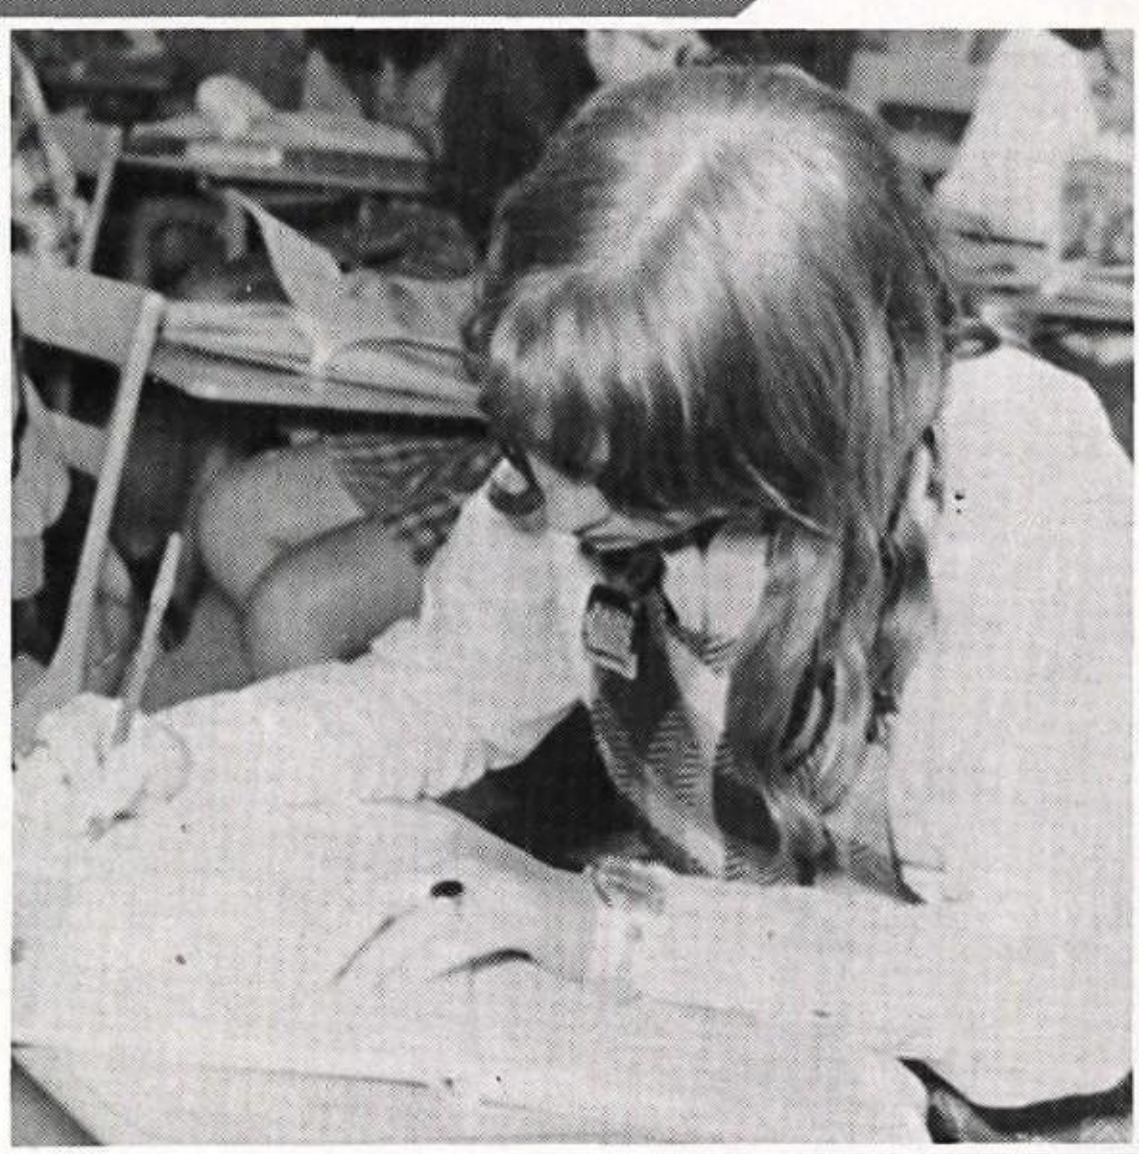
Mrs. Fitzgerald taught science in the high school last year, coming to junior high with experience in helping young people reach their potential as they learn through everyday experiences. We have appreciated the warmth and understanding of Mrs. Fitzgerald as she served in this capacity.

MRS. CLARA DALROS

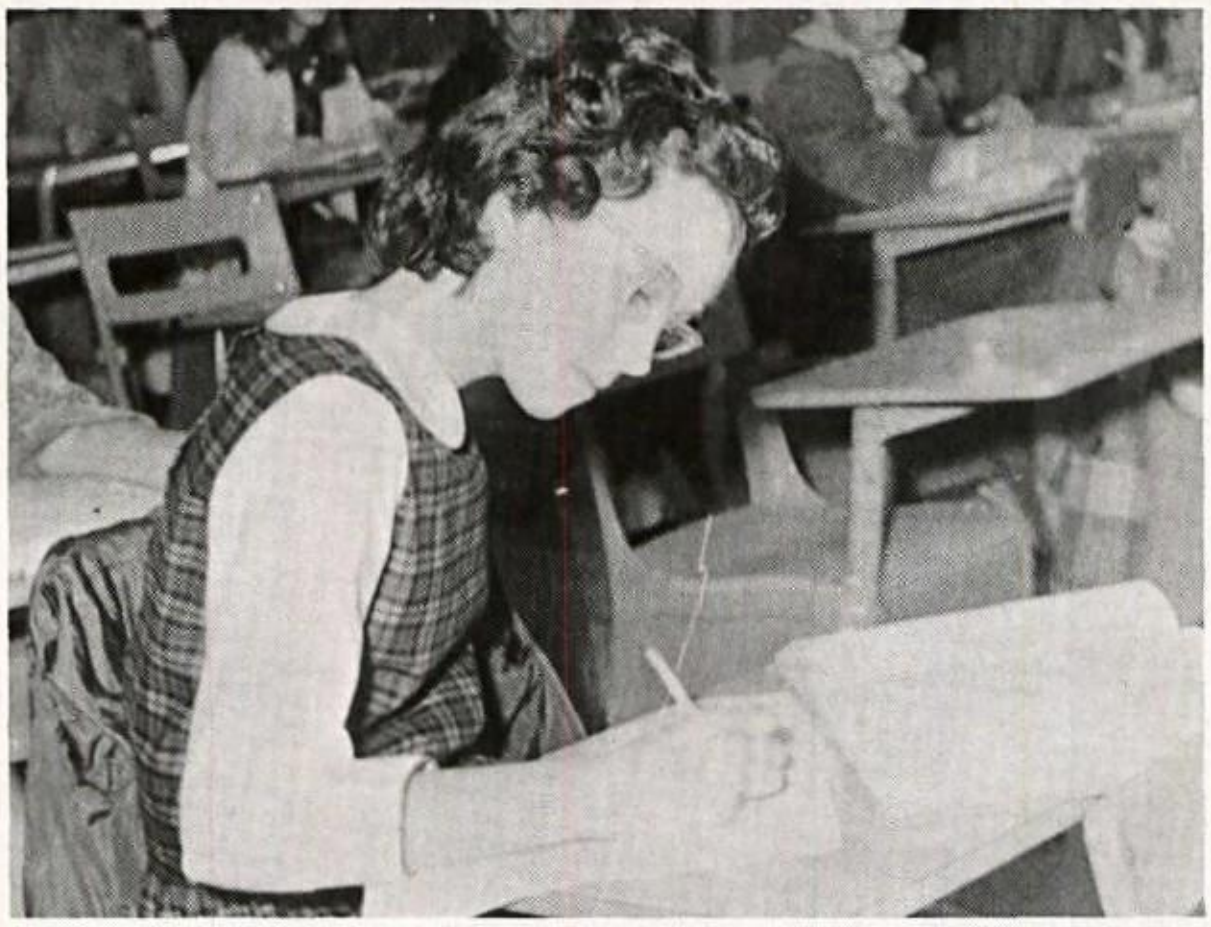
JUNIOR HIGH SECRETARY

Mrs. Dalros served as Secretary in the new Junior High School office under the supervision of the principal, Mr. Morgan.

Her knowledge in administrative work inspired confidence and admiration from her co-workers. Handling the "minor" and major details involved in the smooth, efficient progress of the day was her chief attribute.



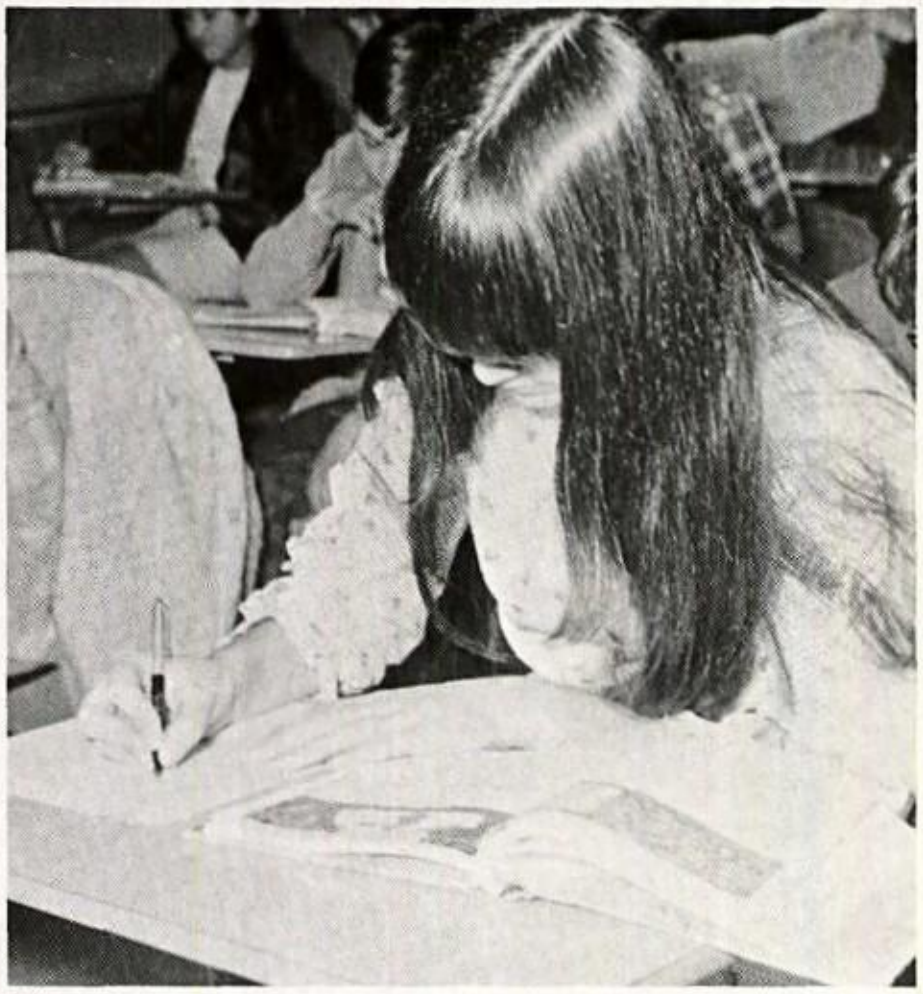
Academics



Verbs Show

Top Picture: Diane Stull attempts to complete an assignment in correct verb usage. Using verbs correctly is a requirement of every student in a grammar course.

Pictured Right: Students soon learn that English is not entirely grammatical. Literature proves engrossing, even interesting.



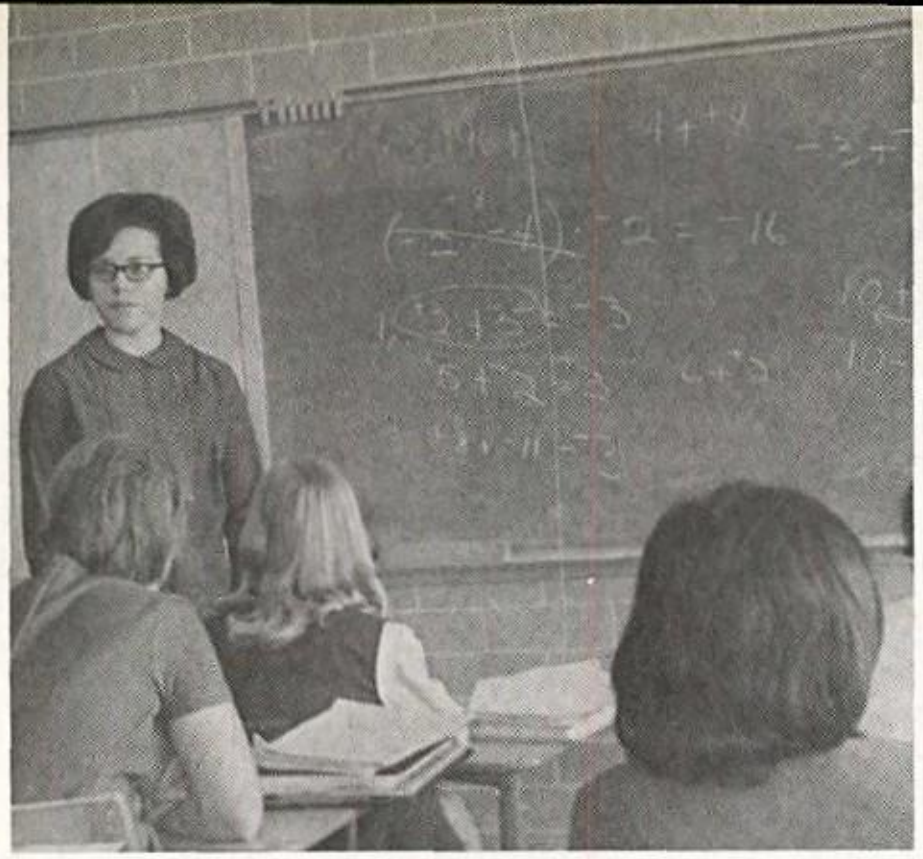
Debbie Capps completes her spelling assignment. It isn't easy to spell correctly, but it is "all" important.

Pictured Below: Dana Owen finds that using correct English in writing is not easy. Correct usage of words is important in writings.

Action

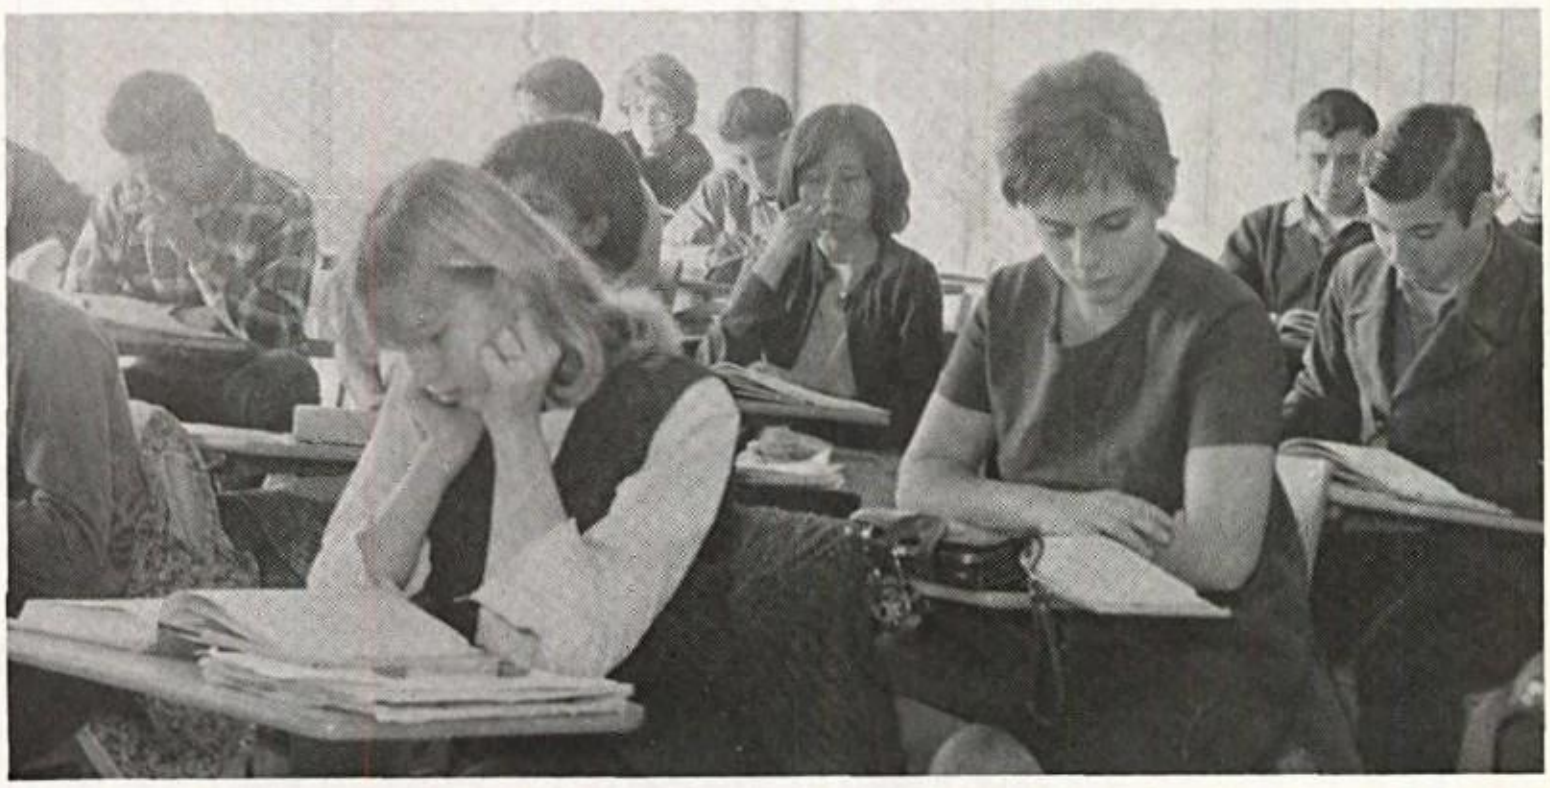
Themes . . . book reviews . . . tests, together with verb drills and sentence diagraming were all included in this year's study guide. While students learned more grammar, better spelling, and correct punctuation, they also learned proper theme form and accepted literary contributions from all ages.

The teachers also lead comprehensive and interesting discussions on changes and ways to improve them.



Math Intrigues Modern Generation

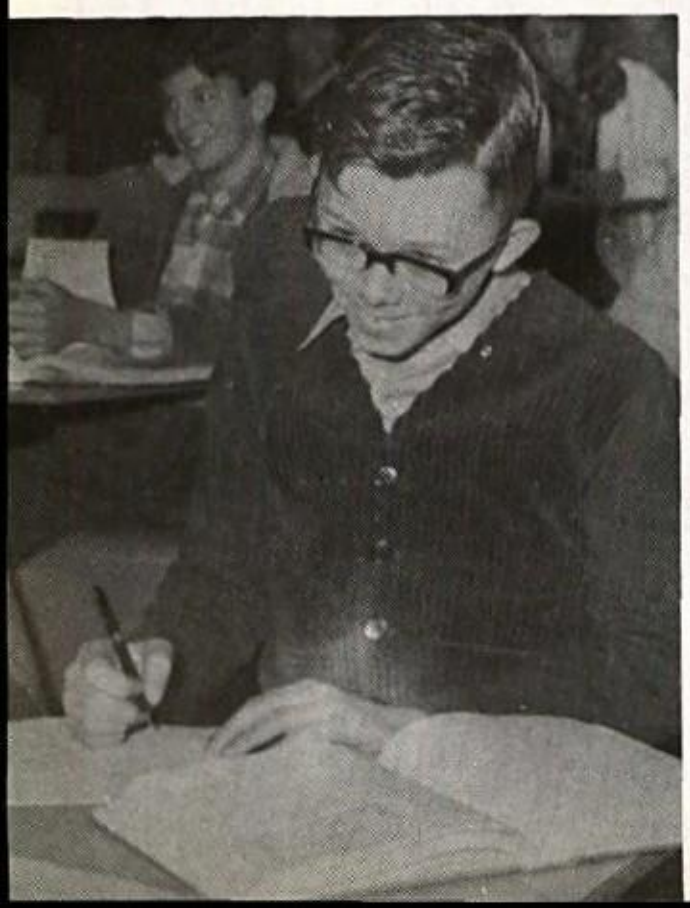
Mrs. Watts relays mathematics to enthusiastic class.



Cynthia Hoyt, Lex Bailey, Marcus Magee, Charlotte Laws.

. . . notations, theories, explanations, actions, and reactions make up the exploration of the practically simple and elaborately complicated world of mathematics.

Ronald Wayne Sadler



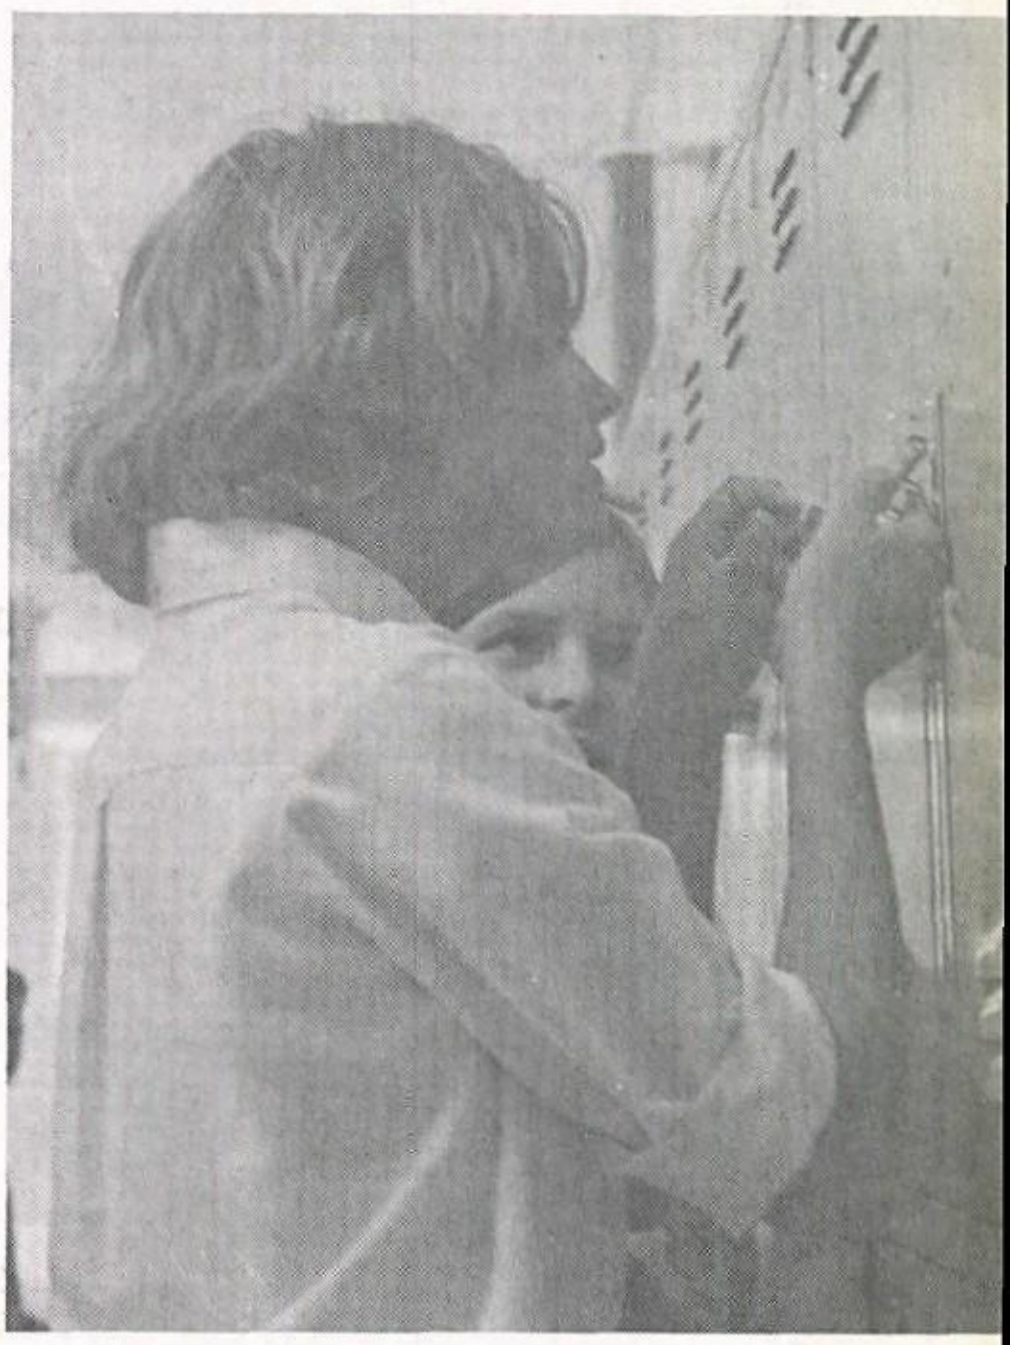
Since the Arabs set the foundations on parchment and inscribed the numerals into stone, man has been trying to unlock the doors that hid the secrets of the world through the use of mathematics.

The simple study of basic math, like the first step of a baby, leads to the second step and some day to a race meant for those who can compete.

The Mathematics Department has had the job of teaching the future winners of that race how to take the first shaky step by themselves . . .

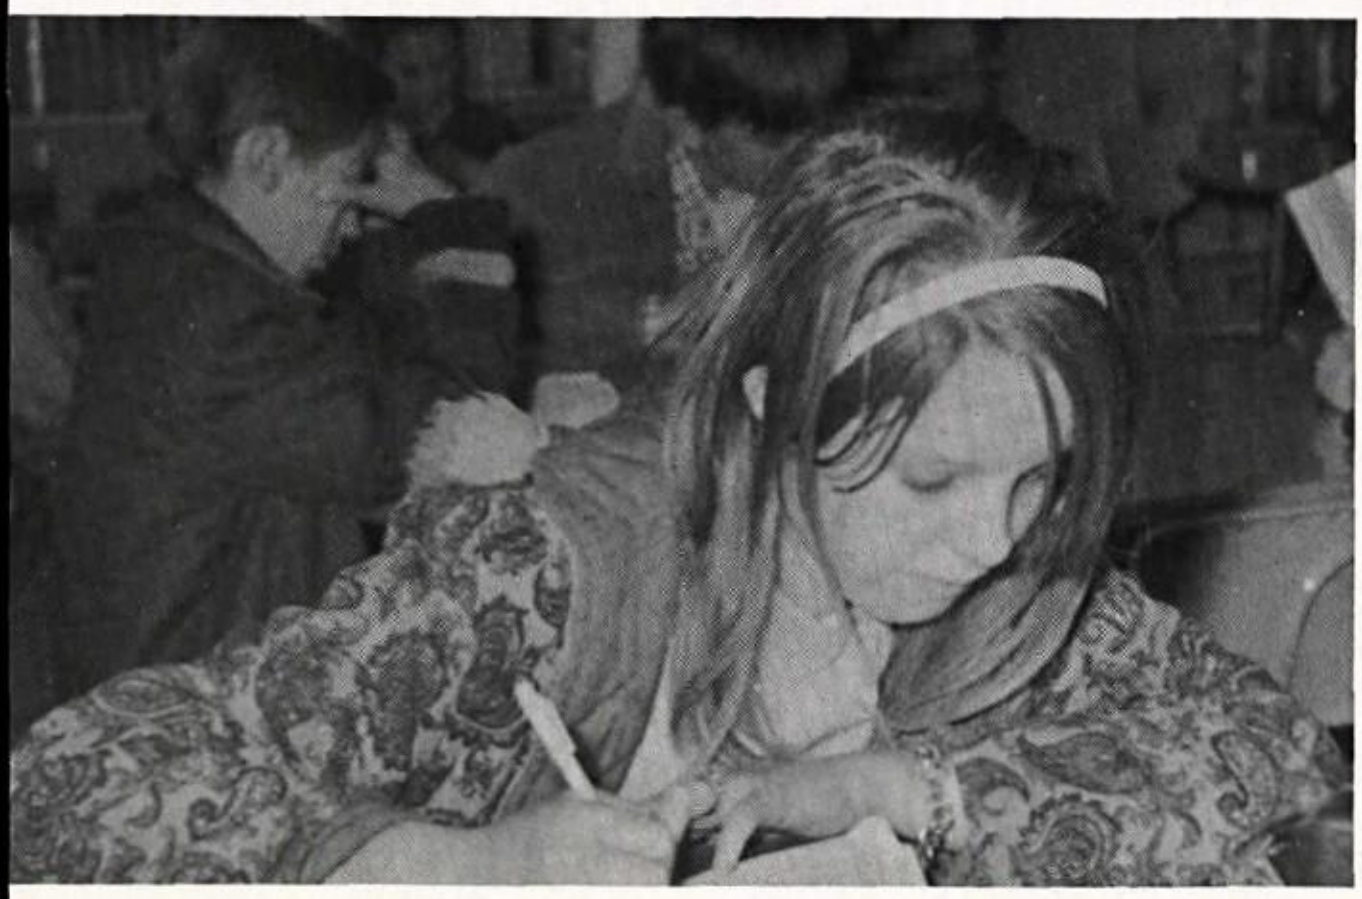
Tomorrow's Scientists Today

Mr. Welch takes volunteer reports for special assignments.



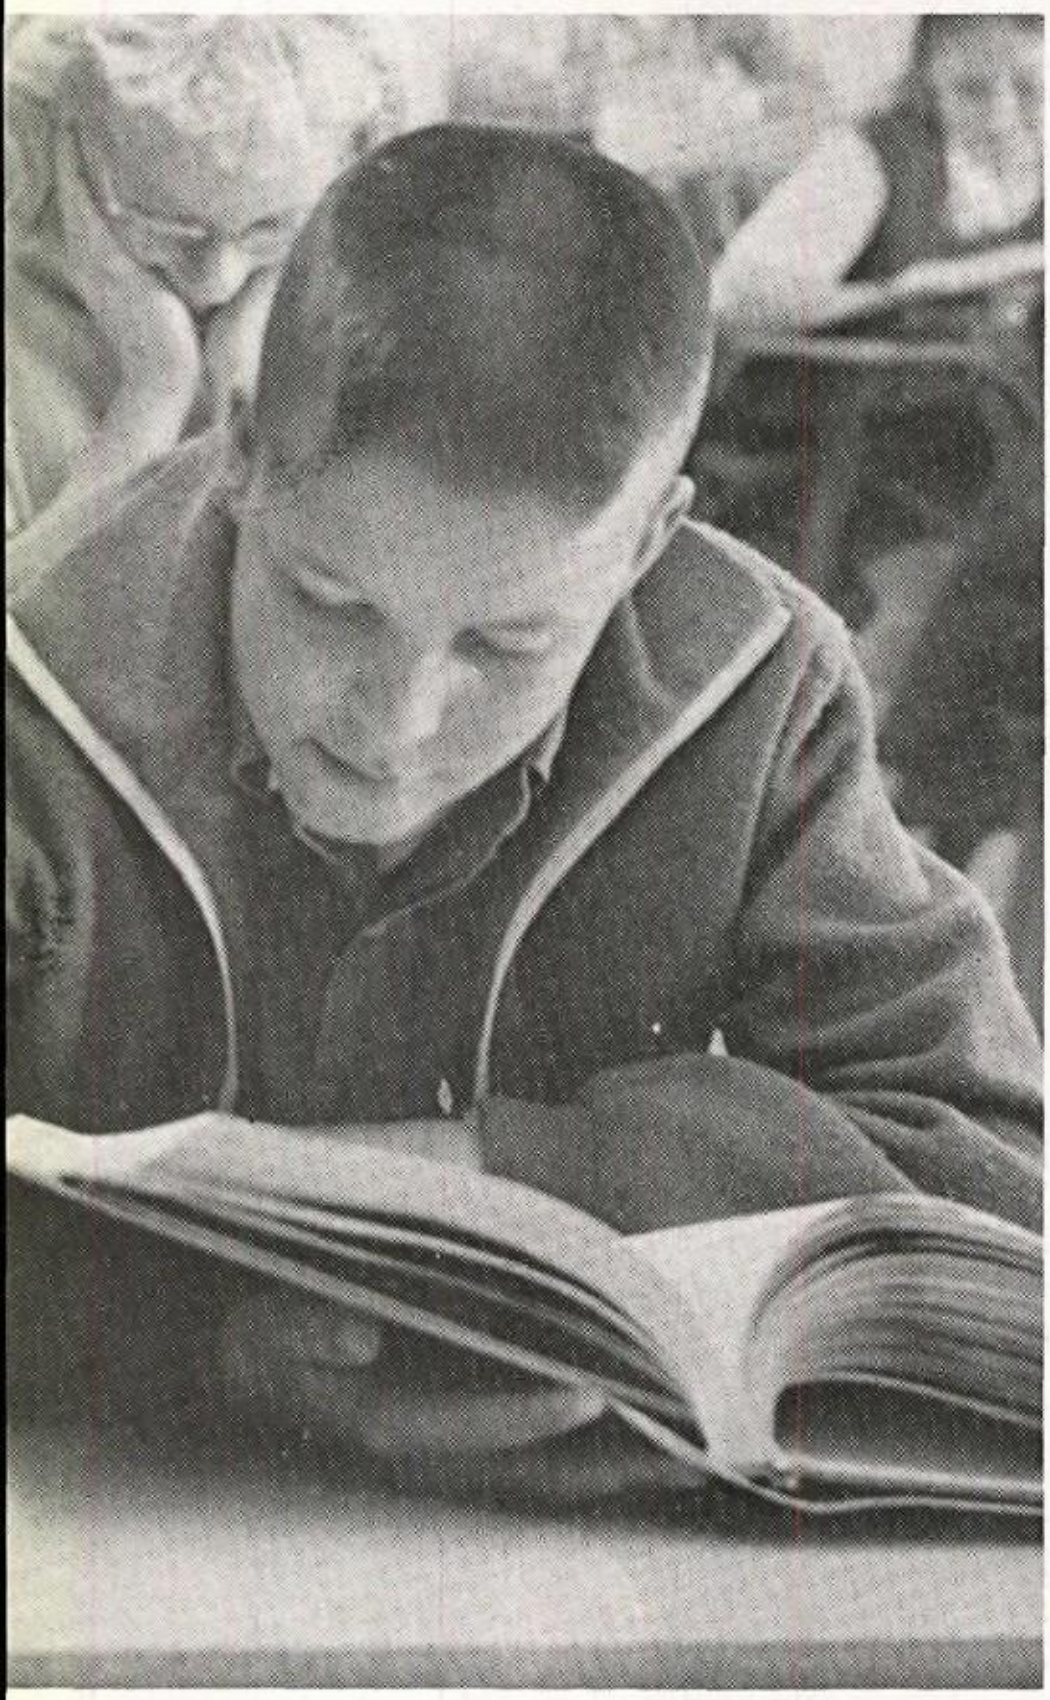
With science dating back to the time of Newton, it is no wonder that today students begin studying in the early grades to assimilate and enjoy science experiments and fairs which feed their intellect and stimulate interest.

For several years now, Southwest students of science have participated in science experiments which have enabled them to take part in UIL contests and develop initiative in local and school projects.



Pat Walker and Carol Haile attempt to locate lost science notebook.

Research is easy for Sandra McKendry when the subject is interesting.



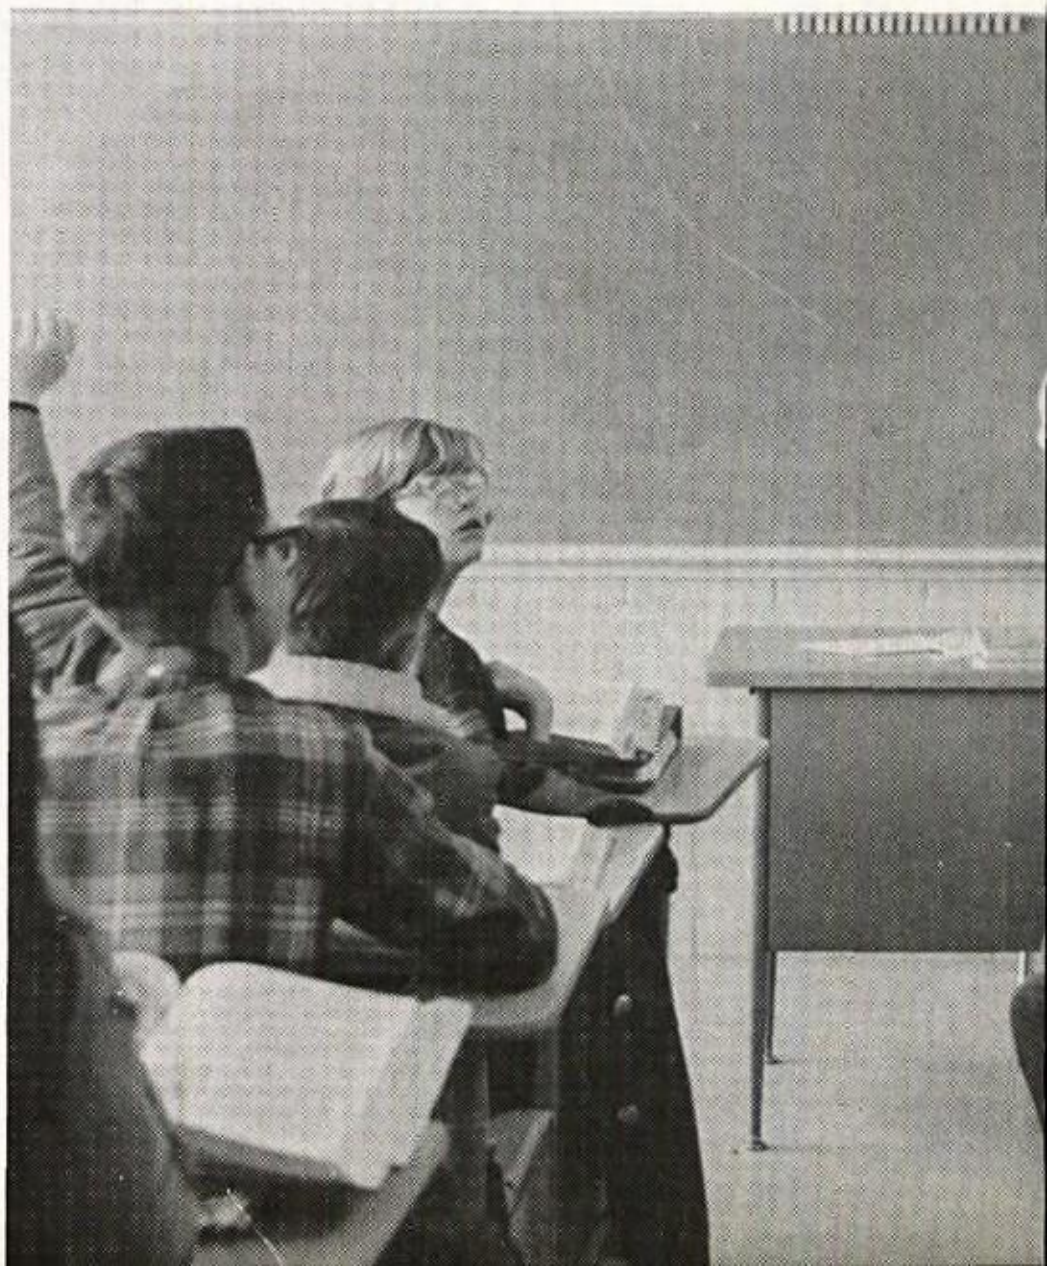
Mike Harvey and Donna Orr found the history of man as intriguing as a mystery story.

By giving reports on events in history and by reading about the times being studied, students got a well defined look at the time people lived and the type of lives they lead.

The fundamental knowledge of governmental processes and basic democratic theories were developed in history classes, along with a growing sense of patriotism, by a dedicated faculty.

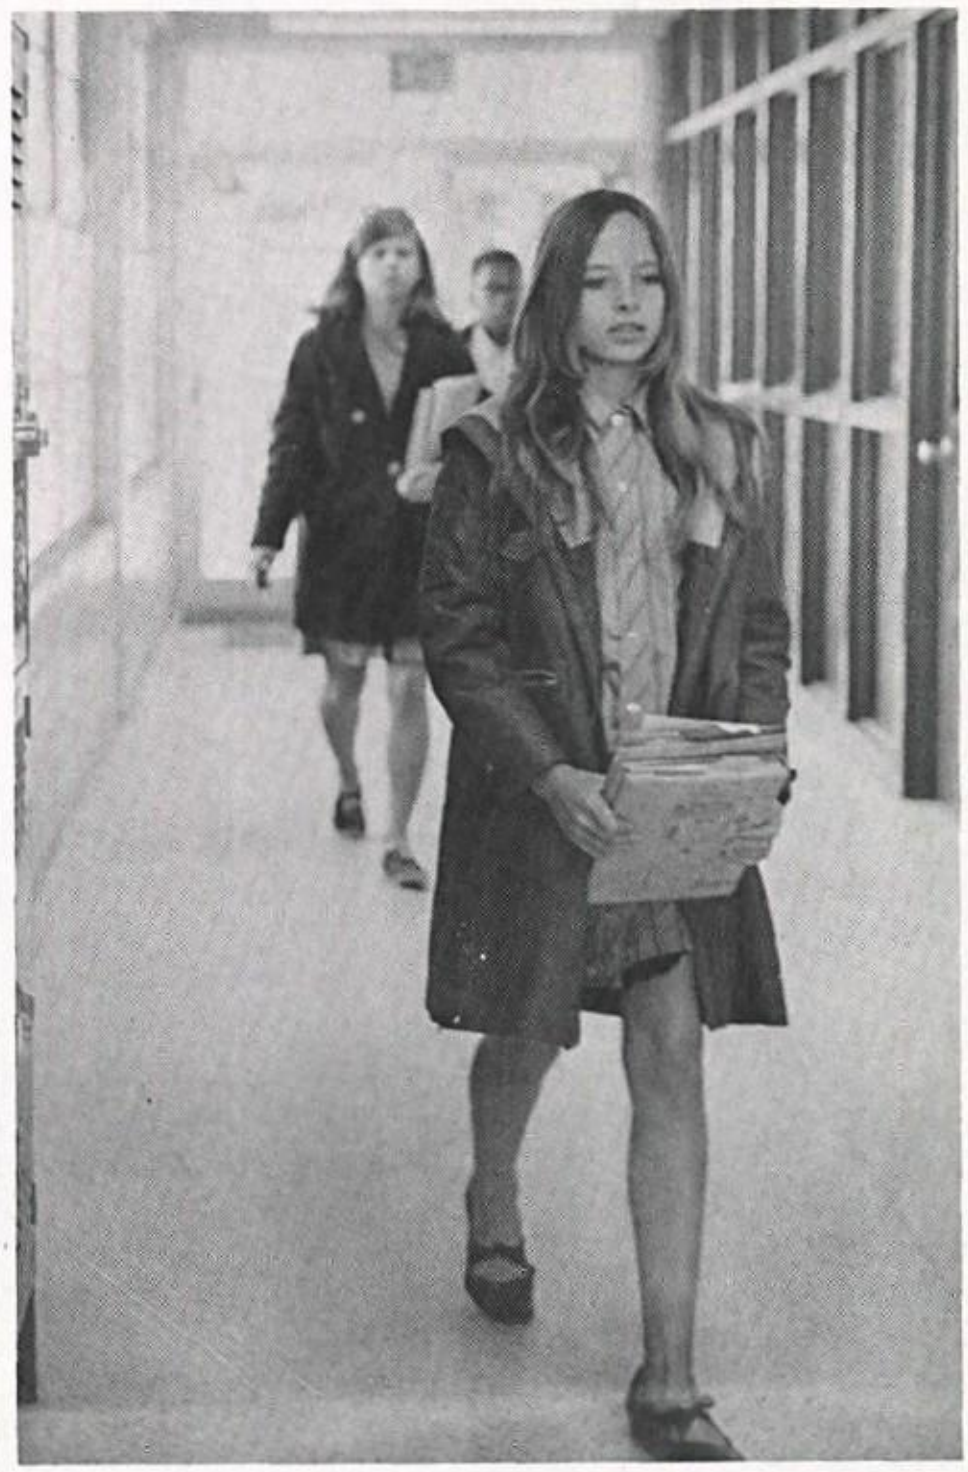
Courses in history were intended to present a balanced perspective of political, economical and cultural trends throughout the ages of man.

History

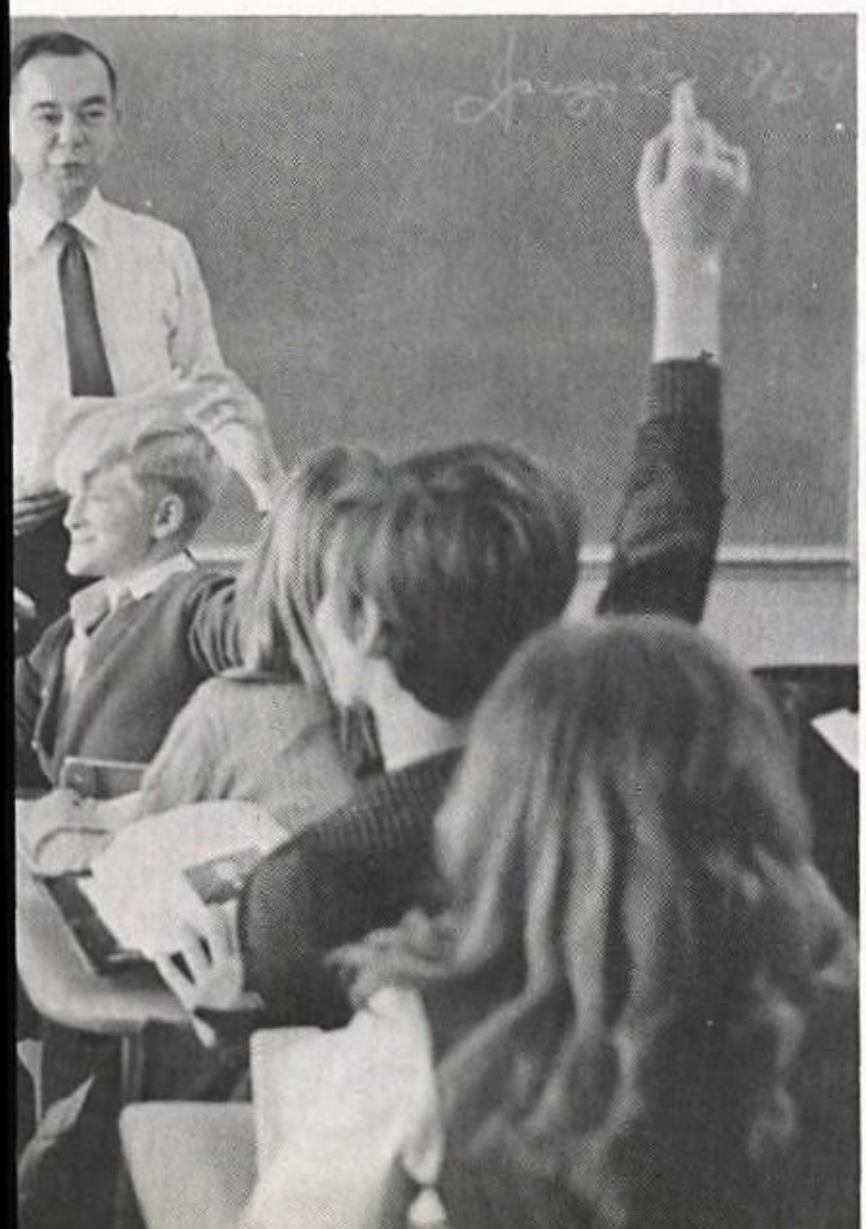


Adam Sauceda is lost in the pages of history as he studies his assignment.

Marches On



The next class seems far away to Suzanne Zygmont as she contemplates her day.



Mr. Ives drew interest from students as he taught history class.

Physical Education Classes Swing with Action

Physical Education played an important part in the daily lives of the Junior High students. With a required exercise program, many found that their physical potential was still held in reserve.

With regular workouts, the students developed various skills and several "seldom-used" muscles!

Special Education

Special Education is taught with a personal teacher-student relationship. Each student is given personal attention and special help with their weak subjects. It is individualized teaching in which each student is taught to his own learning capacity.

Mrs. Inez Rowell has taught Special Education this year at Southwest Junior High School and we are priviledged to have such a dedicated person to be counted among the members of the Faculty.

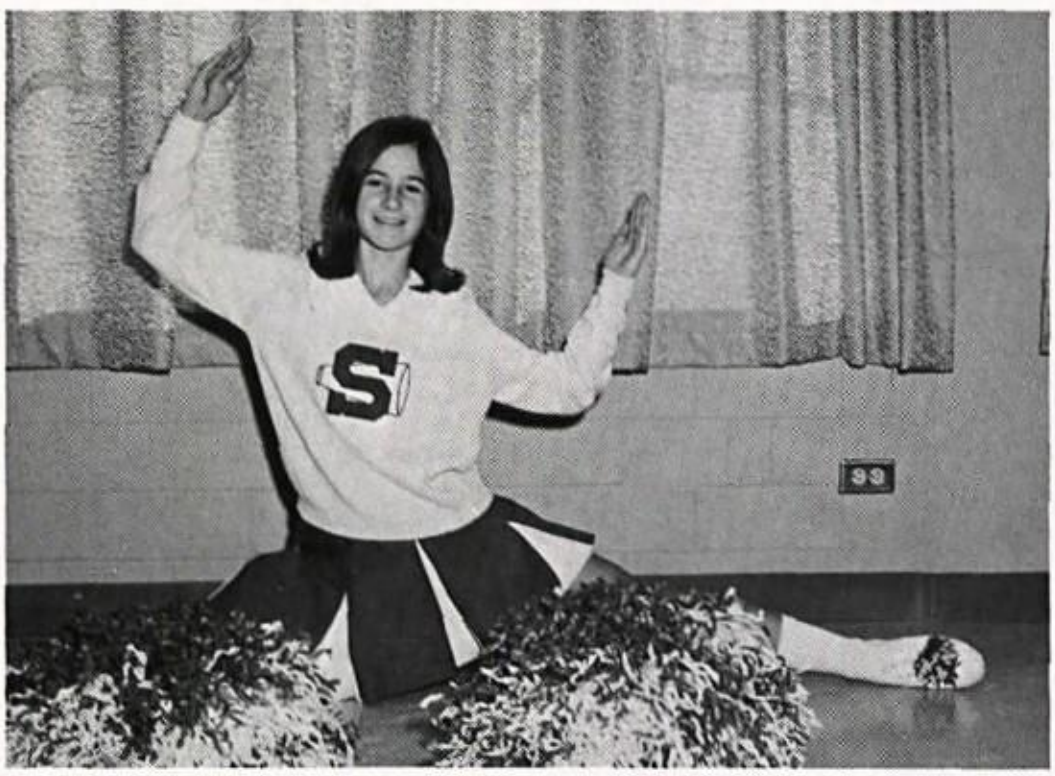
Cheerleaders Spark School Spirit

Sherry Du Bose



Cynthia Becker

As a team, a unified whole, the Junior High Cheerleaders showed their willingness to participate in activities of their school, supporting their teams through victory and the agony of defeat.

. . . . early morning practice . . . spirit ribbons . . . pom poms . . . halftime routines . . . all are symbols of the green and white spirit that the Southwest Junior High Cheerleaders add to the school.

With "On to victory" and other cheers these girls fought for the spirit of Southwest Junior High with a will and a want, with a yell and a shout, and a ye ha round um up and move em out.

For the past sixteen years, Troop 205 has been Southwest's "own," being sponsored by the Parent Teacher Association, and drawing most of its members from the student body.

The Scout House "on the bluff" is now adjacent to the new Junior High School. The Pecan Bottom is still the site of frequent campouts and other Scouting events, including Camporees held by the Medina Valley District. Troop 205 is indeed fortunate, for few Troops in the Alamo Area Council have their own camping area as well as a Scout House complete with a real fireplace—just right to roast marshmallows or pop corn on a winter evening.

Troop activities vary widely, from work on merit badges to service as color guards at school functions. Thoughtful planning makes such activities not only fun, but also serves as efficient preparation for responsible citizenship in the state and the nation.

The 1968-1969 Warrant Officers of the Troop include: Steven Dalros, Senior Patrol Leader; Arthur Pue Jr., Assistant Senior Patrol Leader; Gerry Dunn, Scribe; James Palm, Quartermaster; and Charles Dunn, Librarian. Patrol Leaders are Kenneth Burris, Beaver Patrol; Howard Dalros, Panther Patrol; Gerry Dunn, Dragon Patrol; and Herschel Postert, Eagle Patrol. Mr. Gerrold Dunn, Scout Master; Mr. Walther John Ives, Assistant Scout Master; Thomas Robert Meyer, Junior Assistant Scout Master.

Student Government Organized

Southwest Junior High organized their first student governing body this year. Through democratic elections with vigorous campaigning, the Student Council was formed. Mrs. Marie Fitzgerald served as Advisor for this organization.

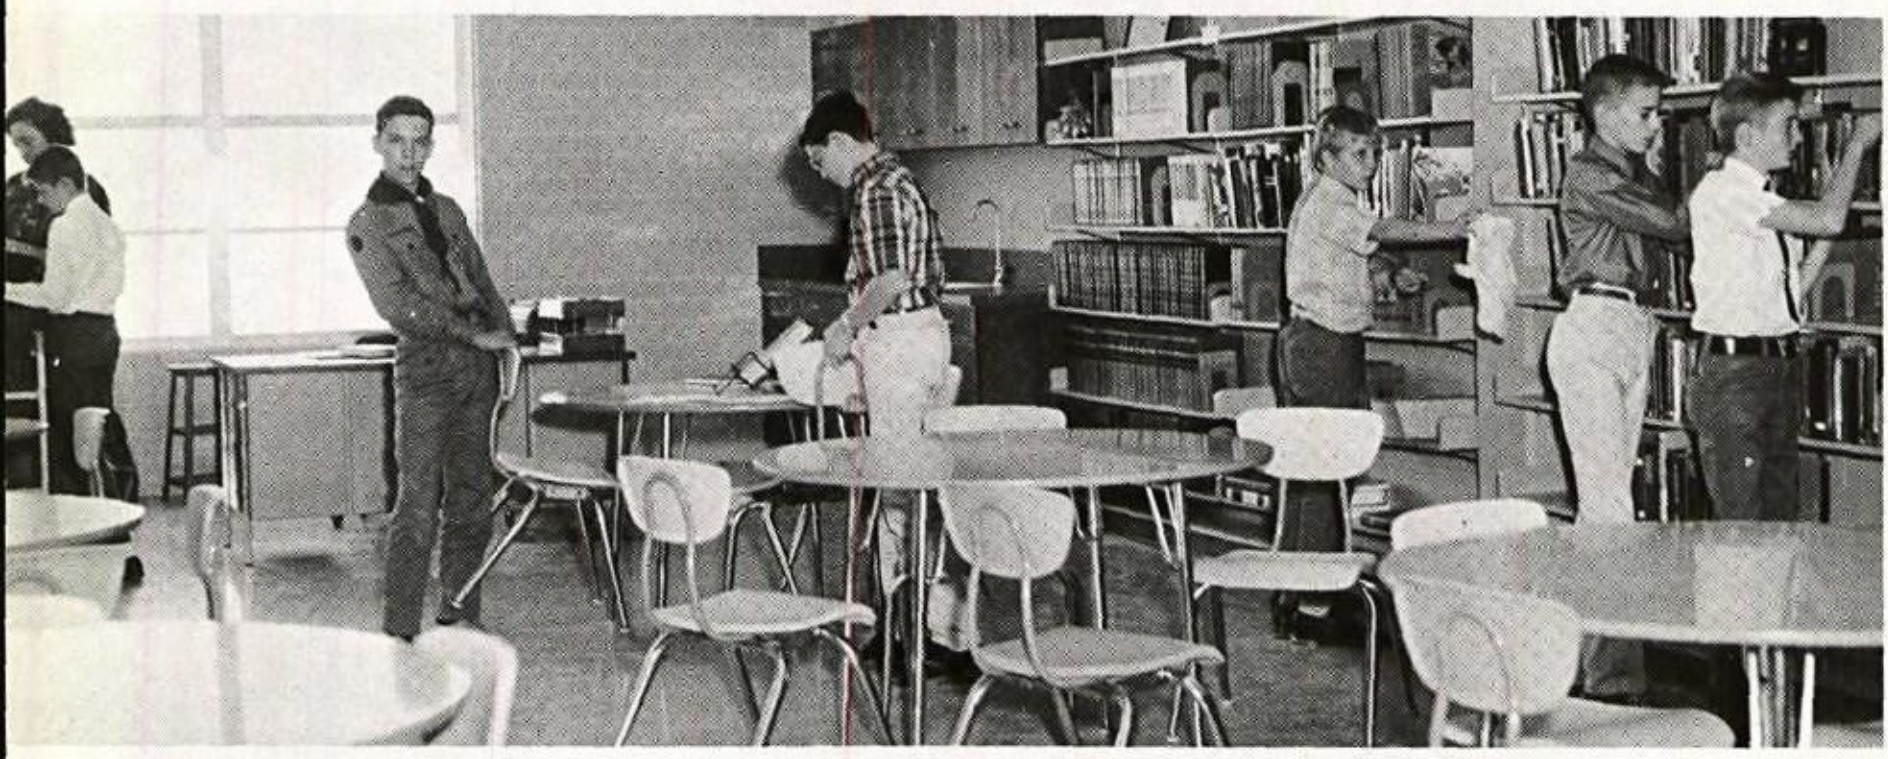
New standards of excellence have been set for the Junior High library. An excellent reference section has been started and accreditation requirements met as to the number of books added to the library, physical requirements needed, including furniture. While the staff members were new, they performed their tasks with efficiency and enthusiasm.



Mrs. Pue, Librarian, is pictured with her assistants, Danny Konkright, Robert Smith, Russell Carlolan, Russell Packham, Dale Mossberger, Robert Bybee, and William Pue.

With the times ever changing teachers are expected to strive for more and better ways to instruct and impress all the new theories, facts, and figures needed by the now generation.

Several impressive new teachers help make up the faculty of the new Junior High School this year.

With the new ideas and teaching methods that are available today, it is no wonder that Southwest Junior High boasts one of the finest teaching staffs ever assembled.

With the expansion of the Southwest School system and the existence of a newly-built Junior High, the work of the Junior High Parent-Teachers' Association proved invaluable. Undertaken this year were various projects and programs that helped harmonize relations between parents, teachers, and students.

The PTA was able to purchase fans for the classrooms and curtains for the faculty room due to group cooperation and a variety of money-raising projects.

"Nothing in our material world can come from nowhere or go nowhere, nor can it be free: Everything in our economic life has a source, a destination, and a cost that must be paid."

"Government is never a source of goods. Everything produced is produced by the people, and everything that government gives to the people, it must first take from the people."

"The greatest good for the greatest number means, in its material sense, the greatest goods for the greatest number which, in turn, means the greatest productivity per worker."

"All productivity is based on three factors: 1) Natural resources, whose form, place and condition are changed by the expenditure of 2) human energy (both muscular and mental) with the aid of 3) tools."

"When government decides to spend more than it has received, that extra money is created out of thin air, and when spent, takes on value only by reducing the value of all money, savings, and insurance."

NATIONAL SCHOOL YEARBOOK ASSOCIATION NSYA

We, you and I, have closely examined our persons, trying to captivate the goodness that lies within. Critically, with scanning eyes we have looked at each other, searching for perfection both physical and mental. It is the season for realization. Here we have learned from the victories, yet benefited most from the defeats; we have made ourselves better people. From this place we soar to heights that do not belong to the present or past. Uncertainty and curiosity combine, making life an unquenchable, absorbing system.

In the newness of the future, we do not reach back for guidance; we must play by ear using our stamina of mind and body. From this place called youth we depart to meet the dawning of the season for realization—HOW SWEET IT IS.

Col Hall.
I can't begin to express the pleasure you've given me as my teacher.
Everyone speaks of the Generalies Bap. But you've done the most to close it.

Yours,
Jimmy McClarter

"Some people love things
and use people,
Col. Hall loves people and uses things."

Col. Hall, you're a really great guy who is always very helpful and reliable. It's been great workin with you and I look forward to a good year.

Ron Craig

Col. Hall

To a man that is reliable and dependable and a great person and to a man that knows how to cope with problems.
